The Annual Supper held under the auspices of the Ladies of the M. E. Church at the Ingham Cottage was a success. The net proceeds were $25.60.

Mrs. E. S. Chase and daughter Miss Helen of Eagles Mere, are the guests of the former's sister Miss Fanny Meylert.

The Borough schools opened Monday and all predict a very successful term with Mr. Bird and Miss Wrede both State Normal School graduates as teachers.

Miss Janette Spencer of Williamsport came up on Tuesday to prepare for her mother's home coming after her summers stay in that city.

Sunday School at 10:00 a. m. Preaching 7:00 p. m.

This is the order of service at the M. E. church next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pennington attended the soldiers reunion at Monroeton on August 28 and reported a large attendance and a good time.

Mrs. Victoria Woodhull and daughter Jennie who were the guests of Atty. and Mrs. F. W. Meylert for two weeks returned on Tuesday to their home at Monroe, N. Y.

James J. Hill, the railroad magnate, predicts a stringency in the money market. This pessimistic view is shared by every man who has recently inspected his coal bin.

Mr. Rockefeller's business methods are well illustrated in his collection of his witness fees and in his delay in paying that fine. The interest on $29,000,000 is something.

Mrs. E. L. Barrows who has spent the past year in New York and Baltimore is visiting her sisters, Mrs. Smyth and Ingham. Mrs. Barrows returns much improved in health. Miss Esther Rappleye who has spent several summers at this place accompanied Mrs. Barrows here for a few weeks stay.

Prof. Ford and family closed Mokoma Place Thursday morning and departed for their Philadelphia home. The best wishes for a season of health and prosperity and a happy anticipation of their return next summer is the prevailing sentiment of our town people.

The appeal of the Sullivan County Coal Companies from their assessed valuation of coal lands is being heard by the Court this week. Upwards of one hundred witnesses and fifteen Mine Engineers are in attendance. The case is likely to extend into the middle of next week.

Mr. Isaac Rogers of Forksville, is in a very serious condition, the result of blood poisoning. Two years ago last winter Mr. Rogers froze one of his toes which last spring developed gangrene. In the hope of saving his life the toe was amputated recently when blood poison followed. Mr. Roger's family has been summoned to his bedside.

A Towanda dispatch in the Philadelphia Inquirer says: A fine large cat owned by Dr. Leonard Pratt, of this city, now brings to him several times a week a fine fish. He catches them in the Susquehanna river, which is near Dr. Pratt's home and is so proud of his achievement that he is never so happy as when his master praises him for a particular catch. How he manages to catch the fish Dr. Pratt does not know, but the cat is frequently wet all over when he returns home with his prey. The fishing began a few weeks ago and Dr. Pratt so praised his pet for the first one that the cat has continued the fishing.

The "Mokoma Outing" for boys, conducted by Prof. Ford and James A. Muller, closed Monday and the boys very reluctantly took their departure from the Mountain where they have spent a most pleasant and profitable summer. The young men who spent the summer at the Outing were pleasant and courteous and took a very kindly interest in our village affairs. They were regular attendants at church and Sunday-school, and their influence for good among our young people will be strongly felt. This new project starts out with a very successful season. The management of this institution has for its general purpose to make the best possible specimen of a man from the youth who requires careful training. He is brought close to nature and taught all the elements that tend to broaden and develop the mental faculties as well as the physical strength. A large attendance is expected next summer, and it is truly hoped that this good work may continue to grow and become a permanent feature with Laporte as a summer resort.

William Fulmer of near Muncy Valley, who was injured about a month ago by falling from a load of hay, died on Tuesday of last week from the result of his injuries. He was well and favorably known in this county. He was past 78 years of age, and for the past 50 years of his life had been a faithful member of the Methodist church. A widow and seven children survive, being: Edward and Ernest of near Muncy Valley; Alvin of Glen Mawr; Mrs. Edward Worthington and Mrs. Brady Bennett of Eagles Mere, and Mrs. C. D. Voorhees of Sonestown.

While searching for cows in his pasture one day recently George Barnes, of Shinglehouse, Potter county, was attacked by yegmen and robbed of his watch, coat, hat and shirt. He did not have any money in his clothes. The highwaymen did not injure him in any manner. He obeyed the commands of the robbers without a murmur and was able to walk home un molested.

KANSAS' NEW STATE MASTER.

George D. Black Will Represent That State at the National Grange.

One of the new men who will make their first appearance at the Hartford session of the national grange is George D. Black of Olathe, Kan. He is a member of Lone Elm grange, No. 152. He was elected secretary of the Kansas state grange in 1880 and served in that capacity until 1906, when he was elected master to succeed E. W. Westgate. Mr. Black has been secretary of the Johnson Company Co-operative association of Olathe and is one of the directors. He is the secretary of the Patrons' Co-operative bank, organized under the banking laws of Kansas in 1883. It has a capital of $50,000 and a surplus of $50,000. It has paid a semiannual dividend of 5 per cent ever since it was organized, and on the 1st of January of this year it declared a dividend of 10 per cent. It has been pronounced by bank inspectors to be the safest and best bank in the state. The Co-operative association was organized in 1876 with a capital of $800 and with sixty members. Now it has a capital of $100,000 and a surplus of $25,000, with 1,000 stockholders. It also controls four branch stores in that county, each of which carries about $10,000 worth of stock. The total sales since organization have been about $6,000,000, with gross profits of $907,000, and $535,000 has been paid in dividends to the stockholders. The Patrons have a fire and tornado insurance, which carries total risks of nearly $5,000,000. They have several co-operative stores in that vicinity, one at Spring Hill which has been running twenty-five years, another at New Lancaster which is not so old and one at Cadmus which has been running for nearly a quarter of a century.

Successful Grange Interchange.

Members of Denmark grange of Lewis county, N. Y., are working out a plan which is succeeding and which gives variety to their literary programmes. This grange is made up of members from three villages, Castertown, Deer River and Denmark. Occasionally these places take turns in furnishing the grange programmes, and this is found to create enthusiasm among the members and just enough strife to make it interesting. At a recent meeting of Denmark grange the members of Copenhagen grange furnished the literary programme, and Denmark will return the compliment for their next banquet. County Deputy White believes that much good results from this interchange of labor among nearby granges and it has a tendency to keep up a more lively interest and that members become better acquainted with each other. He also favors the use of printed programmes.

An Old Grange Lady.

One of New Hampshire's oldest members of the Order is Sarah J. Ames, born 1817 at North Chatham, N. H. At eighteen she married Bliss Charles. To them were born ten children in a house on the site of the present Eagle Grange hall. She became a member of the Order at eighty-seven years of age and is one of the most enthusiastic members, regular in attendance and often assists with the literary programme. At a recent meeting of the Pomona her family was represented by four generations in direct line.

Farm Institutes for Women.

A movement is on foot for the organization of a system of women's institutes to be held in connection with the farmers' institutes in New York state. Mrs. Martha Van Rensselaer of Cornell is pushing the movement, and it could be in no better hands.

The state grange at its last session adopted resolutions favoring this movement. The problems of home life will be discussed at these institutes, and domestic science will be treated in lectures by competent authorities.
