WATER TOYS OF THE EAST

Remarkably Ingenious Are Playthings Provided for the Children of the Orient.

Europe and America turn out, for the edification of their children, many ingenious toys, but the Occidental youngsters have nothing to compare with the strange expanding water-toys with which the children of the far east have for centuries amused themselves.

These are placed in small wooden boxes similar to the little paint boxes so often seen in our own country. They have the appearance of soiled shavings, broken matches and dilapidated toothpicks, but when thrown into the water the ingenious toys at once exhibit properties that show them to be considerably more than mere bits of stick. The wood of these toys has been kiln-dried, and immediately, it touches the water it begins to absorb the water and to expand almost indefinitely. As it increases in size it separates and suddenly opens, becoming a very pretty toy. One stick will change into a flower pot containing, it may be, a rose bush in full bloom. Another becomes an obese mandarin carrying an umbrella. Still another will take the form of a sea serpent, very ferocious in its tiny dimensions. Then, too, there are toys which show as whales, tigers, crocodiles, etc. The figures are colored and present a bewildering variety in design and treatment. Their manufacture is a trade secret, kept inviolate by the guild that turns them out by the thousands.

For older children there are provided larger and even more artistic figures, consisting of historical characters—rulers, poets and soldiers—and dwarfed trees and tiny houses, whose doors and windows are full of inmates, are also among this class. The more ordinary kind cost a mere song, but the finer toys are quite expensive.

NOT EASY TO SEE ICEBERGS

Deadly Menaces to Navigation Said to Be Almost Invisible at Night.

Among laymen there is genuine surprise that on a clear night—dark though it was—a great ship could plow into the heart of an iceberg before discovering its presence. To the nautical mind it is entirely plausible.

At about twenty-two knots of speed, the Titanic was covered nearly a statute mile and one third every three minutes, and it takes time for a ship 900 feet in length and drawing nearly forty feet of water to "swing" on its course line. It takes time to stop 50,000 tons of dead weight when moving at that rate of speed.

In daytime, even, unless the sun is shining brightly against its sides, a berg is not the glaring sheelike thing that many seem to think it is. On a cloudy day they show distinctly gray and dark, while on a moonless, cloudy night they only, at the best, will show as blackness, more pronounced, against that other blackened screen where murky cloud and murky waters meet.

The newest, whitest, snowiest sails that ever drove a racing yacht to victory show as black as blackest night against a somber midnight sky. In other words, they are invisible a short way off, as was the berg whose jagged and submerged extensions tore the very bowels from this virgin Titan—"The Titanic," Arthur N. McGray, in National Magazine.

The Hypocrite.

Rev. George R. Lunn, the new mayor of Schenectady, says: "I don't preach 'Give to the poor,' but 'Stop taking from the poor.'"

Mr. Lunn, discussing this dictum the other day, said to the Albany Journal man:

"The millionaire social reformer, unless he is a very sincere man, always reminds me of the husband who brought home one evening a bottle of champagne and a lobster.

"It is your birthday, dear," he said to his wife, "and I purchased these delicacies as a little treat for you this evening with your birthday dinner."

"You are very kind," the woman answered, "but I thought you knew I never touch champagne, love, while lobster invariably disagrees with me."

"Never mind, my dear, never mind," the husband answered. "That being the case, I'll just eat the lobster myself and drink the champagne to your health."

Shepherd's Life Not So Bad.

W. G. Ayre of Baker and for a number of years known as the sheep king of eastern Oregon, was at Portland recently on a business trip.

"The life of a sheep herder has been much maligned," he said, "because during the summer months a more delightful life in the open air could not be imagined. This is especially true in Baker county, where the streams are full of trout and quail are abundant. It is far from being a hermit's life, and the only thing against the occupation is its name, that for some unknown reason has got into disrepute."

Hard Part.

Senator Penrose, at a luncheon at the Auditorium in Chicago told the following story about an office-seeker.

"I hear you've got a government job now," one man said to another.

The other answered gaily: "That's what."

The first man gave an envious sigh and asked:

"Is it hard work?"

"Not after you get it," was the reply.

Pastor's Merited Rebuke.

When Samuel S. Colber was preaching in an old log schoolhouse in Johnson county, Missouri, in 1852, his congregation was quite small. One Sunday all were sitting at the desks forward near the pulchene floor. The sermon was monotonous and the old log seats had no backs. Observing the sleepy, downcast look of the congregation, the minister woke them up by shouting: "Arouse, heaven is not under the floor!"

Have You Noticed These?

An inventor in America has earned the thanks of all who have been seeking for a really sanitary form of kissing. In certain parts of that great country, when young ladies go to parties and places where they kiss, they are provided with a sterilized ivory ring, mounted on a silver handle. This is interposed between the kisser and the kissee, and the resulting sensation is known as "pasteurized pleasure," or "germless joy."—London Answers.

Longevity in French Villages.

A remarkable record of longevity is to be found in some of the rural parishes of France. In the village of St. Thomas de la Fliche there have been only fourteen parish priests in three hundred years, the fourteenth being still in possession. The parish of St. Germain du Val, in Paris, has had only three pastors in one hundred years, while that of Givry en Argonne has had but five in 130 years.

According to a German investigator the artificial lakes that have been constructed at several places in his country decrease the temperature appreciably and cause an increase in the number of foggy days.

A grindstone that had no grit in it, how long would it take to make an ax sharp? And affairs that had no pinch in them, how long would they take to make a man?—Clarendon.

Concerning Sham Optimism.

Sham optimism is really a more heartless doctrine to preach than even an exaggerated pessimism—the latter leaves one at least on the safe side.—Thomas Hardy.
