John Fague a new brakeman on the local freight train, met with a painful accident at this place Monday afternoon, while making a coupling on the station siding. His arm was caught as the cars came together and a deep laceration extending from the wrist to the elbow was the result. Dr. Randell was summoned, and sewed up the wound. Much nerve was displayed by the injured man, as he had the painful dressing done without much complaint.

A sleighing party comprising two loads of young people from this place enjoyed the hospitality of Hotel Basley at Sonestown Tuesday night. A merry time was afforded them on the travel, while dancing and an excellent supper kept the participants from reaching their homes until Wednesday morning.

Mr. H. H. Kumm, the genial bookkeeper at the tannery office, participated in the sleighing party at Sonestown Tuesday night. He went by himself, however, in a livery that would bring a wish from any maiden to fill the lonely end of the seat. On the return he brought up the rear, arriving at noon. As Mr. Kumm is a prohibition and a young man of ideal habits, no one can account for his coming in so far behind.

The Ithaca Journal says: "The fact that $150,000 are sent annually out of Ithaca to mail order houses in Chicago, New York and Philadelphia is due to the circumstances that the mail order houses advertise more liberally and more wisely than do local merchants. Both the express and postoffice experience a great increase in their money order business for a week or two after the big mail order houses send out their monster catalogues, or for a few days after the arrival of the popular magazines, which carry the bulk of advertisements of those business enterprises which appeal direct to the public instead of the retailers or the wholesaler."

At the present session of the legislature Hon. Thomas V. Cooper will introduce a bill authorizing the county commissioners of the several counties of Pennsylvania to appropriate annually a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars to each G. A. R. post in their respective counties to aid in defraying the expenses of Memorial day. The act is not applied to cities of the first, second, third class. This will be a popular measure with the increasing years and decreasing numbers, the scattered membership in the country districts find it more difficult to raise sufficient funds to pay for the necessary expenses of Memorial day observance.

Trouble seems to be one of life's essential parts. No one escapes them; all are as familiar with it as they are with mirth and gladness. We are all apt to quarrel with our troubles, under the mistaken idea that they have been sent us and not realizing that we have all along unconsciously been appropriating them to ourselves. Every one has a choice of troubles, and it depends largely upon themselves as to the ones they select. This being so, let us take thought of tomorrow, that we may suffer as we choose and not blindly. There is a set of married troubles, as also for bachelors and old maids only. A fast and merry life pays the bitter price. Which will you have? Yours is the choice. Any amount of trouble may be caused by too much money; nothing can be lost never possessed. Shall we run the risk or not? Trouble is headed your way. Can't stop it. So let us have patients and take time to make our selection. The worst of it is, however, that by the time we have learned the standing of various troubles, their nature and ways, it is too late to change. And we cannot begin all over again. So that in the end we may be saddled with troubles that we would willingly exchange for others, if we had only known about them earlier.
