Line Fence Quarrel Ends in Murder

Erie, Aug. 18.—"Maybe they will hang me. But then it don't matter much I am an old man."

This was the comment of Joseph Kozkowski aged 62, farmer, after being locked up here charged with killing George Roberts, a neighbor whose body was riddled with shot from a double barreled gun today as the result of a quarrel over line fence and cattle. The shooting was witnessed by Roberts son and a number of picnickers. Kozkowski was arrested by Erie detectives who overpowered him in his home where he had fortified himself. He laughed when telling his story of the shooting to Police Chief Detzel.

KEEPING THE LOOK OF YOUTH

Parisienne Are. Probably the Most Successful in This, But Many May Achieve It.

A Russian princess who has attracted much attention in Paris this winter, and who is considered one of the best-dressed women in that city, declares that nothing ages a woman's appearance so much as the old-fashioned method of pushing the flesh up above the corset.

How few women who have passed the "dangerous" age stop to think of this, yet is it not true? The settled look that comes with middle age is enhanced by a stiff-corseted figure above the waist.

Put money into a good corset, have it fitted sitting down, and in adjusting it be sure to pull it far down and gird it firmly round the hips.

Many women find as they grow older they must have their evening gowns cut high. This need not be done if care is taken to get a corset that has a low bust.

From Paris comes another hint about youthful looks. A famous dressmaker says that real lace ages women and should never be worn near the face.

The Parisienne has learned to fight age more successfully than most women because she pays heed to details that to others seem trivial. She makes a study of line, angle and color, and who will say the results are not worth the trouble?

It is every woman's duty to keep young looking. The worst way to do it is to feign youth through cosmetics or a kittenish manner!—Cleveland Leader.

HUMAN NATURE NOT SO BAD

New York Newspaper Man Observes With Pleasure the Aid Given the Blind.

If you doubt that human nature is kind, watch the ordinary passerby in his attitude toward a blind man. The office window man was riding in a Broadway open car the other day. The car was just barely moving, owing to some blockade or other, and kept about even pace with the pedestrians who crowded the pavements in their usual daily hustle.

The eye of the Office Window casually lit upon a blind man, walking alone, with that upright tilt of the head so common to the sightless. He tapped his stick incessantly before him and moved briskly until he neared the end of each block, with its hazardous curb. The car kept pace with him for seven blocks, and upon every block some one took charge of that blind man as he came to the curb, saw him safely over and said a pleasant word in parting.

One young man stayed near him for three blocks, steering him over the crossings each time. Probably the man with the tapping stick thought the friendly guide was a different man for every block. Or does his ear become so delicately attuned to voices that he fairly sees through hearing?

The Office Window man wondered if the smiles that so often light the faces of the blind come from the habit of thanking people who lend them friendly aid so many times a day?—New York Evening Mail.

Sleeping Sickness Discovery.

Reports received from the commission on Sleeping Sickness working in Rhodesia state that it has been proved beyond doubt that the tsetse fly, known as Glossina morsitans, as a carrier of the disease.

The commission was dispatched to Africa in consequence of the appearance of the disease in regions where Glossina palpalis (the species of tsetse fly, which up to that time had alone been regarded as a carrier of sleeping sickness,) was non-existent. The guilt of Glossina morsitans has been proved not only under laboratory conditions, but also in nature. Certain animals can act as the host of the virus without suffering thereby.

While palpalis is to be found only in narrow limits, morsitans is met with throughout Africa in wide areas, and the methods of migration and isolation hitherto employed will be practically impossible.

Consumption From a Monkey.

A report comes from Russia that Mme. Gvosdeska, prima donna at the Imperial theater, is ill from consumption, having been infected by her pet monkey. She fondled her pet when it suffered from bronchitis. Inasmuch as the monkey is suffering from tuberculosis, the Russian doctors decided that the disease had been caught from the monkey. It is probable that consumption would last considerably longer in the woman than in the monkey, and the chances are that the poor monkey while out of sorts really caught the consumption from the prima donna, who may have been infected long ago, the trouble, though, only recently showing to any serious extent.

Your Temper and Your Cat's.

Cats are of a high strung and sensitive nature, easily influenced by their surroundings. If you wish a fine tempered, nice little home loving cat you must possess some of these attributes yourself.

You cannot expect to have a very amiable animal if you are cranky all the time. Give the animal credit for being a good imitator. If you are vile tempered, nice little home loving cat you must possess some of these attributes yourself.

Pastor's Merited Rebuke.

When Samuel S. Colber was preaching in an old log schoolhouse in Johnson county, Missouri, in 1852, his congregation was quite small. One Sunday all were sitting at the desks forward near the pulchre floor. The sermon was monotonous and the old log seats had no backs. Observing the sleepy, downcast look of the congregation, the minister woke them up by shouting: "Arouse, heaven is not under the floor!"

Have You Noticed These?

An inventor in America has earned the thanks of all who have been seeking after a really sanitary form of kissing. In certain parts of that great country, when young ladies go to parties and places where they kiss, they are provided with a sterilized ivory ring, mounted on a silver handle. This is interposed between the kisser and the kissee, and the resulting sensation is known as "pasteurized pleasure," or "germless joy."—London Answers.

Longevity in French Villages.

A remarkable record of longevity is to be found in some of the rural parishes of France. In the village of St. Thomas de la Fliche there have been only fourteen parish priests in three hundred years, the fourteenth being still in possession. The parish of St. Germain du Val, in Paris, has had only three pastors in one hundred years, while that of Glvry en Argonne has had but five in 130 years.

Made Up In Quantity.

An old colored woman, who had grown gray and bent in the service of the family who had raised her from childhood, was not gifted with an overabundance of gray matter, and her mistakes and queer ideas furnished much amusement to those about her.

One day a Yorkshire pudding that she had made for dinner did not seem quite as it should be, and the mistress called Eunice and said: "What is the matter with the pudding, Eunice; did you make it in the usual way?"

"Yes'm," said Eunice. "How many eggs did you put in it?"

"Six," "Six!" exclaimed the mistress; "why, the recipe only calls for four!" "Yes'm, I know," said Eunice; "but they weren't very good, so I put in more of 'em."
