State Sunday School Convention.
The 46th annual convention of the State Sunday School Association held in Altoona, was opened by a song rendered by a trained choir of 100 singers under the leadership of Prof. E. O. Excell. Delegates were present from every county in the State.

There are 38 front line counties that have qualified in all of the ten points of excellence, among them being Sullivan, Lycoming, Columbia, Bradford, Luzerne and Wyoming. This is the second year that Sullivan County has been a front liner. There were 1,512 classes and 14,936 students at work in the Teacher Training work during the year. Examinations were taken by 8,936 students.

The parade of Adult Bible Classes on Friday evening was viewed by the delegates of the convention and more than half of the population of the city. Possibly 3,000 men marched over the streets of the city to the stirring notes of "Onward Christian Soldiers."

The town of New Castle was chosen as the place of meeting in 1911. Of the 11,652 Sunday Schools in the State, 2,089 are using the graded lessons. Only five counties in the state are not using them. Men and women from all over the state, from every county and nearly town, all intent upon learning the best method of teaching men and women, boys and girls, the way of righteousness, met in Altoona. The workers from all parts of the states gathered together to discuss what has been done for the Sunday Schools during the past year, and to plan for greater things to be accomplished during the coming year.

STAND FAST!!

Our Democratic fellow citizens are as honest and well meaning as ourselves, but their party leaders generally, (whatever they may put into their platform) have no fixed principles and only one object in view, which is to defeat the Republican party by any means in their power, and install themselves in the public offices of trust and profit.

They talk about REPUBLICAN fiscal policy! Wm. M. Tweed, the Tammany Democratic boss of New York City, and of the whole State was a brigand without an equal in the world. He stole millions from the public funds to buy votes and build himself a palace, and died in prison. Richard Croker, one of his Democratic successors, declared publicly that he "was in politics for the money there was in it." His embezzlements were enormous but too deeply hiddeh to be punished.

There are now no indications that a new party is coming into the field which will be able to thrust the old parties aside. The Keystone party (an offshoot of the Democratic party) is confined to Pennsylvania. Its candidate for Governor is a Democrat "dyed in the wool," and has never claimed to be anything but a Democrat. He is only a "decoy duck" to lure Republicans into the Democratic trap.

Third parties have frequently sprung up, but have had only a short existence, and never accomplished any good work. Either the Republican or the Democratic party will control the United States Government in 1912. Which shall it be?

There are divisions in the Republican party as there were in the early christian church, but they are differences which should not divide—only differences of opinion, which should not separate friends, and it is the duty of all good Republicans to exercise an enlarged christian charity, and labor for the principles of the Republican party. We glory in its history. It stood up for the rights of man when the Democratic party stood up for the rights of property in slaves. It stood by the nation's flag when many of the Democratic party faltered. It gave the colored laborers the right to their labor and will never permit white or colored laborers to be trampled in the dust by soulless corporations. It is the party of civilization, of progress and moral reform. It is full of vitality and will have a triumphant future because it is right and Republicans love it, and when danger threatens will forget their differences of opinion and stand by it. It is clothed with invincibility and will never die until it puts off its sacred vestments by the abandonment of its principles, or is slaughtered in the house of its friends by some mistaken Brutus.

You Can Live One Year For What You Now Spend to Live 8 Months

If you could buy all the groceries you need to last you an entire year for what it now costs you to live only eight months, that would mean a big saving to you. That is exactly what our proposition means to you, and we are very anxious to have you give us an opportunity of proving that we can save you at least one-third on all your grocery bills. If you will write a letter or a postal card today—right now—and say, "Please send me your grocery catalogue for September and October," the day your letter reaches us we will send you this very valuable catalogue to you by mail, postpaid. No matter what you need in groceries, you are sure to find it listed in the pages of this free grocery catalogue and at a considerable reduction from the usual retail prices. We give you in this advertisement just a few quotations taken from our Chicago grocery catalogue which will show you the prices we regularly charge for these well known articles. Compare these prices with the prices you have been in the habit of paying and we are very sure you will find that the saving is well worth while.

Another interesting feature of this special grocery catalogue (which we will be glad to send you free) is the fact that we offer our very best values in other lines of merchandise in its pages from time to time. This grocery catalogue is issued new every sixty days because grocery prices fluctuate more or less, and oftentimes we find that we are overstocked on certain lines of seasonal goods, or the factories which have supplied us are unable to supply sufficient quantities for another season's cataloguing, and for many other reasons we frequently sacrifice the stock on hand, and when such occasions arise we offer these special bargains in our grocery catalogue. You will be surprised to learn how often you will be able to save even one-half or two-thirds of the usual prices on high grade, seasonable merchandise. It is therefore not only a valuable book because it quotes the lowest possible prices on high grade pure foods, but also because it brings you very unusual offerings on other lines of merchandise which you require from time to time.

Why Our Prices Are So Low
Our methods of buying and selling merchandise are unlike the methods employed by retailers generally. We buy our merchandise in the primary markets from the manufacturer, or the producer, or the grower, and then pass them along to you with just one small margin of profit added. As a consequence, you pay none of the expenses which are added in the selling price of goods sold by the average retailer who buys from jobbers and producers and traveling men, because there are no commissions or profits in our prices to wholesalers, jobbers, manufacturers' agents, no expenses to traveling men and their hotel bills and railroad fares. You have no idea how much our new method of buying and distributing merchandise have reduced cost to you. Every page is filled with interesting price quotations. We number millions of customers who find it profitable and very satisfactory to send us their orders; and if you will spend one cent for a postal card and get this free book, we feel sure that it will show you a new and better way to secure groceries and other goods you need from time to time. Write us today and address us at the store nearest you, 19th and Campbell Streets, Kansas City, or Chicago Avenue Bridge, Chicago.

A most unfortunate accident happened to Lawrence Zaner, the 6 years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Zaner, of Cherry township, on Sunday morning. He received a very bad fracture of the skull. How it happened is not yet known, as in his serious condition the doctor advised not to question the boy about it. Mrs. Zaner, the boy's mother, found him lying outside of the barn, badly injured. On the way to the house his mother asked if the horse kicked him. He answered by shaking his head. Mrs. Zaner did not ask him again as his mind was not clear. The doctors were summoned and after an examination found a bad fracture of the skull. Two pieces of bone about one inch in size, were taken out, also several splintered pieces of bone. He had a rather restless night Monday night, but Tuesday he was much brighter and the doctors entertain strong hopes for his speedy recovery.—Dushore Review.
