

QUEER DISEASE IS IN UNITED STATES

Many Here Afflicted With Odd Ailment, Says Prof. Munyon.

GREWSOME CREATURES VERY COMMON, FINDS EXPERT.

Many people in the United States are afflicted with a queer disease, according to a statement yesterday by Professor James M. Munyon. He made the following remarkable and rather grewsome statement:

"Many persons who come and write to my headquarters at 53d and Jefferson Sts., Philadelphia, Pa., think they are suffering from a simple stomach trouble, when in reality they are the victims of an entirely different disease—that of tape worm. These tape worms are huge internal parasites, which locate in the upper bowel and consume a large percentage of the nutriment in undigested food. They sometimes grow to a length of forty to sixty feet. One may have a tape worm for years and never know the cause of his or her ill health.

"Persons who are suffering from one of these creatures become nervous, weak and irritable, and tire at the least exertion. The tape worms rob one of ambition and vitality and strength, but they are rarely fatal.

"The victim of this disease is apt to believe that he is suffering from chronic stomach trouble, and doctors for years without relief. This is not the fault of the physicians he consults, for there is no absolute diagnosis that will tell positively that one is not a victim of tape worm.

"The most common symptom of this trouble is an abnormal appetite. At times the person is ravenously hungry and cannot get enough to eat. At other times the very sight of food is loathsome. There is a gnawing, faint sensation at the pit of the stomach, and the victim has headaches, dizziness and nausea. He cannot sleep at night and often thinks he is suffering from nervous prostration.

"I have a treatment which has had wonderful success in eliminating these great creatures from the system. In the course of its regular action in aiding digestion, and ridding the blood, kidneys and liver of impurities it has proven fatal to these great worms. If one has a tape worm, this treatment will, in nine cases out of ten, stupify and pass it away, but if not, the treatment will rebuild the run-down person, who is probably suffering from stomach trouble and a general anemic condition. My doctors report marvelous success here with this treatment. Fully a dozen persons have passed these worms, but they are naturally reticent about discussing them, and of course we cannot violate their confidence by giving their names to the public."

Letters addressed to Professor James M. Munyon, 53d and Jefferson Streets, Philadelphia, Pa., will receive as careful attention as though the patient called in person. Medical advice and consultation absolutely free. Not a penny to pay.

A man who gives his children habits of industry provides for them better than by giving them a fortune.—Whately.

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and an enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

EXERCISE CARE IN SELECTING PARENT STOCK FOR BREEDING

Breeders Do Not Give Sufficient Thought to Individuality, Size, Bone, Substance and Soundness—Temper or Temperament Not Considered, Speed Being One Object Sought for.

A Good Horse of His Breed—A Hackney.

(By CAPT. A. H. WADDELL)

If we are good judges of human nature, or able to judge others by their biographers, we should feel very much inclined to lay a $10 bill to a 10c piece that the wily "Richard" who once made himself hoarse shouting "A Horse, a Horse, my Kingdom for a Horse," wanted a good one.

Richard had just killed five Richmonds, or thought he had, and was looking for another when his horse was killed under him, and when he uttered his memorable words. Yes, he wanted a horse and he wanted one badly enough, but, he wanted a good one.

A good horse was what he wanted, good horses are what we all want, and it is only the large breeder who can really tell us, how many bad horses he breeds, for one good one that he sells. This is in large measure due to haphazard methods in breeding; breeders are not careful enough in the selection of their parent stock, nor do they take pains enough to ascertain the peculiarities and characteristics of the families from which the parent stock comes.

In the trotting horse everything has been neglected for speed, and in the thoroughbred in this country, nothing but this element has been considered; the result is too well known to be recapitulated. Notwithstanding this nobody seems to try to remedy the defects that this near sightedness has produced. There is not one trotting horse in a thousand whose anatomical formation, physical and constitutional soundness, will permit him to become a 2:10 trotter, nor is there one race horse in the same number that can gallop a mile in first class company with any chance of winning, for the same reason.

Breeders do not give sufficient care to individuality, size, bone, substance, and soundness; they never think of temper or temperament and only consider speed, which, although inherited on both sides is useless in a weakling.

Stamps and types of horses and ponies have been bred which are well exemplified in the Shire, Clydesdale, Suffolk, Percheron, Belgian and Hackney. Why cannot this obtain in some measure at least in the trotter and thoroughbred in America? It does in other countries and why should it not?

here, in the greatest and most lavishly, bestowed by nature for the purpose?

The American is the best business man in the world, as good a horseman as can be produced anywhere, and is always looking for the straightest way of getting to a certain point, and has certainly succeeded in surprising the world in this direction. He has produced the most extraordinary light harness horse that has ever been heard of, when speed alone is considered, and also some of the fastest thoroughbreds, and it seems that the time has not arrived when more care should be shown in the selection of horses for breeding purposes, so as to be able to produce sounder, bigger, and better individuals.

SUMMER WORK FOR CHICKENS

Where There Is Not Perfectly Comfortable Poultry House on Farm One Should be Provided This Summer.

(By MILLER PUVIS)

If there is not a perfectly comfortable poultry house on the farm, one should be planned and provided this summer, at least before cold weather sets in, for it is poor planning to put off providing a warm poultry house until the time arrives for its use. A comfortable poultry house need not be a costly one nor a particularly warm one. Every poultry house should have two rooms with a tight partition between them. If it is built in this way, the flock may be crowded into one room when very cold weather comes, and the heat of their bodies will keep the room warm. A hen does not feel the cold as quickly as a man does, for her blood is five per cent. warmer naturally, and if she can sleep where there is no draft blowing on her she will be very comfortable in a room in which the temperature runs as low as 10 to 12 degrees below the freezing point.

Sheep Will Eat Roots.

If too many sheep are confined on a pasture they will eat the grass roots right out of the ground.

ASPARAGUS PLANT IS HARDY

Asparagus may be started from seed and come into size for table use at the third year. Seed may be planted as late as mid-summer.

It requires about six weeks for the seed to germinate and come up. The young plants may be cultivated in rows as other garden vegetables and set in permanent rows or beds this fall or next spring.

The asparagus plant is doubly useful. The young shoots can be used for food and the foliage branches for decoration. Sprays of asparagus are pleased by few other plants for their pleasing effect in decoration.

The plants are very hardy, will stand all kinds of treatment, but will respond liberally to good treatment and will thrive in one place for ten to twenty years. The illustration shows a method of planting asparagus in a French nursery house.

Miss Chittenden's Purse

"Well, of course, something has happened?"

"Yes, papa."

"You've lost your purse again?"

"Yes."

"And $50 with it!"

"No, papa—only about $6 this time."

"Only! Only! Only $6! You speak as if we had thousands to throw away—as if $6 were only six shingle nails! Well, this is positively the last time that I trust you with more than half a dollar at once. Seventeen different times in the last two years you have lost your purse!"

That was the home-coming of Miss Gladys Chittenden as she got back to Bridgeport from a run down to the city to do some shopping. Miss Gladys was the daughter of ex-Judge Chittenden, retired from the bench and raising a few chickens and making himself disagreeable to the neighbors on the block where he dwelt. He was a widower, and the girl was his only child.

Miss Gladys had lost her purse—lost it in the usual way. She had been behind time in her shopping and had made a rush for the depot and her train at the last minute. In buying her ticket she had left her purse on the shelf and made a run for the gate.

The next person to approach the ticket window after Miss Gladys was Mr. Will Anderson, a young architect. He wanted to make some inquiries about trains. He had taken notice of the young lady, and when the purse fell under his eyes he lost a minute in wondering and then hurried after her.

But she was gone. Mr. Anderson pocketed the purse and started for his office. He had the plans of a skyscraper on his desk, but what is a skyscraper compared to a young and handsome and unknown girl? He let the plans lie and took careful note of the contents of the purse; $6 in cash, a key to a trunk, a bit of red ribbon, a square of court-plaster, a tiny little knife—and three or four address cards.

He had the clew, "Miss Gladys Chittenden, Bridgeport, Conn." No street—no number.

Three days later found Mr. Anderson in Bridgeport. It wasn't much of a task to find the family of Chittenden.

"Permit me," said Mr. Anderson as he halted and presented his card.

"Architect, eh?" growled the judge after putting on his glasses and reading the name. "Well, you can go right on! I was fool enough to have an architect plan this house, and he had the stairways all running down cellar instead of upstairs."

"Your daughter, sir—"

"Never you mind my daughter. She doesn't want any chicken coops built!"

"She was in the city the other day, and—"

"And it's none of your business if she was!"

Mr. Anderson turned and went back to the depot and took the train for home. He would send the purse by mail. He would send it by express. He would send it by messenger—by a big, husky messenger who would throw the judge over his own gate if he didn't improve his conduct. No, he would do nothing of the kind. He wouldn't be bluffed. He would see Miss Gladys and explain, and then proceed to fall in love with and marry her if his life paid the forfeit.

He worked on those skyscraper plans for three days and then hid him away to Bridgeport again.

The judge was standing right there at his open gate again, and he was in even a worse temper than before.

He recognized the architect half a block away, and was ready to cry out at him.

"Didn't I say I did not require your services!"

"I have not offered them," was the calm reply.

"Well, that's all right, but will you look at that mud heap right here on the best street in town!"

"Official laxity, I should say."

"That's it—that's it! We have got a board, sir, that doesn't know enough to pound sand. Why, it doesn't know sand when it sees it!"

"I agree with you, and the members should be stirred up."

"You agree, eh? Shake hands. Excuse me if I was a little blunt the other day."

"Your daughter, sir. She was in New York, and—"

"Come in—come in. Gladys happens to be home now."

And when they had entered the house and stood before the daughter, he continued:

"Gladys, gentleman to see you. He agrees with me perfectly as to the board of public works."

The story of the lost and found purse came out, and was laughed over, and the judge chuckled and slapped his leg, and Miss Gladys blushed as she thanked the finder, and half an hour slipped away very pleasantly.

In taking his departure Mr. Anderson suggested that the police ought to be shaken up to their duty, and the judge shook hands over that and invited him to call again, and taken all around the hoped-for romance began to appear. There were other trips to Bridgeport, and the plans of the skyscraper were finished, and it was only six months later that the judge said to his daughter one day:

"Egad, but Anderson agrees with me that taxes are twice too high here, and if I ever have a son-in-law—"

But Miss Gladys ran away.

HAD CAUGHT THEM.

He (after he had kissed her)—My! what's that noise back of you? She—I guess papa's trying his new motion picture machine.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

So Weak From Kidney Trouble She Could Not Arise in Bed.

Mrs. H. W. Bowles, 14 Ellis St., Augusta, Ga., says: "Kidney trouble came on me with terrible, burning pains through my back that so weakened me I could scarcely walk. Kidney secretions were filled with sediment, sluggish and very unnatural. I became so helpless I was compelled to take to my bed and could not arise without assistance. I was in despair as neither doctor nor the various remedies I used helped me in the least. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me immediately and made me a strong, healthy woman. I have been well ever since."
