BIDS OPENED FOR ROAD JOBS

Highway Commissioner Bigelow Makes Three Awards.

START WORK IN TEN DAYS

Delegations Urged That Construction Should Begin on Buckhorn Road in Blair County and Roads in McKean and Potter Counties.

(Special Harrisburg Correspondence.)
Harrisburg.—Bids for construction of three sections of main highway were opened by Highway Commissioner E. M. Bigelow and awards made to the lowest bidder with instructions to start work within ten days. In addition announcement was posted that bids for other sections would be opened in addition to the bids for sign posts. The bids opened were as follows: Bucks county, route No. 165, Philadelphia to New Jersey State line, 45,460 feet in Bucks county; Union Paving Co., Philadelphia, $169,787.26; William C. Evans, Ambler, $194,227.80; The Monroe Paving Co., Philadelphia, $195,907.90; H. G. Hinkle, Inc., Altoona, $202,038.56 and $240,831.20.

Lancaster county, route 142, Lancaster to Philadelphia, 10,334 feet in Salisbury township; George C. Souder, Lancaster, $31,280.08; Bennet & Sons, Indiana, $32,569.95; Thomas E. McManus, Lancaster, $39,927.34; Fogle & Co., Hollidaysburg, $40,299.04; The Juniata Co., Philadelphia, $42,456.58.

Fayette county, 1,337 feet in Wharton township; Wyoming Valley Construction Co., West Nanticoke, $5,196.80; Charles T. Eastburn, Yardley, $5,706.90.

In addition to opening bids the commissioner received two delegations one headed by Senator Enos N. Jones, of Altoona, who asked that work be started at an early date on the "Buckhorn" road in Blair county and the other composed of citizens of McKean and Potter counties, headed by Senator Frank E. Baldwin, who urged early work on roads near Port Allegany.

Onions in Danger.

Dr. H. A. Surface, the State's Zoologist, has discovered that the onion crop, along with some others, is in danger of being damaged by a pest which flourishes because of the unusual weather conditions prevailing in the State. Numerous reports have been received by Dr. Surface from farmers and truck gardeners that they are being annoyed for the first time in many years by an onion worm. The methods of the worm are a puzzle to farmers many of whom did not know it was working until they saw their plants suddenly wilt and die. Dr. Surface says that the worm gets inside and bores around. It is the maggot from the egg of an onion fly, which has been rare thus far, and, once it attacks a plant, there is no remedy. The Zoologist says that a kerosene spray should be used on the ground around the onion bed when the small onions are set out after the "onion snow."

Repairs of Highways.

Repair work on several of the highways in Perry county which have been taken over as State main highway routes will be started within the next ten days by the force of men which Charles P. Walter, road superintendent for Dauphin and Perry counties, is organizing. It is probable that the first work will be done between Marysville and Duncannon, and then in the vicinity of Newport after which roads near New Bloomfield will receive attention. Walter's corps is now working on the repairs between Middletown and Conewago and between Rutherford and Hummelstown. Within a short time another force will be put to work on the Lykens Valley roads. The Cumberland county work will be in charge of the new superintendent for that county, and will include the road between Wormleysburg and Marysville passing through Enola.

Fined for Diseased Cattle.

Dr. C. J. Marshall, State Veterinarian, said that the arrest and fining of Aaron Schick, of Lancaster, on the charge of shipping diseased cows from Lancaster to Jersey City was an example of the manner in which the United States government is co-operating with the State Livestock Sanitary Board in checking such actions on the part of unscrupulous cattle dealers. He expects more arrests to be made.

Food Law Prosecutions.

Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust came home from Pittsburgh and is preparing some vigorous prosecutions for failure to observe food laws in that city.

Weights and Measures.

Lewistown borough officials have made some inquiries of Chief Sweeney of the State Bureau of Standards about the methods of operating the law governing weights and measures, and it is possible that officials will be named for the work. Thus far five boroughs and ten cities have availed themselves of the law.

USE DOCTORS AS CATSPAWS

Makers of Worthless Medicines Denounced by Drug Men.

SUPERVISOR FOR PRODUCTS

Speaker at Meeting of Pharmaceutical Association Prophesied Death of Ethical Pharmacy—Replaced by Commercial Drug Store.

Buena Vista Springs.—The death knell of the ethical pharmacy and its replacement by the commercial drug store was the announcement made by Richard H. Lackey, of Philadelphia, at the thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association here. In reviewing trade conditions, Lackey said: "Our business has been revolutionized and is noted for the necessity of putting in side lines to compensate for the loss of business partly due to dispensing by physicians and in the keener competition arising from the desire to maintain volume of sales. The transformation from the professional pharmacy to the commercial drug store means that the profits of the old time apothecary are a thing of the past. The solution, for us, is in the adoption of modern business methods and the management of the store in a scientific way."

Equally disconcerting to the large number of pharmacists in attendance was the declaration by Dr. F. E. Stewart, of Philadelphia, that the demand created by misleading advertising for worthless medicines was a menace to the public health. "The manufacturers of such medicines," he declared, "have been using the physicians and the pharmacists as catspaws to pull their chestnuts out of the fire. During the last thirty years tens of thousands of new remedies have been introduced, not one-tenth of one percent of which have warranted the claims made for them. This means that thousands of useless experiments have been made in hospitals and private practice by physicians who have been misled." Dr. Stewart suggested that there be a national board of control to censor the claims of manufacturers of all new products and that sweeping changes be made in the existing patent and trade mark laws.

Must Refund $900.

West Chester.—The County Commissioners, following an inquiry into charges of graft in the office of Sanders M. Collins, late clerk of the courts, decided that Collins must refund $900, the amount in excess of wages that he is alleged to have taken credit for paying to Deputy Hilborn D. Ingram and Miss Lelah M. King, clerk, the past year. The commissioners held that they could not go back more than one year. Collins, who had been summoned to appear before the commissioners, seemed pleased at the comparatively small amount that he has to refund, and upon leaving for home remarked that "It is now all over, and I will return to my home in London-grove and devote my time to my fine crops of corn and potatoes, and during my idle moments will read my book of poems by Robert Burns. I thank my friends for the good will expressed, and to those whose 'conscience' troubles them I have nothing but pity." Collins was lately a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Representative and was a member of the old Courthouse Glee Club.

Jealousy Causes Tragedy.

Lancaster.—After publicly declaring that his wife had been too attentive to another man, David Brackbill, fifty years old, a constable of Manheim, who has been separated from his spouse of the past two weeks, went to Ephrata where his wife and daughter have been residing and after shooting the older woman dead, turned the weapon on himself, inflicting a wound from which he died two hours later. There has been trouble in the Brackbill family for several weeks and a short time ago Mrs. Brackbill left her husband.

Bullets As Pay for Debt.

Pottsville.—Testimony from the lips of a man now in his grave, was used to convict Stephen Fabley, on trial here for the murder of George Owens at Lincoln on May 7, as Owens' ante-mortem statement was admitted in court. In his statement Owens asserted that Fabley owed him $6 and he went to collect the money. Fabley shot him. Officers who arrested Fabley testified that the latter, not satisfied with the slow manner in which Owens was dying, struggled to get loose so that he could kill him more quickly.

Drowns Herself in Barrel.

Honesdale.—Under the close scrutiny of coroner Peterson, the supposed murder of Miss Sophie Herman, 55 years old, on the Lackner Farm, near Equinunk, and the assumed forcing of the body into a half-filled barrel, has simmered down to a plain case of suicide. The contorted features and disarranged clothing, which seemed to point to foul play, were evidences of the woman's death struggle when she became wedged in the barrel with her head submerged in two feet of water at the bottom.

Didn't Know What It Was.

Senator Duncan U. Fletcher was condemning at a dinner in Jacksonville an orange grower who had failed. "The man failed," he said, "through ignorance. He lays the blame on other things, but his ignorance alone is at fault. He is ignorant of orange farming as the tramp was of industry. You've heard of that tramp, perhaps? He wore on his face a sneer of derision and scorn. 'Work?' he said. 'Work? What is it—an herb?'"

DOCTOR PRESCRIBES CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I wish to let you know of a couple of recent cures which I have made by the use of the Cuticura Remedies. Last August, Mr. _____ of this city came to my office, troubled with a severe skin eruption. At first I could not understand the nature of the case until I had made a careful examination. I finally traced it to his occupation, as he was a painter and decorator. It was dermatitis in its worst form. It started with a slight eruption and would affect most parts of his body—thighs, elbows, chest, back and abdomen—and would terminate in little pustules. The itching and burning was dreadful and he would almost tear his skin apart, trying to get relief. I recommended all the various treatments I could think of and he spent about fifteen dollars on prescriptions but nothing seemed to help him.

"In the meantime my wife who was continually suffering with a slight skin trouble and who had been trying different prescriptions and methods with my assistance, told me she was going to get some of the Cuticura Remedies and give them a trial. Her skin would thicken, break and bleed, especially on the fingers, wrists and arms. I could do nothing to relieve her permanently. When she first applied the warm baths of Cuticura Soap and applications of Cuticura Ointment she saw a decided improvement and in a few days she was completely cured. "I lost no time in recommending the Cuticura Remedies to Mr. _____, and this was two months ago. I told him to wash with warm baths of the Cuticura Soap and to apply the Cuticura Ointment generously. Believe me, from the very first day's use of the Cuticura Remedies he was greatly relieved and today he is completely cured through their use. I have great faith in the Cuticura Remedies and shall always have a good word for them now that I am convinced of their wonderful merits." (Signed) B. L. Whitehead, M. D., 108 Dartmouth St., Boston, Mass., July 22, 1910. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. L, Boston.

Easy to Cut the Price.

A man went into a butcher's shop and asked how much sausages were a pound. "Ah," said the butcher, "der brice vas gone ups. I shall haf to charge you twenty-five cents."

"Nonsense!" exclaimed the customer, "that is outrageous. I can get them at Schmidt's for twenty cents."

"Vell, y didn't you?" "Because he was out of them."

"Oh, vell," replied the butcher, "if I was out of 'em, I'd sell 'em for twenty cents, too."

That Was Different.

A stern father who had repeatedly told a young man who was paying his addresses to his daughter not to visit the house again without his permission, which he never intended to give, was surprised when late one evening ring at the doorbell late one evening to see the young man waiting on the step.

"Sir," said he in anger, "didn't I tell you not to call again, eh, sir?"

"Yes," said the young man. "I know, but I didn't call to see your daughter. I came on behalf of our firm about that little bill."

"Oh—er—er—" stammered the stern father, "call again, will you?"

Clothes and the Man.

A colporteur in South Carolina, walking many miles through mud, accosted a passerby and suggested the purchase of the Bible. He was refused. The next day, says the Record of Christian Work, after a night's rest and cleanup, he set up his stand in town and had the pleasure of selling a Bible to the very man who had refused to purchase the day before. "I met a muddy man yesterday with Bibles," said he, "who looked like a Methodist tramp. When I buys a Bible I buys it from a Baptist gentleman."
