(Special Correspondence)
 Philadelphia, Oct. 20.

With election day but two weeks off there is now a lull in the Republican forces throughout Pennsylvania such as has never been seen in the history of the grand old commonwealth.

Colonel Wesley R. Andrews, the Republican field marshal, has his army in splendid condition for the coming battle of the ballots.

He reports that every county committee is making an aggressive canvass, and that there never has been evinced such enthusiasm for the cause and the candidates as is witnessed on every hand throughout the state.

The party workers have taken up Colonel Andrews' call for an old-fashioned campaign.

They are holding rallies with old-time fervor and patriotic enthusiasm.

Campaign glees have been formed in every county, and they have been supplied by Colonel Andrews with copies of campaign songs specially written for use in this state. The county chairmen have inaugurated a system of plan of opening mass meetings with the singing of "America" by the entire audience. Interspersed between the speeches they have the campaign songs, lauding Taft and Sherman and poking fun at Bryan and the Democratic donkey. During the course of the evening the audiences join in singing the new state anthem, "Pennsylvania," and the gatherings are usually brought to a close by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

As in Days of Old.

"It brings me back to the days of the old 'Wide Awakes,'" said Colonel Andrews today, in commenting upon the enthusiasm that has been exhibited throughout Pennsylvania for the Republican nominees. "We want more of this patriotism, this love of country and love of party, and I am proud to see Pennsylvania lead the way in this revival of old-fashioned methods of campaigning. It is an education to the young men as well as an inspiration to the old."

Great preparations have been made for the closing days of the canvass. Big mass meetings have been arranged for in all parts of the state, and some of the most noted orators on the list of the Republican national committee are to appear at these meetings.

Senator Penrose's position on the executive committee of the national committee, and the fact that he is devoting practically all of his time working for Taft at the headquarters in New York, give him opportunities to see that important meetings in this state are well supplied with speakers. Vice Presidential Nominee Sherman, Speaker Kner, Burgess and Depew, Speaker Cannon, General Biddle and Congressman Lehigh and others of like prominence are booked for Pennsylvania meetings.

One Gift Was Missing.

Six-year-old Harry wanted to be his sister's little birthday present. He heart throbbed with joy at the thought though he had in his pocket only 10 cents. Nevertheless a week ahead of time he went around the shops and came back with a very satisfied look. His mother asked him what he had bought.

"I got her a cream puff," he said.
 "Well, you know, Harry," said his mother, "that won't keep fresh for a week."
 "That's what I thought after I bought it, mother," replied Harry calmly, "and so I ate it."—Ladies' Home Journal.
