County Seat Local and Personal Events Tersely Told.

Whooping cough is quite prevalent in the second ward.

The new school house is receiving its first coat of paint.

Misses Maud and Effie Gansel spent several days of this week with friends at Mildred.

Mrs. Mary Rogers of Forksville, is the guest of Atty. and Mrs. F. W. Meylert.

The pupils of the Sonestown high school, gave a party Oct. 31, in honor of their teacher, Prof. J. H. Balentine.

While on his recent hunting trip in Maine, Dr. Randall of Dushore, killed a moose that weighed over 900 lbs.

Frank Heldt of Satterfield, aged 18 years, died, Tuesday, p. m., after an operation for appendicitis, at Dushore.

Mrs. J. K. Bird of Millview is seriously ill.

Rev. Thomas E. Ripple, of this place, assisted Rev. S. B. Bidlack several evenings of last week, with the revival services now in progress at Sonestown.

The members of the Junior League will give a social on Friday evening Nov. 9 at the home of Mrs. J. L. Smyth. Refreshments will be served. All are cordially invited to attend and help these little people in their ambitious efforts.

Mr. Z. E. Botsford of Nordmont transacted business here on Wednesday.

Scott Weiland passed through town Tuesday morning after having been home to cast his vote.

James H. Gansel came home from Berwick for election.

Rev. S. B. Bidlack will preach next Sabbath as follows: Muncy Valley 10:30 a. m.; Mt. Vernon 3 p. m.; Sonestown 7:30 p. m. Dr. T. S. Wilcox of Williamsport will be at the revival service at Sonestown in the evening.

Mr. Emerson Higley and family of Eldredsville, spent Monday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Higley at this place, and on the evening of the same day they left for Roselle Park, N. J., where they expect to make their home in the future. Mr. Higley sold his farm at Eldredsville before leaving that place.

A spiritual wave has invaded the Venango county jail, with the result that each of the eight prisoners has professed conversion. The greasy decks of cards have given place to Bibles and instead of nightly perusal of yellow backed literature there are prayer meetings. The leader is a young man of Franklin, who was recently sentenced to jail for several months. Among the convicts is a young Poleander convicted of selling liquor without a license. He cannot speak or read English, but friends of the prisoners have given him a Polish Bible. The sheriff and his wife join the men in their services.

Sunday school, 10 a. m.; preaching, 7 p. m.; Epworth League, 7:45 p. m. This is the order of service at the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday.

The Junior League of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold a Poverty Social at the home of Mrs. J. L. Smyth on Friday evening, Nov. 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whitbeck and little daughter of Hills Grove, spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. Mapes and sister Ella.

The meeting of the Village Improvement Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Conklin, Nov. 13th, 1906.

The big tannery at Jamison City has just resumed operations on full time. The plant has been running continually, but for some time past the men have not been working full time. A number of big orders have been received, however, which makes a rush of business, and the tannery will be worked to its full capacity for some time to come.

The hard storm of Oct. 27 which passed over this section of the state did much damage at Eagles Merc. Trees were uprooted and small building overturned. Many shingles were torn off the roof of the Crestmont Inn, the large hotel which stands on what is known as "Cyclone Hill." A force of carpenters was kept busy the greater part of Sunday repairing the damage. When the Inn was in course of construction it was damaged by a severe storm, and every high wind usually leaves some mark of its visitation.

J. L. Dillon of Bloomsburg, owner of the largest green-houses in that section of the state had his life crushed out underneath the wheels of a coal car on the East Bloomsburg switch of the Penna. railroad Thursday morning at 9.45 o'clock.

A chestnut farm near Shamokin will yield its own this year in the neighborhood of 6,000 bushels, selling at an average of $3 per bushel. The cultivated scions of the large Italian chestnut were grafted into the native trees a few years ago and the crop has been yearly increasing, some of the nuts being also marvel of size, frequently measuring five inches in circumference. The chestnut flourishes in more climates probably than almost any other tree. It is found in the United States as far south as Louisiana, in Japan, China, and many other parts of Asia, lower Europe and Egypt.

A Heart to Heart Talk With The Women and Girls of Pennsylvania.

Why a woman's page? Must women be fed on a special and diluted diet? They do read as men read—and all that men read—and add the women's page to it.

Rightly conducted, it is the earnest journalistic attempt to instruct more than to amuse; well edited, it steers clear of the encyclopaedia and the boudoir.

It should be all that a well rounded, interesting, helpful woman is—ready to put out a strong guiding hand wherever it is needed.

It must take itself seriously. It must be honest. It must reflect what really is, and suggest from experience what might be.

A great class turns to the woman's page for council, for advice, for suggestion. The ready made conventions of one set of people would be a misfit on another set, so why tell a woman who has to cook and wash for a husband and six children how to instruct a footman to receive the cards of a caller.

A woman's page should be all things to all women.

No woman's page deserves success that does not give to its least reader a respectful hearing and the best advice in its scope. It must be kindly. It must inspire confidence.

It must enter into all the home duties of the housewife with zest and enthusiasm. It must hold the affectionate friendship of its women readers.

All these things the woman's page of "THE PHILADELPHIA DAILY PRESS" is and does—it is beyond doubt the most practical and truly and helpful woman's page ever offered Pennsylvania woman. You cannot afford to miss even one day.
