Some Probable Results.

The ease with which aviators can drop dummy bombs on dummy ships and forts gives us some idea of what would happen in war if real bombs were dropped on real ships and fortresses.

In all probability, as a result of these successful experiments, we are on the eve of a radical change in naval and military construction. If a bomb dropped upon the deck of a $12,000,000 battle-ship from an aeroplane can destroy that ship or put it out of the fighting line, then the days of such ships are nearing an end. No government would be foolish enough to squander so much money and throw away the lives of a crew of a thousand men.

Such a change as above indicated would be hailed as a welcome relief in every land where the taxpayers are staggering under the load of tremendous taxation which international rivalry and jealousy imposes upon them. Indeed, it may be, that such a change may usher in the day of universal peace, for horrible as warfare on sea and land is, aerial warfare would be even more revolting.

How much better for the taxpayer, for the prosperity of a country and for mankind in general, if the money now annually spent for war-ships, which in a few years become obsolete, were spent upon schools, technical training and other things that make for human good.

The Sugar, Standard Oil and other indicted trusts stand to gain temporarily by the death of Chief Justice Fuller, especially coming as it did, so soon after the death of Justice Brewer, because it will mean a postponement of their cases. The public cannot but regret this enforced delay as it may make the possibility of conviction more difficult. But ultimately justice will be done even though it may take years to secure it.

The Dairy Industry of

The United States.

According to the last year book of the Department of Agriculture there are 21,720,000 milch cows in the United States, and these are worth $702,945,000.00. The magnitude of the industry can perhaps be best understood when it is considered that these cows produce yearly about $1,000,000,000.00 worth of dairy products.

There is no other branch of diversified agriculture so important to the progress of a community. The fertility of the soil can best be maintained by the liberal use of barnyard manure and the dairy herd not only makes this possible, but dairying is also more remunerative than other branches of farming when properly carried on.

Dairying has made wonderful progress since the advent of the modern creamery and the consumer of butter has not only been benefited but the wife in the farm home has been relieved of the drudgery incident to making butter on the farm. Where formerly the cream was ripened and churned into butter under conditions not conducive to fine quality in the finished produce and in the majority of cases by unskilled hands, now the most of the milk or cream is delivered to a modern creamery where conditions are suited to the purpose of making butter, and the result has been a wonderful improvement in the quality of our dairy products. As the quality has improved consumption has increased and the progress of dairying has been remarkable during the past decade.

The perpetuity of the country's greatness depends upon increasing the production of farm products from year to year, a result which not only furnishes our people with food but maintains the prosperity of our farming communities. Increase in production can only come through considering that the dairy cow is the foundation for soil improvement and farming prosperity, her importance is best understood and interest in her should not be confined to her owner. She is an important factor in the development and prosperity of our country.

Mr. Lyman Bullock of Lawton, Susquehanna Co., and Mrs. Vicella Salisbury of Fox Township were united under the bonds of holy matrimony on July 3, 1910, at the home of the bride's sister, Maryetta Dickenson at Wheelerville by Justice A. B. Kilmer. The wedding took place in the presence of immediate friends and relatives.

Mokoma Season Opens.

On Saturday the Mokoma Lake Amusement Co., opened their season at the lake. An excursion train running from Halls brought a lively though not a very large crowd of pleasure seekers. LaPorte turned out a good sized crowd to reinforce the out-of-towners and as a result a very pleasant day was spent. Amusements were numerous, including the merry-go-round, boating, bathing and the minor attractions which tend to make a day at Mokoma an enjoyable one.

ESTELLA.

A family reunion was held at the home of J. M. Osler at Lincoln Falls on July 2. Among those attending were four sons and their families, two daughters and their families, eighteen grand children and one great grand child, David Osler, brother of the host, and wife Albert Kaye and wife, and Dell Brown and family. The day was spent in merry-making, songs and recitations.

Lightning Kills Two Students. Two University of Illinois students, Robert Chambers, of Oklahoma City, and Jesse Treakee, of Peoria, Ill., were killed by lightning on the summit of Mount Pisgah, in Colorado. Their bodies were found under a big pine tree that had been shattered by the bolt.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR

TALE THAT TAFT TOLD.

Democrat's Remark Reminded Him of a Ducky Story.

While spending the winter in Georgia, before his inauguration as President, Mr. Taft went to the city of Athens to deliver an address to the students of the University of Georgia. He met a member of the faculty—a staunch Democrat—who said: "Judge, I voted the Democratic ticket, but wanted to see you win." Judge Taft replied: "You remind me of the story of Brer Jasper and Brer Johnson, who were both deacons in the Shilo Baptist Church, although avowed enemies. 'Brer Jasper died and the other deacons told Brer Johnson he must say something good about the deceased on Sunday night. At first he declined, but finally consented. 'Sunday night, when time for the eulogy arrived, he arose slowly and said: 'Brederen and Sisteren, I promised ter say sump'n good 'bout Deacon Jasper to-night, an' I will say we all hopes he's gone whar we knows he ain't.'—Uncle Remus' Magazine.

A FAMILY RESEMBLANCE.

She—How very much alike you and your sister are, Mr. Jenks.
He—Oh, yes; we're frequently mistaken for each other.

Staggering.

Suffragette—What is a party without women?
Mere Man (flippantly)—A stag party.

Suffragette—Exactly. And what, sir, would this nation be without women but stagnation?

Not All Guilty.

"Move inside, gents," cried the conductor on the crowded trolley, "ye're breakin' the rules standin' on the platform here."
"Some o' them ain't," piped up a little man; "they're standin' on my feet."

Ruling Passion.

"I knew Butts' smoking would get him into trouble."

"Well?"

"At his wedding, when it came to the ring part, he reached into his pocket and handed the minister a match."

A Question of Courage.

Ted—If a fellow wants to make love to a widow how long should he wait after her husband's death?

Red—That depends altogether on how much nerve he has.
