Democratic Party Not Far Where It Comes From.

The Democratic platform denounces the Dingley tariff as the sum of all tariff villainies. It cannot get together words strong enough to express the feeling of opposition the party has toward that measure, but when it has done the best it can under the limited resources of the English language it furnishes its own interpretation by putting the ardent protectionist, Henry G. Davis, on the ticket for vice president.

The strong protectionism of Mr. Davis may commend him to Republican voters, but he is not the choice on that account of the men in command of his party. The party needs the money, and it is not in the least particular about where it gets it. It is willing to take up any man with opinions or without them so that it is able by hook and by crook to make a showing in the election. Thus it can violently denounce the protective policy and yet name a protectionist for highest honors. Besides, Mr. Davis is a protectionist of to time have sought to encourage and support independent political movements to fuse with the Democracy in local or personal campaigns.

Next year there will be 32 congressmen to elect in Pennsylvania and the canvass for these congressional seats is already under way. The Democrats are eager to have the Republican vote in this state cut down this fall and are talking fusion at every opportunity.

They know that they cannot elect their nominee for state treasurer this fall as well as they know anything. They know also that if by a fusion campaign for state treasurer they can lure Republicans away from their party candidates and their party organization, or keep them from voting, they will be making their initial advance toward capturing several congressional districts in this state next year. They are aware of the fact that some of the districts which are now represented by Republican congressmen were only carried by the Republicans by small majorities, and they are looking to these districts as the battle grounds for next year's congressional campaigning.

They want the Republican vote cut down in those districts this fall, so as to encourage Democrats to get into line for the big prizes to be fought for next year.

Republicans of Pennsylvania are determined to meet every issue in the coming campaign squarely and fairly and they have no fear of the outcome at the polls.

HE KNEW THE ROPES

A Lawyer That Was Not Hunting Litigation Over Land.

It's the canny old bird that cannot be caught with the bird lime of litigation.

You've probably heard of Lawyer Hackett of Somerset. A little while ago he purchased some land over which there had been a lawsuit for years, until the parties had spent half a dozen times what the land was worth. Hackett knew all about it. Some of the people wondered why he wanted to get hold of property with such an incubus of uncertainty on it. Others thought that perhaps he wanted some legal knitting work and would pitch in red hot to fight that line of question on his own hook.

That's what the owner of the adjoining land thought, says the Baltimore Herald. So he braced himself for trouble when he saw Hackett coming across the fields one day.

Said Hackett: "Where's your claim here, anyway, as to this fence?"

"I insist," replied the neighbor, "that your fence is over my land two feet at one end and one foot at least at the other end."

"Well," replied Hackett, "you go ahead just as quick as you can and set your fence over. At the end where you say that I encroach on you two feet, set the fence onto my land four feet. At the other end push it onto my land two feet."

"But," persisted the neighbor, "that's twice what I claim."

"I don't care about that," said Hackett. "There's been fight enough over this land. I want you to take enough so you are perfectly satisfied you have got your rights, and then we can get along all pleasantly. Go ahead and help yourself."

The man paused, abashed. He had been ready to commence the old struggle tooth and nail. But this move of the new neighbor stunned him. Yet he wasn't to be outdone in generosity. He looked at Hackett.

"Squire," said he, "that fence ain't going to be moved an inch. I don't want the blamed old land. There warn't nothing to the fight but the principle of the thing."

Meteorological Cussedness.

At Westtown, Chester County, Pa., the Friends' high school celebrated its one hundredth anniversary recently. They have at the school a kind of diary, or log, which has been kept up continuously for 100 years, and in which the state of the weather every day during all that time has been noted down. The log was consulted for an auspicious date in the matter of weather for the anniversary, and it showed that every June 10 has been clear since the beginning of the school's career.

Then some said: "Since it hasn't rained for 100 years on June 10 we had better avoid that date, for it will be sure to rain then this year." But others said that reason and philosophy indicated June 10 to be a day devoted, from some unknown atmospheric causes, to sunshine and blue skies. The latter set of people carried the day, and the school celebrated its anniversary on June 10. But it rained so hard that the guests had to sit around in tents.

She Would Have Stopped It.

Some time ago the wife of an old inhabitant of a Durham, England, village died, leaving a grown-up family behind her. The father remained a widower about eighteen months; then he entered the matrimonial state again. The youngest daughter, aged about twenty, on the day of the wedding, went to the village butcher's.

After the usual courtesies, the butcher asked her: "Is it true your father got married agyen?"

"Aye, it's over true!" said the girl.

"Didn't ye want him to get married agyen?"

"No; we wor aall agyen it, but Aad fyul wad hev his aan way. But Aad back if ma muthor had been living sh'd had put a stop tiv't!"

She Might Relent.

HE.

You treat me now with cold disdain,
But some day you'll regret;
I shall not go away and pine,
But I'm going out to get
A job somewhere and I shall work
And be a magnate yet.

SHE.

Go, leave my presence, since you say
You don't intend to fret;
You'll never, never see the day
That you'll make me regret—
But still, I wish you'd let me know
What kind of job you get.

Practicing Medicine.

"Doctor," sighed the fat man, "I guess it's no use. I've tried everything you've prescribed and grown fiesher all the time. Your latest recommendation was to ride horseback. I've done so faithfully for a month, but I've taken on eighteen pounds and the horse has lost 160."

"Ah! there's a scientific suggestion," said the elated doctor. "Try letting the horse ride you for a while."—Detroit Free Press.

Getting Even.

"Oh, yes," said the stocky man with the square jaw, "my married life is quite a happy one."

"Glad to hear it," said the thin man with the thin hair. "Got any particular system?"

"Well, yes. Whenever my wife gets into a tantrum I go out and find the fellow who introduced us and give him another licking."—Indianapolis Journal.

In the Air.

"Where do you live?" asked the police magistrate.

"I live a block above Stanton street, your honor, corner of Essex."

"But the officer says you live at No. 999 Houston street."

"That's all right, your honor, I live in the top flat."

"Prisoner discharged on the ground that he's an angel."—Mail and Express.

"MAKES PROPER DIET"

FORCE presto

IS A SURE RESOURCE

Let an EXPERT BUGGY MAKER Give you some INSIDE FACTS

Mr. F. L. Shaw, manager of our vehicle interests, bought two buggies from the same house the other day. One cost $18.00 more than the other. Then he took the buggies all apart to see just why one was higher priced than the other. Here is what he found out:

Both buggies had exactly the same seat and back, same size body, same wheels, shafts and everything else, except that the higher priced one had 14-oz. cloth trimmings instead of Keratol, found in the cheaper; a leather boot, instead of rubber; a better axle, and the finish on the woodwork was slightly better, but not very much.

Read the difference—and learn how easily price can be raised without changing the grade, in a buggy.

SIDE BY SIDE:

Difference in Cost $3.80. Difference in Price to You $18.00.

On their Cheap Buggy	On the Best They Make
Seat and back (see illustrations). Body 23 inches long. Malleable 5th wheel without anti-rattler. Malleable head block (considered poor). Malleable Balley Loop (cheapest made). Common reaches. Steel sockets. Hickory and elm wheels (low grade). Common axle. Wheels painted by dipping. 6-oz. head lining in top. Shafts (cheap grade). Keratol trimming. Rubber boot. Leather quarter top. Flank, cheap.	Same. Same. Same. Same. Same. Same. Same. Same. Same. Same. Long distance. Same. Same. Same. 14 oz. cloth. Leather Boot. Same. Slightly better.

What do they give for the $18.00 difference in price? The actual difference in cost, to the buggy maker, did not exceed $3.80, yet one buggy costs you $18.00 more than the other.

Now, either the factory making and selling these buggies to the house Mr. Shaw bought from, was fooling the house, or the house was fooling you. In either case, you were paying $18.00 for $3.80 worth.

We tell you these things because we believe in a square deal!

There isn't one purchaser of a buggy in a hundred—no, nor in a thousand—who can tell of his own knowledge the cause for the difference in prices between one buggy and another.

We make our own buggies. We are the only general merchandising concern in the world that does. The prices to you on our different buggies are based on the manufacturing costs.

We make the same small percentage of profit on a $70.00 rig that we do on a $40.00 outfit, and you get full value for every dollar you pay.

The difference in our buggies is not merely in the price. It's in the quality.

If you are a judge of buggy values we ask you to compare our vehicles with any make you know of, price for price.

If you are not an expert judge of buggy values, you are safe to order from us, for we give honest value for every dollar you spend. And we guarantee your satisfaction.

The thousands who have purchased vehicles of us write us of their perfect satisfaction and of $10.00 to $50.00 saved on each one.

Our New Vehicle Catalogue tells the truth without exaggeration. It describes in detail just the rig you want. Safe rig, safe price, safe house to deal with. Let us send you this vehicle catalogue, free. Remember, Mr. F. L. Shaw, an expert vehicle man, looks after your interest.
