After a week of the windiest kind of weather, followed by rain, the fishermen of our town were dealt the final blow on Thursday morning, the opening of the fishing season, when they awoke to find the town literally coated in ice, icicles hanging from the eaves and from every twig, the prospects of a fish in the near future is not very bright just now.

How times change! When we were young, says an exchange people had colds, soaked their feet in hot water and got well. Now they have grip, take quinine, feel sick all summer. Then they had sore throat, wrapped a piece of fat pork in an old sock, tied it around the neck at night and went to work the next morning. Now they have tonsillitis a surgical operation and two weeks in the house. Then they had the stomach ache took castor oil and recovered. Now they have appendicitis, a week in the hospital and six feet due east and west and four feet perpendicular. Then they worked. They labor now. In those days they wore under clothes, now they wear lingerie. Then they went to a restaurant. Now they go to a cafe. Then they broke a leg or an arm. Now they fracture a limb. People went crazy then, now they have brain storms. Politicians paid good hard cash for support. Now they send government garden seeds.
