Local and Personal Events Tensely Told.

Mrs. J. A. Roberts was a Dushore visitor Tuesday.

F. M. Crossley went to Sayre Thursday to visit his son Ellery who is learning the machinist's trade at that place.

Hon. E. M. Dunham of Sayre was in town Saturday attending the funeral of Mrs. M. C. Lauer.

Miss Elizabeth Farrel is again at work in her father's office at this place.

Miss E. Jessie Wrede was home from Lopez Sunday.

Atty. E. J. Mullen attended Superior Court at Williamsport this week.

Mrs. O. A. Gardner of Dushore, and Miss Bertha Fleming of Forksville are about to open a millinery store in Sayre.

Rev. E. A. Heim and Mr. Maurice Lauer, Tuesday morning left for their homes, the former at Baltimore, and the latter at Joliet, Ill.

Station agent W. B. Ritter spent Sunday with his brother at Lewisburg, Pa.

Laporte friends of Mrs. Virginia Brewster, on Tuesday received word that she was critically ill at Washington, D. C. where she has been spending the winter.

The three sleigh loads of people who drove to the home of Mr. J. C. Pennington at Nordmont, Wednesday evening, thoroughly enjoyed their ride, and the warm hospitality of Mr. Pennington and family made every one feel that they should enjoy another trip to the same place.

Mrs. W. J. Lord, after a two months visit with her parents Mr. Mrs. J. M. Rosencrans, on Monday returned to her home in Binghamton, N. Y. she was accompanied by her mother who will spend sometime at Binghamton.

George Seebach, the professional bag puncher, who on leaving Williamsport recently after completing an engagement at a vaudeville theater, took a 15 year-old girl with him, has been sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary for seduction. The day before the trial the girl married him, thinking thus to weaken the case against the man, but she can now repent at leisure.

Come you will be made welcome.

A certain business firm has upon its seal the motto: "A little better than is necessary." It is the secret of success in every business of life, from the first lesson to the last. Take it in school, for instance. One pupil may prepare his lesson perfectly, as far as limits of the text require; another studying with broader purpose, does not stop with the limits of the appointed lesson, but seeks everywhere for deeper knowledge of the subject itself. Is there any question which work will rank higher in the end?

A young clerk in a store may be accurate, faithful, honest, and industrious—and stay there; another clerk may add to these necessary qualifications for his work, a personal interest in his customers which makes him remember their peculiar likes and dislikes and makes his serving them seem almost a matter of personal friendliness. Is there any question which will win the better trade?

A young girl at home may set the table and dust the rooms perfectly as a duty to be done faithfully, of course, but dismissed as soon as possible, or she may add a score of dainty touches to her work that will make it a pleasure to herself and a joy to others. "A little better than is necessary"—it makes the difference between being a slave or an artist; for, after all, it is in the spirit that the secret lies. To the high soul the "necessary" is always the very best way that it can give—The Word and the Way.

If we laughed more we should all be happier and healthier says a medical authority. True, we are a busy and very practical people, and most of us probably find more in this life to bring the frown than the smile; but, nevertheless, it is a pity we don't laugh more—that we do not bring ourselves to the laugh if need be. For we all agree that a good laugh is the best medicine in the world.

"Why," said an old doctor, not long ago, "if people fully realized what it meant to themselves to laugh, and they laughed as they should, 90 per cent. of the doctors would have to go out of business."

By laughter I do not mean the silly giggle indulged in by some women and so many girls.

There is no outward mark which demonstrates the woman of shallow mind so unmistakably as that of giggling. There is no sense in the giggle, no benefit to be derived from it. It makes a fool of the person herself and renders everyone around her uncomfortable; but just as the giggle is the outcome of a small mind, the hearty laugh is reflection of a healthful nature. What we want is more good laughers in the world—not more gigglers.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Unions, National and State, are offering prizes for essays written upon topics assigned. Knowing that there are bright, intelligent young people in Sullivan County who should have the opportunity of competing with the young people in other parts of our great nation.

The W. C. T. U. of Forksville, Pa. hereby offers the following cash prizes, viz. $2 for the best and $1 for the second best essay to be written upon the topic, "The Value of Total Abstinence to a Life." Contestants will kindly observe the following rules and regulations.

1. Contestants must be between the ages of fourteen and twenty years and residents of Sullivan County.
2. Material may be collected from any available source, but the essay must be original; composed and written by the individual submitting it and must contain not than six hundred or more than eight hundred word.
3. If contestant be a member of any school the name of school and teacher should accompany the manuscript, so that due credit may be given.

Notice is hereby given that the County Commissioners of Sullivan County will sit as a Board of appeal at their office in Laporte, on March 14, and 15, 1907, to hear appeals from the assessments on unseated lands, as fixed by said Commissioners sitting as a Board of Revision of Taxes.
