From the Montrose Republican.
We heard of two Susquehanna county dairymen within the past two weeks the thought of whom we can't rid ourselves of. One had a herd of 48 cows and his milk check for the month of November was $600. Incidentally he said his feed for the month was about $150. This same man said he intended increasing the herd by two and expected in a year to clear $5,000.

This man, by the way has one of the best kept farms along the scientific lines, although not a graduate from an agricultural school to our knowledge, gleaning his information from periodicals and his experience of others. The other man said dairying didn't pay and was going to sell his herd. We didn't inquire how many cows he kept or their breed.
You don't have to inquire either.
Both of us know, because it is self-evident, and it is not necessary to point the moral.

Residents of Summit Hill, one of the mining towns near Mauch Chunk, were witnesses to the spectacular sight of a portion of a portion of a mountain sinking into the mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal company at that place Sunday afternoon.

The mine which is one of the richest in the anthracite district, has been on fire for nearly the last forty years. The officials have expended thousands of dollars in a vain attempt to extinguish the fire, so that the mine can be worked.

It is thought that the fire has eaten its way upward until so near the surface as to cause the portion of the mountain for a distance of nearly five hundred yards to cave in. Witnesses to the sight say that a fiery sheet of flame flashed up from the ground.

The settling of the mass of rock and dirt was accompanied by such a shock and roar, as to lead the residents for miles around to believe that it was an earthquake. Hundreds were attracted to the scene, while other spectators came and went.

ter, well known citizens of Sullivan county. Mr. and Mrs. Harrer have a host of friends who extend to them their best wishes.

Within a few days they will be

The American nation ranks first in athletics, as shown in the last Olympiad in London. The horseback ride of ninety-one miles through a driving snow storm by the president was a wonderful feat of indurance, and is only another proof of our quality as athletes. Human beings in the days past and to-day are compared to machines. There is no one questions, the logic of the comparison; for the body is equipped with all sorts of levers, pulley cordage, pumps and valves, which require a master mechanic to manage. Mike Murphy the famous Penn. trainer, undertakes this task.
He will write all about his wonderful work of brain and recreation in
