HALF TIMES ALWAYS FOLLOW REPEAL
OF PROTECTIVE LAWS.

No Measure Enacted by Protectionists
Has Ever Failed to Bring General Prosperity

The history of American industry and tariff legislation will show five things clearly:

First.—No successful tariff bill was ever framed or enacted except under the stress of dire industrial and commercial disaster.

Second.—There never was a repeal of a protective tariff that was not at once followed by hard times, low wages and high rates of interest.

Third.—No tariff law was ever enacted by protectionists that did not bring general prosperity.

Fourth.—No material amendment of a tariff law reducing duties that did not impair its usefulness and was not the beginning of its destruction.

Fifth.—No successful tariff law was ever first attacked in the open principle. The assault has been made in the outset by a clamor for revision, against the sanctity of any law, change of conditions, joined in at once by unscrupulous free traders and selfish owners who can find protection for themselves and would deny it to wool, coal, etc., and aided by men whose ambitions in their own party have been disappointed.

A successful tariff is a huge combine and to the uneducated economist artificial—unnatural. But it is a combine embracing the whole nation against Europe and for the benefit of all our people, especially of the farmers and wage earners.

To effect this combine the greatest difficulties must be encountered and overcome.

American industries are almost inconceivably interwoven and interdependent. Every one must buy raw material of many kinds. Wool is raw material to the cloth maker, steel to the cutter and so on through the whole gamut of the tens of thousands of industries. But wool is the finished product of the farmer, steel of the steel mill. Nova Scotia has great beds of luminous coal, said to be owned in large part by a syndicate of Cleveland free traders. New England factories would like free coal; New England cutlery want free steel. The factory owners, uneducated in the higher, broader, more abstruse laws of trade, think the duty on coal, steel, etc., is paid by them. They do not stop to consider what the price would be should the competition of the United States supply be cut off by free trade in coal. The shoe and harness maker, hoping for cheaper leather, wants free hides.
