done me. I live on a farmandhaveworked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has helped her.

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pink-ham's Vegetable Compound. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to your wonderful medicine."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for woman's ills

CHILDREN CLAD LIKE ESKIMOS

Hooded, Bundled and Booted Study at Tubercular School

THEY ENDURE ZERO WEATHER SAY COUNCIL IS RESPONSIBLE

Some of Them Are Cured, and All Are Made Sturdier-Successful Experiment With Open Air Teaching at Hazleton.

Hazleton.-This city has come forward with the new idea in school work—a school for children afflicted with tuberculosis in the first stagesthe real open-air school, where the children are at work, a stranger passing along and seeing them in their strange garb, might mistake them for a band of Eskimos, just arrived from the Arctic regions. Their garb is so comfortable that they can endure the worst sort of winter weather, and would be fair competitors to the Eskimos were they suddenly taken to the frigid regions. In 1910 Hazleton branched out, through the glad hand of annexation, and welcomed into the city proper territory formerly embraced by the Hazle township school district. This added 23 schools to the This added 23 schools to city proper, and increased the instructors' force to upward of 100 teachers. But after that 60 teachers had to look after 2200 children, and a new $50,000 high school building took the place of the annexed district's old one, and thus the latter was destined to become the real first air school. As a rule tuberculosis is prevalent among miners to a larger per cent. than among other industrial workers. This was one reason why there was a need for the local State Tuberculosis Dispensary in this city, in charge of Dr. William C. Gayley. Coming in contact with hundreds of families during a year Dr. Gayley soon saw the need of some kind of a school for a great number of children afflicted with this disease. For many months he gave the problem careful study, and when he finally arrived at a plan he unfolded it to the school authorities, and Superintendent David A. Harman was the first one to come to his assistance, and then they were reinforced by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hazleton Tuberculosis Society, an

It is the heaviest sentence in Criminal Court in a long while. Klein pleaded guilty to 16 additional counts.

MORE DEAD IN COATESVILLE

Number of Fatalities in Typhoid Epidemic is Twenty.

Local Paper, Contending That It Voices Public Opinion, Makes Demand for Immediate Resignation in a Body-Threats of Death.

(Special Harrisburg Correspondence.) Harrisburg.-Following the occurrence of three more deaths from the typhoid epidemic, making a total of 20 fatalities traceable directly to the pollution of the water supply system, the resignation of the Borough Council in a body was demanded by the Coatesville Record.

The article in the Record claims to voice the sentiment of the citizens of the stricken borough, and it scathingly arraigns the members of the Council. The editorial, demanding that the members of the Council resign in a body, is in part as follows:

"At noon today the awful toll from typhoid stood at 20; of the more than 200 persons ill with fever a doz-en were reported to be in a condition in which the scales of life and death were balancing. Practically every business house on Main street was closed, while the town was burying its honored dead.

"The State has laid the blame for the typhoid epidemic directly at the doors of the Council. Unless something is done this same Council will be in charge of improvements which, with the completion of a permanent water supply and a sewage disposal plant, will cost several hundred thousand dollars.

"Profiting by the lessons so dearly learned, burned into their brain by the hand of death, should this Council take up the work demanded by the State, build and manage these im-provements with all the skill any group of men could possibly devise, the finger of doubt would still be pointed at them, because they had been previously confronted with an emergency and failed.

"When things have reached a condition that grief-stricken parents give open expression to a wish to stand up certain members of Council in a row and then shoot them down through the heart, these Councilmen, if they have any spark of humanity left, should no longer desire to hold

Shot With a Knife.

Years ago in a stock performance of a famous old melodrama, the villain, Charles Wolcott, suddenly discovered that he had left his revolver in the dressing room. In much confusion, he fumbled in his pocket and found a penknife which, he figured, would do just as well for the bloody deed. Imagine his consternation when, after plunging the blade into the hero's breast, that player failed to change his lines and screamed at the top of his voice: "Heaven forgive you! I'm shot.

FROM THE NORTH COUNTRY Where the Winters Are Cold and the Snows Deep.

Writing from the vicinity David Harum made famous, a man says that he was an habitual coffee drinker, and, although he knew it was doing him harm, was too obstinate to give it up, till all at once he went to pieces with nervousness and insomnia, loss of appetite, weakness, and a generally used-up feeling, which practically unfitted him for his arduous occupation, and kept him on a couch at home when his duty did not call him out. "While in this condition Grape-Nuts food was suggested to me, and I began to use it. Although it was in the middle of winter, and the thermometer was often below zero, almost my entire living for about six weeks of severe exposure was on Grape-Nuts food with a little bread and butter and a cup of hot water, till I was wise enough to make Postum my table bev-

"After the first two weeks I began to feel better and during the whole winter I never lost a trip on my mail route, frequently being on the road 7 or 8 hours at a time. "The constant marvel to me was how a person could do the amount of work and endure the fatigue and hardship as I did, on so small an amount of food. But I found my new rations so perfectly satisfactory that I have continued them—using both Postum and Grape-Nuts at every meal, and often they comprise my entire meal.

"All my nervousness, irritability and msomnia have disappeared and healthy. natural sleep has come back to me. But what has been perhaps the greatest surprise to me is the fact that with the benefit to my general health has come a remarkable improvement in my eye-sight.

"If a good appetite, good digestion, good eye-sight, strong nerves and an active brain are to be desired, I can say from my own experience, use Grape-Nuts and Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
