There are 75 cases of scarlet fever among children at Glen Lyon, Luzerne county. Most of them are foreigners and have no doctors, twenty three have already died.

Hereafter the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will meet every Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Electa Mead.

Now is the time to watch those unsightly ash piles and keep them off the street, as the law requires you should.

There will be a meeting of the V. I. S. at the home of Mrs. Keeler, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 5th. A full attendance is requested, come—rain or shine.

Mrs. J. L. Smyth left Monday for an extended visit with her brother, Charles Lauer, at Lock Haven, and with her sister, Mrs. E. A. Heim, at Baltimore.

The services at the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday will be as follows: Sunday School at 10 A. M. Preaching at 7 P. M. Epworth League 7:45 P. M.

The old wood stoves in the Methodist church have been replaced by two large coal stoves, which will add greatly to the comfort of the congregations during the winter months.

Mr. A. P. Weiland who was in town last Friday with a large stock of dry goods from his department store at Sayre, disposed of a large amount of goods. The large variety and splendid quality of his merchandise made quick selling.

Emerson Wilcox, a business man of Canton, Pa., was badly injured last week by falling from an apple tree in his yard. Mr. Wilcox was standing on a limb of the tree when it gave way. He fell a distance of 12 feet and striking squarely on his feet, broke both ankles.

The Ringdale Hunting Club left Monday morning for a week's stay at their cabin at Ringdale, Sullivan county. The members of the club each year spend a week at their cabin and return with their game bags full of trophies. The following members constitute the party which left here: John Berry, Valentine Wets, Herman Schower, George Edler, William Wurster and Frank Costello.—Williamsport News.

Omaha, Oct. 29.—Omaha packing houses have reduced the prices of all kinds of meat 10 per cent, and expect still further reduction. The Cudahy packing company expressed the belief that the prices of all commodities would be materially reduced, and that the present financial flurry would result in a general reduction in values.

Farmers in many sections of Pennsylvania, according to the agricultural experiment station have during recent weeks found a thread like yellowish vine growing with their clover. This plant is generally known as "clover dodder" and also as strangle weed. It kills the clover on which it grows by sending suckers into the clover stem which sap the vitality of the latter. There are many ways to eradicate the dodder. If its growth is noticed in time the earth for two feet around the infested spot can be spaded up. This will stop its spread for the season but the seed is liable to spread to other parts of the field. Another way is to spray the infested spot with a 3 per cent solution of copper sulphate. If the field is largely infested the best way to get of the vine is to turn the land into pasture or plow it up preparatory to next seasons crop of corn or grain. This is a sure remedy.

John O. Sheatz, Republican candidate for State Treasurer, said in a recent speech that if elected to that office, he would pay for his bond out of his own pocket. His exact words are as follows:

As a piece of information for the people of Pennsylvania, I wish to say that if I am elected Treasurer of this great State, when the time comes for me to file bond of $500,000, I shall pay for it out of my own pocket, and not permit an obliging President of a Trust Company to arrange my security for me, thereby placing myself under obligations to that trust company to have $600,000 or $700,000 of the States money constantly on deposit in that particular institution. I shall keep myself just as free from the dictations of the money powers as I am of the political powers.

A declaration of this character will appeal to the honesty and fair-mindedness of every citizen of the State, for it shows the independence of Mr. Sheatz and stamps him as a man of his word. Under the circumstances the plain duty of Republican voters in Pennsylvania is to elect John O. Sheatz. There is no claim that he is not honest, capable, and fit in every way. There is no claim that he is owned by any faction clique, or individual. He is the choice of a Republican convention, unhampered by any dictation.

Wise Republicans will not aid in the project to encourage the Democratic party in the Nation by defeating the Republican nominee for Treasurer. They will not if they are wise, hearken to the sophistry of the eager Democratic organs which preach the doctrine of Republican dishonesty and Democratic saintliness. Should they do so and Pennsylvania be made to appear as favoring the Democratic party, they must not be surprised at the Democratic sneer, the laugh in the sleeve, that will greet them the morning after.

Much rubbish is printed about child training! Various learned folks air their opinions at length in newspapers and magazines, even incorporating their notions in book form. Some people read these articles and try to follow directions, usually with poor results. Why? The Germs of truth are contained in these articles. Possibly the application is too long delayed, or badly managed.

If mothers would start in the very beginning to teach their little ones kindness in every living thing, it would do more to mould their embryo characters than elaborate methods of child training. Teach your baby to love all the birds and animals, not to hurt the insects which have a fascination for the tiny hands. If he learns not to voluntarily hurt any living thing, the elemental strain of cruelty will be greatly obliterated. Kindness and courtesy to human beings will follow as a matter of course. A boy who won't stone a sparrow and has hankers after stray pups will probably remember to be polite to his comrades, can be depended upon to be clean, honest and frank. Try teaching kindness. Very few children are inherently cruel. Much of their brutality springs from sheer ignorance. Lack of teaching by the parents who are too busy or too lazy to take the trouble to explain such things, often does the little folks irreparable harm. It isn't necessary to send your children away to learn this lesson. Teach him yourself. Bring out and develop every tiny seed of love and kindness, and baby will grow up with a wider outlook and greater capacity for happiness.

J. W. Carroll, one of the most prominent citizens of this place, died very suddenly at Hazelton Monday morning, October 28, aged about 62 years. Himself and wife had been visiting friends at Hazelton for ten days, and while not in the best of health Mr. Carroll had remarked only the day before that he was feeling much better, and that he believed that the trip was doing him good. Monday morning he was suddenly taken very much worse and expired almost immediately. A telephone message to his son Thomas in this place, summoned him at once to his fathers bier, and the remains reached this place Tuesday evening, and were at once taken to the family residence on Turpike street. The funeral services will be held Thursday morning at St. Basil's. A more extended notice will be published next week.—Sullivan Review.
