The Sonestown clothespin factory which burned down last winter is being rebuilt and will soon be ready for operation. The new factory is not being built on the site of the old one but is located at a convenient shipping point near the depot of the W. & N. B. railroad.

Lewis Emery, Jr., defeated candidate for Governor, has made a rich oil strike in Mexico. He is interested in a corporation known as the Pennsylvania Oil Company of Mexico, which is capitalized at $50,000,000. Its business is flourishing within the past few years and Mr. Emery has added many thousands of dollars to his large fortune.

William Atroe, of Laquin, aged about 56 years, dropped dead while at work in the lumber woods at that place Friday afternoon. He was employed as foreman for the Laquin Lumber company, and was looking after some work in the woods when he was overtaken by death, caused by heart failure.

Now that the prolonged drouth is broken farmers have brighter prospects for their late crops. The corn crop which will be very late this season has grown much since the recent rains. Buckwheat has been greatly benefitted and the pasture fields have been revived to such an extent that there is not likely to be a scarcity of butter with a correspondingly high price. We should be truly thankful for the rain.

C. L. Woodward, editor of the Shunk Star which suspended publication several months ago, contemplates going into the newspaper business in a New Jersey town.

Helen Lloyd, aged thirteen years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lloyd of Muncy, was struck and instantly killed by an express train last Friday near her home. She and her little brother had been at the river fishing. They were walking on the west-bound track on their way home. A freight train was passing them going east and because of the sharp curve at that point the engineer on the west-bound passenger train was unable to see them.

The Philadelphia and Reading railroad company has filed with the department of internal affairs a statement showing in detail the number of miles between the various freight and passenger stations on all its lines in Pennsylvania, as required by an act passed by the recent legislature. The statement of the Reading, which is the first of the larger steam railroads of Pennsylvania to comply with this act, shows that the total length of all its lines in this state is 956.14 miles.

School districts which fail to comply with the amended Snyder minimum salary act, passed by the recent legislature, will forfeit their share of the increased appropriation of $15,000,000 to the public schools of Pennsylvania for the two fiscal years beginning the first Monday of June, 1908.

This is the warning which Superintendent Schaeffer gives to the 2,600 school districts of the state in a circular letter sent to each district explaining the provisions of the new law.

A pest which effects cattle is being investigated near Salladaysburg, where on one farm a number of cattle have died. The pest is known as Mexican Tick, and is a small insect which bores through the skin of a bovine and after reaching the flesh spreads a deadly poison into the system of the animal. It is said that within two days after the insect gets onto the animal the poison inoculates the blood and causes death. It is said to be impossible to get these insects off after they have once gotten on the hide of a cow. The state veterinary surgeon's department is taking a hand in trying to cope with the new insect, which threatens to destroy a large number of cattle. It is believed that the pest was brought into the neighborhood on a cow which was shipped there from the west.

ALL SUPPORT SHEATZ

Independent Voters of the State
For Republican Nominee.

EAGER TO GO UPON RECORD

Unsolicited and Enthusiastic Indorsements of Candidate For State Treasurer From Men Who Led Lincoln and City Party Movements.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 10
Representative John O. Sheatz, the Republican nominee for state treasurer, is assured of the votes of 80 per cent of the citizens of Philadelphia who supported the City Party nominees who were elected to county offices two years. He is, of course, going to poll the full stalwart Republican vote, so that an unprecedented majority may be looked for at the November election.

Not only are the City Party leaders of this city outspoken in their support of Mr. Sheatz, but from every section of the state come reports that the independents generally intend to swell his vote with the belief that he will make a clean cut and independent official.

Mr. Sheatz has a splendid record as a state legislator. He has had the distinction of being upon both the City Party and the Republican party tickets in his representative district upon the last two occasions upon which he was a candidate, and reformers and regulars continue to indorse his legislative course at Harrisburg.

As chairman of the committee on appropriations of the last house, he performed the arduous duties of that position in a manner to command universal commendation.

All Lined Up For Sheatz.

Here are some expressions from letters that have been received by Mr. Sheatz from men who have been prominent in reform movements.

Former Minister to Italy William Potter, who was the City Party nominee for mayor when John E. Rebyrn was elected, wrote:

"I congratulate the commonwealth of Pennsylvania on your nomination for state treasurer. The fight for better government during the last two years compelled your nomination and I hope for your election."

Rudolph Blankenburg, a prominent member of the Lincoln Party in the state and a successful candidate for county commissioner on the City Party ticket:

"It is a great satisfaction to me to know that you were nominated, because I have watched your work in the legislature and admired your courage when you stood almost alone in your fight for the right. If we had only more of this character of manhood in public life everywhere, how happy and harmonious and prosperous we all would be. Whatever efforts I can make to secure your election (which of course, is a foregone conclusion) I shall gladly make."

John H. Converse, one of the heaviest contributors to the City Party:

"I rejoice in the action of the state convention in naming you for state treasurer. Appreciating your position for all that is upright and sound in Republican principles, I believe that we may all rejoice in the action of the convention. I wish you success in your office to which your election is assured."

John C. Winston, chairman of the Committee of Seventy, which has led the independent movement in Philadelphia since 1905:

"I feel that your nomination was a distinct concession on the part of the Republican party to the independent sentiment of the state. I have no doubt whatever of your triumphant election. As a Republican, I am always pleased when the party does the right thing."

Man of Courage and Integrity.

"Your nomination for state treasurer is a tribute to your ability, but in a greater degree, to your courage and integrity. It is a most significant sign of the present time that in state politics, even if not in city politics, a man can best help himself by performing the best service for the people. I heartily congratulate you, but more heartily congratulate the people, that we shall be permitted to vote for a man in whom we can place entire confidence."

Clarence L. Harper, late treasurer of the City Party:

"It gives me the greatest kind of pleasure to congratulate you upon your nomination. Your election will surely follow."

Thomas Martindale, a leader in the Gibboney campaign and active in many other independent movements:

"With you on the front there is no excuse either for a City Party, a Lincoln or a Democratic candidate, and I would rejoice to see you unanimously elected."

Francis A. Lewis, late chairman of the campaign committee of City Party:
