The Franklin News says: This is the time when the fortunate farmer can come in from his work, eat a good supper and then go out on the steps and sit beside his wife and watch the chickens getting ready to go to rest, or the sunlight fading behind the hills, while the crickets fiddle shrilly and the late chimney swal'ows shoot through the air, homeward bound. It is at such times that a man realizes the value of quiet, honest and industrious living and knows what heavenly rest may mean.

No advice could be more pertinent than that given by Dr. Neff, Director of the Department of Public Health and Charities, to have the eyes of school children examined. Many a child fails in studies and breaks down because the eyes need glasses. Some such children cannot see words and figures on the blackboard. Friends and ex-brothers of the Iroquois Club, there is no Democratic party. There is only a Bryan party, and the followers of that party don't know when they go to bed at night what they will be called upon to believe when they wake up in the morning."

Mr Hearst tells of the man who had a carving knife handed down to him from his grandfather. A friend said to him, "It looks rather new. Haven't you ever done anything to And the man said, "Oh, I've it?" had the blade changed once or twice, and the handle renewed a couple of times, but otherwise it is just the same knife my grandfather had.

It is something if the farmers are finding that the charges of railroads for moving farm products are "reasonable".

The inquiry is a good idea. It will gather and spread information beneficial to farmers. Doubtless they will learn that some of their "grievances" have their source in the nature of things and cannot be cured by legislation. The knowledge will at least tend to greater contentment with their lot, which, in the nature of things, should improve steadily as the country grows in wealth and population.

A variety of wheat under the name of "Alaska" is being widely advertised as capable of yielding at the rate of 200 bushels to the acre "under ordinary soil con-"and even better ditions "under extra conditions." It is stated that this variety was found growing wild on the eastern coast of Alaska, and claims of the most extravagant nature are made for it. In consequence of this notoriety the the Department is receiving many requests for seeds.

This type of wheat has been known for many years both in this country and in Europe. It has been tried at several state experiment stations in the Western United States during the past 15 years, but no where have the yields been high enough to merit attention. The wheat has been grown to a very limited extent on certain heavy undrained soils in France for many years. In such locations it is said to yield rather better than ordinary wheat, but as it is one of the poorest wheats known for making flour, it
