A LEGAL QUESTION.

Can a Pomona Grange Build and Operate a Telephone System?

A writer in the Pennsylvania Grange News, the official organ of the Order in Pennsylvania, wants to know if it is competent for a Pomona grange under its charter, to build a telephone system and operate it within its jurisdiction, the county.

Answering this question an attorney at law says that it is perfectly competent for a Pomona grange to go into the telephone or any other business it chooses, unless by so doing it should violate the laws of the Patrons of Husbandry, and thus get into trouble with that Order. The laws of the state would not interfere with it. Any man or association of men or women may enter into legitimate business for profit or otherwise, and may call themselves a grange or anything they wish. In such a case, and where there is no incorporation, the association would be subject to all the rules governing a partnership, and all the members of the association, or partnership, would be liable personally for any debts of the partnership. Incorporation would reduce this personal liability to the amount of the capital stock held by each individual. For this reason it is desirable to incorporate whenever it is proposed to enter into a profitable occupation, for thereby the members could not be held responsible for the debts of the corporation, as is the case with members of an unincorporated business association.

Such a corporation would come under the class of those for profit, and the charter would have to be issued by the state, and I would regard the services of an attorney as absolutely necessary, in order that so important a transaction be without error.

A Hustling New York Grange.

At the last meeting of the Union grange A. A. Van Vleck of Jamestown was instructed to prepare a list of farm bulletins from the state and national agricultural departments which would prove the most valuable to farmers. This list will be sent to the congressman from that district, and he will forward it to the members of the grange. This is a good idea and should be adopted by other granges. Many of these bulletins are of great value to farmers. This grange has voted $50 for the Young Women's Christian Association building in Jamestown which is to be erected. A resolution of thanks to Governor Hughes was adopted for his "strenuous efforts to promote purity in political methods and honesty and square dealing in the administration of the law."

Field Days and Picnics.

The season for field days and picnics is at hand. It is a good time to spread grange doctrine. Don't confine these out of door occasions to members of the grange. Invite all farmers. Have one short, interesting and meaty address on some general farm topic, a brief, pointed talk on some phase or phases of grange work, some good music and plenty to eat, and the day will be well spent.
