forily. In two or three weth after planting it will be found that each potato is covered with tiny white points which several days later change into little potatoes that grow rapidly.

When the little potatoes are rea sonably large they may be carefully removed, leaving in place the old potatoes, which continue to bear. Several weeks later another crop may be gathered and even a third. The budding continues until the parent tuber is completely exhausted and nothing remains of it but the skin.

In case sprouts push forth on the potatoes they must be cut off with seisors. Potatoes grown in this way have one very excellent; ultry have so thin a skin that it may be simply washed off. No erroring or paring is necessary scraping or paring is necessary. They also have an excellent flavor and are firmer than ordinary farm grown varieties, with less tendency to soften.-New York World.

At last, however, nothing remained but the choice between slavery and absolute independence. Delegates from each of the thirteen colonies met in Philadelphia in the early summer of 1776 to make that choice.

And without one dissenting vote they declared for liberty.

Thomas Jefferson, a young lawyer and farmer, drew up a paper embody-ing the colonies' deliance of oppression and their intention to form a nation for themselves, independent of every foreign power.
