The first days of spring reveal the beauties of Laporte as an ideal town; a place which residents are proud of and one from which visitors are disinclined to depart. Still there are some parts that could be made more attractive by the use of rake and rubbish cart. Clean up.

Our new bank building is undergoing some tear-down and build up operations this week. The hard storm of a few weeks ago covered the north and west sides of the brick wall and, in spite of the care and skill used in building, played some pranks with the fresh cement which is supposed to have caused the wall to bulge near the top.

It is an old proverb that "wishing and woudling never made a full sack." That just means that a man has got to put his desires into execution if he is to accomplish anything. The merchant who does nothing to attract customers to his store, who does not inform the public of the goods he has to sell, may wish and would wish for people to enter his doors and buy across his counter. It is the man who does things that wins.

Inconsistent Man.
He tells funny stories about how a woman drives a horse, and steers his automobile up a telegraph pole.
He is always adding postscripts to his letters—but he uses the long distance telephone to explain what he omitted in his business communication.
He can explain the wireless telegraphy system to his wife, but he cannot understand her description of a new bonnet.
He loves to tell of the splendid exercise of sawing wood—but he is willing to pay another man to enjoy the exercise.
He writes cards to the papers against problem plays—and swears at the ticket window if he cannot get a front seat when the ballet comes to town.
He doesn't go to church on Sunday because he wants to read the paper—but through the week he is satisfied to glance at the headlines on his way down town.

Valuable Timber Burned.
On Sunday evening fire from adjoining fields swept through the forests belonging to Mrs. Philip Karge, about two miles north of Laporte and destroyed a large amount of fine acid timber.
Had it not rained, the dwelling of the unfortunate lady would probably have been in ruins.
