THAT PLEDGE TO BRYAN

Emery Campaign Orator Guarantees Defeat of Republican Congressmen.

DEMOCRATIC GAME IN FUSION

Gubernatorial Contest a Side Issue to Elect Members of Congress to Support Bryanite Program.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, September 4.

Manufacturers and business men of this city have been sitting up and taking notice since that demonstration in New York over the home-coming of William Jennings Bryan.

That pledge to Bryan that Pennsylvania will show a gain of at least eight Democratic congressmen in the returns of the November election, made by one of the campaign orators in the Emery gubernatorial outfit, has opened the eyes of Pennsylvania Republicans to the dangers that lurk in the fusion movement in this state.

The loss of one Republican congressman in the Keystone state, the Gibraltar of Republicanism, with the uncertainty that exists in so many congressional districts in doubtful or debatable states, means much more in the total result than is generally understood. One vote may decide the election of the speaker of the next national house of representatives, and the Democrats may get that vote from Pennsylvania through the game that is being worked in the deal between the Democrats and the Lincolnites.

President Roosevelt, in his recent utterances in letters to members of congress and others, has sounded the alarm, and has warned Republicans everywhere to be on their guard in every congressional district so as to insure the election of members of congress, who will co-operate with his administration in carrying out the great policies which he has inaugurated—the building of the transcontinental canal, the control of the trusts, abolition of freight discriminations, restriction of immigration and the other great problems which he has undertaken to solve with the aid of a friendly congress.

Aim of the Bryanites.

When several hundred Pennsylvania Democrats journeyed to New York last week to greet Bryan they had but one thought uppermost in their minds. It was the election of Bryan to the presidency to succeed Roosevelt. Every effort that they can put forth between now and the next presidential campaign will be directed toward that end. Their activity in the state campaign in Pennsylvania this year is but part of a general scheme, with the election of the next president as its ultimate object.

Carried away with the enthusiasm with which their surroundings filled them, the Pennsylvania Democratic contingent at the Bryan reception indiscreetly revealed the cloven foot in the fusion campaign for Emery for governor.

John M. Garman, a former chairman of the Democratic state committee of Pennsylvania, who is booked to stump the state for Emery and fusion from now until election day in the Victoria hotel, New York, away from the environment of his Emery Lincolnite fellow campaigners, threw off the cloak of the fusion conspiracy and revealed to Bryan and to the world, unwittingly, the fact that the real aim of the Democracy in Pennsylvania this fall is the election of Democratic members of congress.

Garman was spokesman for the delegation of Pennsylvanians who presented Bryan with a solid-silver shield, suitably inscribed and mounted upon a heavy old-oak escutcheon, and gaily decorated with flowers.

To

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN,

"The most eminent private citizen of America, upon his return from a tour of foreign lands.

"THEY HAIL HIM AS THE NEXT PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

"As an indication of the attitude of the organized Democracy of the Keystone State upon this issue, they point with gratification to the unanimous adoption by the Democratic state convention, held in Harrisburg June 27, 1906, of a platform, the most noteworthy plank of which reads as follows:

"We congratulate the country upon the fact that the only prominence which the present Republican national administration has attained has been achieved by feeble and pretended application of the principles enunciated by the

"HON. WM. JENNINGS BRYAN,

"The Great Democratic Commoner.

"Who is now regarded as the certain successor of Theodore Roosevelt to the presidency."

The above reproduction from the platform adopted by the Democratic convention which nominated Emery for governor should in itself be an admission to Republicans of the Keystone state of the great danger to the future success of Republicanism in the nation that would follow a defeat of the Republican ticket in this state this fall. They should recall how, after the two Democratic victories in gubernatorial campaigns in this state in the last 20 years the Democracy triumphed in the nation with the election of Grover Cleveland to the presidency upon each occasion.

Pledge to Their Leader.

But, added to the warning that should be contained in that plank from the state platform, comes a speech by Garman in presenting this token of esteem to Bryan.

Said Garman to the Nebraskan leader:

"We bring greetings from a unit of Democracy, who recognize in the demonstration of popular good will toward you an inspiration for every Democrat to look with confidence to the future.

"We at the same time are not unmindful of the importance of the election of Democrats to congress, and there is every reason to believe that we shall gain from six to eight representatives to the lower house, who will co-operate with their fellow Democrats of other states to advance the policies which you have so consistently and ably championed."

There is evidence that there has been an awakening among Republicans throughout the commonwealth to the fact that nothing must be left undone to thwart the Democrats and their Lincolnite allies in the state campaign.

Short Talks on Advertising
By Charles Austin Bates

People generally read advertisements more than they did a few years ago. The reason is to be found in the advertisements themselves.

Advertisers are more careful than they used to be. They make the advertisements more readable. Some of them even become, in a way, a department of the paper, and people look for them every day with as much zest and pleasure as they turn to any other feature.

This is true of many department stores all over the country.

In many cities there is just one man who appreciates the value of such interest.

He breaks away from the old set style. He tells something interesting in his space every day.

There are lots of interesting things in business. Look over the miscellany page of any paper—look at its local news columns, and its telegraph news, for that matter, and you'll see that the majority of the items are more or less closely related to some business fact.

Dress these facts up in a becoming garb of words, and they will find readers, even though they be in a "mere advertisement."

Let the merchant come down off his pedestal.

He needn't be flippant—far from it, but let him not write as if he were addressing somebody afar off, and telling him about something at even a greater distance.

The newspaper goes right into its reader's house—goes in and sits down with him.

It is on the table when he eats, and in his hands while he is smoking after the meal. It reaches him when he is in an approachable condition.

That's the time to tell him about your business—clearly, plainly, convincingly—as one man talks to another.

"The newspaper goes right into its reader's house and sits down with him."

"Let the merchant come down off his pedestal."
