We, the undersigned Auditors of Laporte Township, having audited the above accounts find them correct to the best of our knowledge.

Nuremberg.
 Nuremberg was once almost the richest and most famous town in Europe. The well known saying of Pope Plus II, that a Nuremberg citizen was better off than a Scottish King was justified by the accounts that have been preserved of the town and its burghers. In the fifteenth century there came from Nuremberg the first watches, known as "Nuremberg eggs"; the first cannon, the first gun lock, the first wire drawing machine, the clarinet, certain descriptions of pottery and the art of painting on glass. For 900 years its walls defended the valley of the Pegnitz against all enemies. Four hundred towers once topped the walls, but only about a third of them now remain.

Old Laws Against Smoking.
 Prussia's laws at one time inflicted penalties for smoking, not only in railway carriages, but in any public place. In 1840 the prohibition was so far relaxed as to allow cigar smoking in the streets, provided the lighted end of the cigar was protected by a kind of wire cage, which was supposed to obviate the risk of fire from flying sparks. This was soon found to be an unworkable regulation, and after endless petitions the government allowed the smoking of naked cigars in public. But until 1848 any smoker retaining his pipe or cigar in his mouth when passing a sentry or an officer in uniform was liable to a term of imprisonment.

No Sale.
 "I should like," said a book canvasser to a merchant whose sanctum he had invaded, "to call your attention to a little work which I have here."
 "And I will call your attention to a mighty mass of work which I have here," replied the man at the desk.

BIG APE ATTACKS OFFICER

Huge Orang-Outang Broke From His Cage on Ship and Had to Be Killed.

Charlestown, Mass.—A thrilling fight between a giant orang-outang and half a dozen men was described by the officers of the British steamship Pathan, which arrived here recently from the far east.

One day when the vessel was emerging from the Mediterranean into the Atlantic the orang-outang wrenched the steel bars loose and made its way on deck. Mr. Pedday, the purser, was alone on deck and was leaning against the rail, unconscious of impending danger. Stealthily the animal approached and in a moment was on the purser's back, its paws closing on his throat. Mr. Pedday's screams brought the second officer, Mr. Wilcox, and several sailors to the scene. Mr. Wilcox picked up a heavy belaying pin and after a sharp struggle ended the existence of the purser's savage assailant.

Curfew in London.
 Although we do not ring the curfew bell to clear the streets of children, its warning sound can still be heard in one place in London. This is at Lincoln's inn, where its ringing is a relic of medieval times, when barristers and students lived in the inn and were subject to the despotic rule of the benchers in such matters long after there was a legal necessity for "lights out" at 9 p. m. Now Lincoln's inn is deserted in the evening save by watchmen and the police and perhaps the ghosts of all the parties in Jarndyce and Jarndyce, who may revisit the scene of their litigation—the old hall which remains as Dickens described it in the wonderful opening chapter of "Bleak House."—London Chronicle.

VICIOUS MULE TOSSES SHOER TWENTY FEET

Grabs Blacksmith by Seat of Pants and Throws Him Across the Shop.

Linton, Ind.—E. B. Martindale's estate, incorporated, is made defendant in a suit for damages brought by James B. Dillon, on a charge that is not of the ordinary. Clayton Baker, who is employed on the Martindale farm of 1,200 acres, located southeast of Linton, took a mule to Dillon, who is a blacksmith, to be shod.

Baker knew the animal was vicious, according to the allegations of the complaint, but said nothing to Dillon about it. Dillon proceeded with his work, and while stooping over shoeing a fore foot the animal seized him by the pants with its teeth and threw him twenty feet. He alighted on an iron floor with such violence that the tendons of one leg were torn loose and his left knee was fractured so that he is still compelled to walk on crutches though the injuries were sustained last May. He alleges he will be a cripple for life and asks damages in the sum of $6,000. The defendant is the estate of the late Elijah B. Martindale of Indianapolis.

The Burning Question.
 Venus was rising from the sea. "Great Jupiter!" cried the men as they crowded the beach. "How did you lose your arms?"
 "But the women never noticed the arms."
 "In the name of all that is wonderful," they chimed, "how do you keep your hair in curl in salt water?"—Judge.

Dr. Miles' Nervine bought a bottle and began to get better from the start, and for the past six months I have had scarcely any pain and am able to walk as well as ever." J.H. SANDERS, P. O. box 5, Rockaway, N. J.

Few medicines are of any benefit for rheumatism, but Mr. Sanders tells plainly what Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine did for it. One ounce of salicylate of soda added to one bottle of Nervine makes an excellent remedy for rheumatism, which is now known to be a nervous disease and therefore subject to the influence of a medicine that acts through the nerves, as does Dr. Miles' Nervine Sufferers from rheumatism seldom fail to find relief in the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine, with salicylate of soda.

Sold under a guarantee that assures the return of the price of the first bottle if it fails to benefit. At all Druggists. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.
