During a few days' recess of the State Legislature M. W. Reeser, Sullivan county's representative, came home Friday and returned to Harrisburg Monday morning. He made this office a call and at the conclusion of our conversation we formed our own ideas that while Mr. Reeser was elected on the Republican ticket, he does not intend to follow along party lines entirely, but will look after the interests of the people at large. He has made a good start and to prove this he has been placed on the appointment committee, a very important committee in the legislature. Mr. Reeser's nomination and election to this committee is the second Sullivan county representative to be placed on the appointment committee in the history of the county, as far as is known. The Fire Bag.

Every whaler and sealer that sailed the seas in the days of wooden ships carried a fire bag. This was a tarpaulin bag about a foot long and six inches wide lined with waterproof material, with interlinings of oilcloth and thick flannel. Into this was placed the flint and tinder box for kindling fire, and the bag was then securely fastened with double flaps and tied to keep its contents dry. It was the special duty of the second mate to look after the fire bag and in case of shipwreck to attack it at once to his person by means of stout straps provided for the purpose. Thus if officers and crew were just away on some deserted shore in the desolate arctic circle the means of obtaining a fire to warm themselves by and to heat food and drink would not be wanting as long as the precious fire bag was safe.

The steam whalers and sealers of the present day still carry a fire bag stowed in the lifeboat with the bread and water, but now it is of rubber and contains half a dozen tin boxes of matches. —New York Press.

Passion For Music.

Mrs. Bacon—Did you say your husband has a passion for music? Mrs. Egbert—Yes. Every time I sing he flies into one.—Yonkers Statesman.

Death.

Death, the dry pedant, spares neither the rose nor the thistle, nor does he forget the solitary blade of grass in the distant waste. He destroys thoroughly and unceasingly. Everywhere we may see how he crushes to dust plants and beasts, men and their works. Even the Egyptian pyramids, that would seem to defy him, are trophies of his power, monuments of decay, graves of primeval kings.—Heinrich Heine.

Pa's Idea.

"What was the trouble at the building of the tower of Babel, pa?" "I'm not certain, but I think it was between the union and the nonunion workmen."—New York Press.

Serious Intentions.

Nellie—Hasn't Mr. Felewalley proposed yet? Nora—No, but he has gone as far as to ask what time we have breakfast and whether mother is a good cook.—Exchange.

Consolation.

Mrs. Gramercy—My husband is anxious to get rid of me. Mrs. Park—Don't cry, dear. In that case he won't haggle over the alimony.—Smart Set.

Content can only be found in the tranquillity of the heart.

Church Supper.

The ladies of the M. E. Church will hold a variety supper in the I. O. O. F. hall this (Friday) evening. All manner of good things are billed to appear and supper will be served from 6 o'clock until everybody has been supplied. SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Sullivan County, Pennsylvania, and to me directed and delivered, there will be exposed at public sale at the Court House in the Borough of Laporte, Sullivan County, Pennsylvania, on Saturday, February 4, 1911, at 10 o'clock a. m., the following described property, to wit:

All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situate in the Township of Davidson, County of Sullivan and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the public highway leading from Elk Lick School House to the Keeler settlement, nine (9) rods westward from the western line of land of W. M. Stephens; thence Southward on a line parallel with said line two hundred and ninety-four (294) rods more or less to a corner in the Northern line of land formerly of E. I. Brundage; thence Westward along said lands sixty (60) rods more or less to the Eastern line of lands of J. J. Sick; thence Northward along said lands two hundred and ninety-four (294) rods to said highway; thence Eastward along said highway sixty (60) rods more or less to the place of beginning. Subject, however, to a certain timber contract entered into between the said Sibyl Hallstead and W. B. Snider and A. L. Kilmer, dated August 14, 1908, and recorded in Sullivan County Deed Book No. 34, at page 394, etc. The said Snider and Kilmer retaining all the rights given to them under said contract according to the terms thereof.

About 30 acres improved and under a good state of cultivation; balance timbered and having erected thereon a two story frame dwelling house, a frame barn and out-buildings. Well watered and having a good orchard of fruit trees thereon and situate along the public road leading from Nordmont to Central, Pa., and being a desirable property.

Seized, taken into execution and to be sold as the property of Mrs. Sibyl Hallstead at the suit of J. J. Sick.

"What does ferment mean?" asked the teacher of the juvenile class.

"It means to work," answered Freddy.

"That's right," said the teacher. "Now, Tommy, you may write a sentence on your slate containing the word."

A few minutes later Tommy handed up the following: "Tramps don't like to ferment."—Chicago News.

Short Talks On Advertising

By Charles Austin Bates.

No. 16.

Some way or other, it always happens that the judicious advertiser succeeds. Judicious means many things. Some men better never advertise. Some things better never be advertised. Men who are not honest—who do not keep their promises—whose advertisements mislead, and whose stores disappoint—they had better let advertising alone.

"He never expects to sell to the same man twice."

and he knows it, and he doesn't advertise.

But a fairly honest business, conducted by a man who keeps pretty close to the letter of truth, it will always pay to advertise.

Most business men are careless in their statements. They have become so used to writing "biggest," "grandest," "greatest," "best," that they can only think in superlatives. They mean to be honest—probably are. They are merely careless, and failure is the price of carelessness in advertising. Maybe not absolute failure, but something very short of success.

Every advertisement should have careful consideration. All the discrepancies should be eliminated. No careless statements should be allowed. If you can't take time to attend to your advertising carefully, better cut it down. Cut off the parasites. Cut off novelties—programmes. Cut off the paper to whom you

"They can only think in superlatives."

"Failure is the price of carelessness."

"give a hundred, just to get rid of it—to keep it quiet." Cut off the paper that is too cheap to be good.

A good advertisement in the best paper will do more good—more in proportion to price—than anything else you can do. There is always a best paper in town.

A good advertisement of goods in a good paper will always pay. Always.

WILSON TAKES OFFICE

Chief Executive of New Jersey is Sworn In.

Woodrow Wilson is now the governor of New Jersey. As a salute of seventeen guns boomed forth he took the oath in Trenton, which was administered by Chief Justice W. S. Gumere, that he will bear true faith and allegiance to the government established in this state under authority of the people.

The induction of Dr. Wilson into the office of chief executive took place in the Taylor Opera House. Here the members of the senate and the assembly met in joint session, presided over by President of the Senate Ackerman, and witnessed the impressive inaugural ceremonies. Besides the lawmakers, the exercises were witnessed by 2000 people who crowded the theater to the doors.

ROBS PITTSBURG THEATRE

Well Dressed Man Holds Up Treasurer, Getting Away With $500.

A tall, well dressed stranger entered the office of the Lyceum theater, at Pittsburg, Pa., and, drawing a revolver from his pocket, ordered the treasurer, Joseph Paul, to be quiet.

Then the man robbed the office of $500. Hastily pocketing the money, he ran into the crowded street and escaped.

Not Accountable.

The Man In Bed (waking up suddenly and discovering his fellow lodger drinking his whisky)—"Ere, Mulligan! What are yer doin' with that whisky? Mulligan (with much presence of mind)—"Whist, man, whist! I'm walkin' in me slape!"—London Sketch.

Retire Accused Admiral.

The application of Rear Admiral Barry for retirement has been approved by President Taft, and he has been transferred to the retired list of the navy.

The navy department has received a telegram from Rear Admiral Thomas, who was appointed to succeed Admiral Barry, that he had assumed the command of the Pacific fleet. The navy department issued the order retiring Admiral Barry on Saturday, and advised him of that fact by telegraph.

This action was taken before the publication of the allegations that officers of the flagship West Virginia contemplated charges against the admiral reflecting upon his moral character.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer telegraphed to the Pacific coast for a full report on the allegation that the retirement of Admiral Barry was caused by the demands for his resignation by officers of the flagship West Virginia. The navy department declined to say to whom the telegram asking for a report had been sent, but it is assumed that it was directed to Rear Admiral Thomas, the new commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet.

Mind Blank Six Years.

Gaston Ketcham, fifty-two years of age, a wealthy real estate operator of Wassica, Dutchess county, returned to Poughkeepsie, N. Y., after wandering about the country with his mind a blank for nearly six weeks.

Ketcham dropped out of sight while visiting relatives in Haverhill, Mass., on Dec. 5. It was while he was waiting to have a check cashed in a bank that he was recognized and detained. Ketcham is almost a physical wreck, but his mind seems to be entirely clear again, and he says he is ready to take up business where he left off.
