County Seat

Local and Personal Events
Tersely Told.

If you want to endorse Theodore Roosevelt and his efforts to give all the people a square deal—VOTE FOR E. W. SAMUELS FOR CONGRESS.

Misses Mame and Emma Gallagher attended the Park-Buckley wedding at Williamsport, Wednesday October 17.

George P. Wilson of Unityville, Pa., was a county seat visitor Monday.

Mr. W. C. Mason spent a few days in Baltimore visiting the Rev. and Mrs. Eugene A. Heim.

If you want the government to regulate the trusts without busting up things generally—VOTE FOR E. W. SAMUELS FOR CONGRESS.

Sunday School 10 a. m. Preaching at 7 p. m.; subject "A Vision that Every True Christian Must Have." Epworth League at 7:45 p. m. This is the order of services at the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday.

Free exhibition of moving pictures at the Court House Friday evening from 7:30 to 8 o'clock. After the exhibition there will be two addresses delivered by Oliver Hemstead and F. W. Corbett of Michigan.

At the public schools at Pottsville on Thursday each of the 3000 pupils contributed a single potato for the inmates of the Pottsville Children's Home for the winter. In some of the larger schools there were donations of a bushel each. The collection amounted to about 125 bushels in addition to a big donation of other vegetables.

Six of the State Police are again quartered at Laporte, and on Sunday morning they had an exciting chase after a supposed horse thief who passed through here with a horse believed to have been stolen at Altoona. The police failed to capture the fugitive, however.

Miss Ione Mason last week left for Philadelphia where she will attend the private school of Miss M. Frances Boice. She was accompanied to the city by her father, W. C. Mason.

The Williamsport News says prospecting for gold, silver and copper by Jersey Shore capitalists, has been begun in earnest on the 49-acre plot of Peter Bennett near Waterville. A shaft that has been idle for several years has been reopened and indications are favorable for the prosperity of the undertaking. When the mine was being worked years ago abandonment was caused thro' a lack of capital by the Vanaman Brothers of Waterville. Since that time new eyes have been set on the property and a lease has been obtained from the owner. To sell the entire right to the land Bennett asks $25,000, but under the present agreement he holds a fifth and considers this a sufficient compensation. During the idleness of the shaft the owner received many promises from western capitalists who were attracted to the place by the great promise of the mine when the former was working it.

WANTED TO WED—Why not marry a sober man and be happy? My age is 26, height, five feet, weight, 150, brown hair. Isn't there some nice girl that will take pity on me and be my dear, little, little angel, and not let me die an old bachelor?

The foregoing is the advertisement inserted in a Harrisburg newspaper by G. M. Breitmeler, a lonely bachelor farmer, residing near Muncy Valley, Sullivan county, who is fearful lest he may die unloved.

If you prefer the progress and prosperity of the present time, under a Republican tariff, to the business disasters and idleness of ten years ago under a Democratic tariff—VOTE FOR E. W. SAMUELS FOR CONGRESS.

Prof. Albert's New Book.

Prof. C. A. Albert of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, has just published his recent excellent text book entitled "The Geography of Pennsylvania." It is highly commended by all who have seen it.

If you approve of the splendid work of the first session of the Fifty-ninth Congress and want more of the same kind of legislation—VOTE FOR E. W. SAMUELS FOR CONGRESS.

Death of B. W. Jennings.

Bishop Worth Jennings, formerly of Lopez, died Sunday at the hospital at Elkins, W. Va. Mr. Jennings was born in West Pittston, Pa., May 1, 1862.

In 1881, B. W. Jennings with his brother, Cortez H. Jennings, commenced lumbering in Sullivan county, on the Loyalsock near the Seaman place. In 1887 they moved their plant to Lopez and commenced to manufacture lumber on a large scale. A few years ago the firm purchased large timber tracts in Maryland and West Virginia. Three years ago a large mill was erected on the Maryland tract and a year later a still larger mill on the West Virginia lands. For want of timber the firm closed lumbering in Sullivan county two years ago and moved to West Virginia. Their fair dealing and courteous methods of doing business won for them the respect and approval of everybody.

In 1894 Mr. Jennings was elected to the State legislature, and re-elected in 1896. He was one of the organizers of the First National Bank at Dushore and was a member of the board of directors until he moved to Jennings, W. Va.

The widow and one son, William Worth, survive. The remains were brought to Mehoopany on Tuesday and interred in the family plot in the cemetery at that place.

On every side are heard expressions of sorrow over the sad ending of such a useful and noble life.

Sad Accident.

By the exploding of a toy boiler Saturday, Sterling, the 16-year-old son of Alfred Cole, of Jamison City, was so severely scalded that he died at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. He had made himself a toy engine and boiler with which he operated several machines.

Saturday he was unable to get up sufficient steam in the boiler with the use of wood, which he had always burned, and then resorted to soft coal, using it for the first time. He was bending over the boiler when it suddenly exploded and the scalding water covered his body with the exception of his face. A companion with him was slightly burned, but he quickly ran for help.

The boy was carried into the house and Dr. Smithgall was summoned. The skin was scalded off practically his entire body. He suffered frightfully until Sunday morning when he lapsed into unconsciousness. The death has cast a deep gloom over the entire community. It was realized that the boy had a remarkable mind and plans had been made to send him away to school that the talent might be developed.

The 16th district wants to be represented in Washington by a man who can be of service to the people of the district. Our people want the eight-hour law strengthened. Our people want corporations controlled. Dr. Samuel is pledged to all these movements. McHenry, a member of the whiskey trust himself, and identified with other big corporation interests, could hardly be expected to do much toward curbing the trust power. The people of this Congressional district would rather be represented in Congress by a late-picker who has succeeded in business than by a man who was born with a silver spoon in his mouth and now represents one of the most arbitrary of the grinding trusts.

The Trevorton Times of recent date says:

"Present Congressman, Dr. Samuel, of Mt. Carmel, announces himself as a candidate for re-election. Coupled with his natural ability, his experience gained in the last Congress and his untiring zeal in looking after the interests of his constituents, makes Dr. Samuel an ideal candidate.

He knows well the wants of the laboring class, for as a boy he toiled from morn till night at the breaker chute. In him labor has a friend tried and true and one who will guard their interest as a sacred trust. Men of the type of E. W. Samuel are badly needed in our national life and in him and men like him will the best interests of any district have an able champion."

STUART KNOWS NO BOSS

Republican Nominee For Governor is a Candidate of the People.

Edwin S. Stuart, Republican candidate for governor, is making friends wherever he goes, says the Kane Republican. In the beginning of his canvass he stated: "I have made no deals or promises, nor has any man or set of men any right to make deals or promises for me. If elected governor I shall conduct my administration according to the oath of office and for the benefit and in the interest of the only master I recognize, the people of Pennsylvania. I state this emphatically now, so that he who has any other idea should oppose my election and not complain afterward that he did not understand my position, and supported me under a misapprehension." If these are not the words of an independent, honest man, where are we to look? Mr. Stuart was nominated in an open convention and without bossism. Every journal in the state of any prominence, whether Republican or Democratic, has acknowledged the absolute integrity of Mr. Stuart. He means what he says.

It is well known that Pennsylvania collects more in taxes from corporations than any other state in the Union, and this in a measure will account for the fact that, besides meeting all of the ordinary expenses of the state government, Pennsylvania was enabled to build the new state capitol and pay for it without having to levy an additional tax or to borrow a single dollar to do it.

Money for Schools and Roads. Candidate Stuart, in commenting upon the subject of state taxation a few nights ago, said:

"While the farms and homes of the state have long been relieved from taxation for state purposes, the

George S. Phillips of Hughesville, a young man of 20 years died at his home as a result of having indulged excessively in strong drink at Hughesville last Friday night. It is said that he drank at least twelve glasses of liquor, including beer, hard cider and whiskey. He soon collapsed into a drunken stupor, from which he failed to rally. About 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon he died. The people of the town are greatly wrought up over the affair and the arrest of those who sold the liquor may follow.
