

NERVOUS RESPONDENT WOMEN

Find Relief in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Statements So Testify.

Platea, Pa.—"When I wrote to you first I was troubled with female weakness and backache, and was so nervous that I would cry at the least noise, it would startle me so. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies, and I don't have any more crying spells. I sleep sound and my nervousness is better. I will recommend your medicines to all suffering women."

—Mrs. MARY HALSTEAD, Platea, Pa., Box 98.

Here is the report of another genuine case, which still further shows that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be relied upon.

Walcott, N. Dakota.—"I had inflammation which caused pain in my side, and my back ached all the time. I was so blue that I felt like crying if any one even spoke to me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I began to gain right away. I continued its use and now I am a well woman."

—Mrs. AMELIA DAHL, Walcott, N. Dakota.

June 6, 1912.
I was troubled with dandruff, which caused such sleep. It itched so that I could not get to bed. I tried many remedies, but without success. I finally bought a fifty-cent jar of Resinol Ointment, and rubbed it on my scalp, washing the hair every morning with Resinol Soap. In about a week it was entirely cured.
(Signed) FRED POLITO.

Resinol cured his dandruff

And if you, too, are suffering from this annoying trouble, so often accompanied by itching scalp and loss of hair, to one it will do as much for you.

Sold by almost all druggists (50c), or by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Resinol Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY. In this age of research and experiment, all nature is searched by the scientific for the comfort and happiness of man. Science has indeed made giant strides in the past century, and among the by no means least important discoveries in medicine is that of Therapion, which has been used with great success in French Hospitals and that it is worthy the attention of those who suffer from kidney, bladder, nervous diseases, chronic weakness, urinary tract irritations, piles, etc. There is no doubt. In fact it is the only remedy from the big air created amongst specialists, that THERAPION is destined to cast into oblivion all those questionable remedies that were formerly the sole reliance of medical men. It is of course impossible to tell sufferers all we should like to tell them in this short article, but those who would like to know more about this remedy that has effected so many—no matter how old, or how long afflicted—should send addressed envelope for FREE BOOK to Dr. Le Clerc Med. Co., Haventock Road, Hampton, London, Eng. and decide for themselves whether the New French Remedy "THERAPION" No. 1, No. 2, or No. 3 is what they require and have been seeking in vain during a life of misery, suffering, ill health and unappreciated. Therapion is sold by a druggist or small $1.00. Putgers Co., 20 Beekman St., New York.

ALIENS CAUSE SCHOOL STRIKE

Refusing to Associate and Not Transferred 200 Pupils Rebel.

SAT ON THE LAWN ALL DAY

Girls and Boys Rebel When Required to Associate with Foreigners and Negroes—Attending School Out of District Forbidden.

Pittsburgh.—Because they were ordered to attend the Franklin and Forbes schools of the Oakland and Hill districts, in which they lived, when the school term opened, 200 boys and girls refused to enter the school buildings, and, to voice their protest against being compelled to associate with foreigners and negroes, sat on the lawn all day. The pupils were orderly, but did not fail to make their protest known to the teachers and officials of the schools. In past years it has been the custom, especially in the Hill district, for many of the children who reside there to go to schools in near-by districts where the surroundings and associations were more congenial to them. Many parents have absolutely refused to allow their children to attend the Hill district public schools, owing to the fact that most of the pupils attending those institutions are children of foreigners and negroes. This year, under the new school code, pupils are compelled to attend public schools in the district in which they reside. The customary transfer slips allowing a pupil to attend a school in another district were refused, and all children were informed that they would be compelled to attend the district school. This the greater majority of them refused to do, declaring that they would not attend schools where the conditions were repugnant to them. Many of the children said their parents had instructed them to protest against being compelled to associate with negroes and foreigners. The officials of the schools in the district are in a quandary.

Snake Hid In Bass Horn.

Altoona.—En route to McAlevy's Fort, Huntingdon county, to give a concert, the newly organized brass band of Mooresville ran into the best snake story of the season. They traveled the nine miles in a hay wagon. S. H. Lightner, a game warden musician, sitting with the driver, espied a three-foot black snake snoozing along the road. He slid to the ground, seized the reptile by the tail, and, just for the fun of the thing, gave it a toss into the midst of the bandmen, who were all toggled out in new uniforms. In their efforts to get away, some of the party fell off the sides of the wagon. Before the bandmen recovered from their fright, the snake, seeing the inviting hole in Huller Iseberg's big bass horn, sought refuge in the interior of the instrument and disappeared. Huller nearly shook the horn to pieces trying to get the reptile out, but it "sat tight," defying all his efforts. Finally a brother musician, with a streak of originality in him, suggested scalding it out. When the band arrived at its destination a kettle of hot tea was secured, and the snake came out so quick it all but got away.

Assails School System.

Scranton.—Prof. W. D. Lewis, principal of the Philadelphia high school for girls, severely criticised the high school system in an address delivered before the Teachers' Institute when in session here. He said he voiced the unrest everywhere manifested in reference to the system of public education now in vogue, and with others shared the belief that boys and girls were not properly equipped for life's work by the studies generally pursued. The modern high school, Professor Lewis said, "is a process of taking a boy from where he isn't to where he doesn't want to go." We need more men and women in the skilled arts and trades, he declared, and the school training does not prepare them for that field of livelihood.

War on Chestnut Blight.

Hazleton.—Charles A. Benney, of Philadelphia, field agent for the Pennsylvania Chestnut Blight Association, came here to give demonstrations. He issued notice to all chestnut tree owners to communicate with him so that steps can be taken for the elimination of the blight in this part of the State. The chestnut crop here is about equal to the average this year. The coal companies own most of the land on which the chestnut trees stand.

Recovers Rings She Forgot.

Corry.—Mrs. W. H. Lappe, of Atlantic City, while traveling with her husband, entered the washroom of the Union Station, removed her diamond rings and forgot them. When she came back they were gone. Officer James Stevens found a woman who had taken them and recovered them.

Lawyer's Tumble Ends Seriously.

York.—E. E. Allen, an attorney, was severely injured when he fell down a flight of steps at the Northern Central Railway subway.

KEEP GROUNDS FOR CHILDREN

Instructor Thinks School Board Should Continue Work.

TO USE AS CHILD CENTERS

Says Teachers Should Be Employed to Organize Exercises of Children—Supplement Efforts of Park Commission.

(Special Harrisburg Correspondence.) Harrisburg.—In connection with the Social Center idea which is taking hold in this city, J. K. Staples, superintendent of public playgrounds, suggested the use of the public playgrounds as "child centers" to be used all through the fall and spring after school hours. "Why not use the public playgrounds as centers for the amusement and physical education of the children of the city. What is the use of closing down the playgrounds when school opens?" asked Mr. Staples. "Why not utilize these public grounds until snow and cold weather interferes? It would be the best sort of an investment for the city school board to employ competent instructors to keep up the work of the playgrounds after the vacation period."

Harrisburg Backward. "Other cities of this size," said Mr. Staples, "are way ahead of Harrisburg in the matter of physical education. There should be a physical superintendent who would organize an athletic league between the different schools, and teach popular games such as the children learn on the playgrounds in the summer. The work of this department would be a supplement to the work of the Park Commission in developing the physical nature of the child. In the grades and in the high schools there is some training at the present time, I understand. However, the work is very limited and not at all far reaching in its results. With such an athletic department in the curriculum of the schools, the play nature of the child is satisfied and the modern idea of growth and development of the physical as well as the mental nature of the child is properly met."

Playgrounds Statistics.

Mr. Staples, in his annual report to the Park Commission, will show a remarkable increase in the attendance at the city playgrounds. Last year the attendance totaled 40,345. This year the total will be nearly 50,000. The attendance at the public bathhouses will likely fall below that of last year owing to the coolness of the season and the many rainy days of this summer.

Three Active Canals.

Only three canals in the State are now classed as active on the records of the Bureau of Railways, which is charged with the duty of securing the reports of all lines of communication. The Bureau is now receiving the annual statements of business of the railroads, street railways, canals, steamship lines and telephone and telegraph companies in this State. It operates as a part of the State Department of Internal Affairs and is separate from the State Railroad Commission. Ten years ago eight canal companies were carried on the list of corporations required to make reports by August 31 each year under a penalty of $5,000 fine, but now the number has dwindled to three. The Pennsylvania canal, which was one of the greatest of the systems, has passed out of existence and other canals have been filled up or else become a part of other systems. The three canals reporting are the Delaware and Chesapeake, the Delaware and Hudson and the Erie, the two former in eastern Pennsylvania and the latter up in Erie county.

New Orphanage Opened.

The new brick schoolhouse at the Odd Fellows' Orphanage, east of Sunbury was dedicated with special exercises. The following program was carried out: Invocation, the Rev. Simon Sipple, grand chaplain; dedicatory address, Herman Roller, grand master of the state, and addresses by the following: Robert Montgomery, grand marshal; E. C. Wagner, president of the orphanage board of managers; J. W. Stroh and Miss Virginia Mull, grand warden of the Rebekahs. The children of the orphanage rendered a literary and musical program and the Mount Carmel male chorus sang several selections. A large number were present at the exercises from all parts of the state.

State Tax Payment.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company sent $199,631.79 to the State treasury in payment of state tax on gross receipts.

Conscience Hurt $1 Worth.

State Treasurer Wright received one of the smallest contributions to the commonwealth's conscience fund that has reached Capitol Hill in many years. The contribution amounted to one dollar and was accompanied by an unsigned letter which gave a reason which mystifies officials to tell whether the state or a contractor had been defrauded. The sender wrote that while the Capitol was being finished he had visited it several times and had picked up small portions of gold leaf used in gilding ornaments.

Farmers in Berks county report themselves in readiness for the frost, all danger of delayed crops having been passed. The harvests, they say, are above the average and the predicted shortage in the potato crop will be supplanted by an extra supply of high-grade tubers.

Charged with "making too much noise," J. W. Frease, the pioneer automobile owner in Somerset, was arrested by the authorities in Schellsburg, Bedford county. His discharge was gained only after expert testimony of doctors, other tourists and the like that a little tooting of the horn is not hard on the nervous system.

First awakening their victim by throwing stones at the door of his home, four men made a vicious assault upon Joseph Homiak, of Diamondtown, Northumberland county, when he appeared in his night clothes to investigate the racket. Homiak received a broken jaw, several fractured ribs and numerous cuts and bruises.

Chief Burgess Albert Startzel, of Mount Carmel, had a miraculous escape from death at Snyderstown, when an upright boiler burst within ten feet of where he stood directing a building operation. Pieces of the boiler were thrown high in the air and several horses which were being used in the work were bruised and stunned.

State health officials in charge of the smallpox epidemic in Carbonade, Lackawanna county, traced the origin of the forty-two cases to a man who came to Carbonade from Seattle, Wash. He was treated by local physicians, but the fact that he was suffering from smallpox was never reported. Dr. J. C. Hunt, who is in charge of the situation for the State Department, is positive that the present epidemic is directly traceable to this case.

Elk county farmers are troubled over a contagious disease affecting the eyes of cattle, which seems to have gained a foothold. There has been reported one case where the cow so afflicted has gone totally blind, another case where the animal is gradually getting worse, and another instance is cited where the entire herd is afflicted. The only cure is said to be the European method of injecting a mixture of snuff and sugar into the animals' eyes.

Carlisle has collected $120 in auto speeders fines in three weeks.

The Allentown Democrat directs attention to a little matter of history when it relates that thirty-four years ago three men daily delved in the mountain at a point about a mile below Slatington for gold, which they claimed was hidden there, according to the "Seventh Book of Moses." They succeeded in reaching the rock under which the gold was supposed to be, but beneath they found nothing but common everyday dirt.
