Mr. Jeremiah Kelly, one of the best known business men of Hughesville, has gone into voluntary bankruptcy. Mr. Kelly has been engaged in the mercantile business at Hughesville for over 35 years, and by his honest and obliging dealing with the patrons of his store, he made a legion of friends who regret the financial difficulty in which he is involved.

Noah Loomis of Windfall, Bradford county, reports a record for a Jersey cow from which during the last year he sold 340 pounds of butter, besides supplying his family with butter and cream. The butter was made the old fashioned way, the milk being kept at home and set in pans. The cow was fed dry feed, being given no ensilage.

The Citizens National Bank of Tunkhannock, has begun an action in trespass against the D. L.
& W. railroad company. The bank has not yet filed its bill of particulars, but the action is understood to be for delay or refusal damage sought is fixed at $5000.

Dr. R. A. Torrey, in the farewell meeting at the Scranton tabernacle last Sunday, said that on the previous night he had prayed that there might be 500 conversions at Sunday's services in the tabernacle and in the churches. He then announced that he had received reports 447 conversions.
As there were considerably more than 53 converts Sunday in the tabernacle, the answer to Dr. Torrey's prayer seemed to have been abundantly fulfilled.

The Pennsylvania special Tuesday

Court Notes.

The February term of court which convened on Monday was a little out of the ordinary inasmuch as there were no cases tried before a jury. Those who were summoned to serve as jurors were discharged on Tuesday.

All applications for license for established houses were granted except Jacob Caseman, Hillsgrove, which was refused.

Of the four new applications for license, Michael Donovan, wholesale license, Mildred, and Norman Stackhouse, tavern, Shrewsbury township, were granted; and Maxim Musiala, bottlers license, Lop-pez, and Smith Boudman, restaurant, Shrewsbury township, were refused.

It will cost Pennsylvania close to $40,000 to pay for the cattle in-stamping out the foot and mouth disease, and in addition the commonwealth will have to meet charges for property destroyed about cattle pens and barnyards. The action of the Appropriation Committee makes $90,000 available. Of this $35,000 will be returned to the State Treasury to replace funds taken by the State Live Stock Board in emergency work. Practically all of the rest of the $90,000 will be expended among the farmers of the State.

Mr. Harriman's idea as to the conditions under which a college man will get on in railroading is very much the same as that of most successful men regarding college men in their special calling. The great railroad administrator and organizer inevitably lays great stress on the moral rather than the intellectual qualities of the man under discussion. It is the stick-to-it--spirit that carries one through.
But also it is to be remembered that it is this spirit that carries a boy through college with the best results.
The one who is endowed with it is not necessarily or generally a fair representative of college training, for that training does it more for him than it does for his chum who may lack perseverance.

The truth is that there is such a variety in boys at college, that any generalization is defective. One thing however, is indicated in Mr.
Harriman's shrewd commentary.
It is that the boy in college who has to work hard in order to get on has, in the very limitations of his career, a real and valuable advantage over those in "easier" circumstances.
Whether he be poor, or only a little dull, if he is forced to put his whole strength into his efforts, they gradually and almost unconsciously build up in him a capacity for work that is more precious than any other quality in after life.

The New York Times suggest that in public provision for the so called higher education it is quite possible to make it too cheap and too facile. Beyond the sound elementary schooling to which every child is in a sense entitled for the protection of the community, it is a very sound doctrine that education will be more justly valued by him who gets it if it costs something of an effort and self-denial.

The brilliant writer on travel, Frank G. Carpenter, is now traveling through the far Eastern countries.
He tells his experiences in a fascinating, entertaining as well as educat-letter every week in the Philadelphia Press every Sunday. The series has just begun by Mr. Carpenter and will surpass anything he has ever attempted. He is now in Japan, where he met vice Minister of Foreign affairs, also the greatest General, Prince Yamagata, who is really the father of the great fighting machine, which brought Japan to the front.
Mr. Carpenter will also travel through China, Corea and Manchura, and his letters will appear every Sunday ex-clusively in THE PHILADEL-PHIA PRESS. Order your copy today from your news dealer so you won't miss a letter of this great series.
