ATTACKED BY A GOLDEN EAGLE

Berwick Man Has Exciting Adventure Near Halls on Monday Morning

To be savagely attacked by a golden eagle, so savagely indeed that had he not had a shot gun with which to defend himself, he might and probably would have suffered serious injury, was the remarkable experience of H. E. Gundrum, of Berwick, while hunting near Halls Station on Monday. He killed the eagle after a battle and took it to Charles H. Eldon, the taxidermist at Williamsport, Tuesday for mounting.

Mr. Gundrum went to Muncy on Monday morning and went to the vicinity of Halls to hunt for rabbits and pheasants. He had entered a field at the bottom of an incline, when he saw a great bird fly over the edge of a hill nearby. The bird instantly began to soar and swoop downward, without seeming to move its wings, as if looking for something.

Mr. Gundrum thought that it was a hawk and watched it until, when a few hundred feet away he saw to his surprise that the bird was headed not toward anything small, but at himself and was charging savagely. When about 25 feet away Mr. Gundrum fired and the bird slackened in its flight with a broken wing.

The charge did not stop it completely, and it came on. Mr. Gundrum jumped out of the way as it landed and turned toward him. He fired again as it was charging and this time killed the bird. Mr. Gundrum thought it was a very large hawk and he did not know what the bird was until he took it to Mr. Eldon and the latter pronounced it one of the rare family of golden eagles.

WIFE PERSISTS SHE DID NOT SHOOT HUSBAND

Interest Revived in Case in Which Wealthy Buffalo Residents Figure

North Towanda, N. Y., Oct. 30.—With the indictment of Mrs. Mary M. Hanner, of Buffalo, wife of wealthy George F. Hanner, for assault with intent to kill on her husband, interest in the mysterious shooting of Hanner in an automobile here on September 12 last was greatly revived today. Chief of Police John F. Ryan declared today that he had in his possession the revolver with which the shooting took place. He said that it had been identified by Harry Hanner, brother of the wounded man, as having been given by him to his brother, Ryan said he picked up the pistol near the lumber yard from which Hanner and his wife said the shots came.

Mrs. Hanner persists in declaring that she did not shoot her husband, but that an enemy hid in a lumber pile by the side of the road fired the shots. She herself was slightly wounded in the leg. It is declared by the police that when the entire story is revealed in court there will be more sensational disclosures.

SLAYER FREED

Marsden Hubbard, who shot and killed Thomas Dolphin in the Dolphin home near Waymart, Wayne county, July 28, walked out of the Wayne county court house at Honesdale on Thursday afternoon of last week a free man, the jury in his case returned a verdict not guilty after forty minutes deliberation. Hubbard was surrounded by his friends and a command from Judge A. T. Searle was all that prevented a noisy demonstration.

It was felt from the start that Hubbard would be acquitted, but after Mrs. Dolphin told her story on the witness stand there was little doubt as to the outcome. She bore out Hubbard's contention that he shot her husband in self-defense and under examination by the district attorney, M. E. Simons, she stuck to her testimony.

The case attracted wide attention owing to the prominence of Hubbard and the Dolphins throughout Wayne county. The accused is a physical giant and he enjoys local fame as a singer and harmonica player. On the night of the murder he entertained a company at Dolphin home and remained as their guest for the night. The Dolphins quarreled and the wife sought refuge in Hubbard's room. Dolphin followed her and when he menaced them, Hubbard shot him.

USES GUN FOR REST WILL LOSE AN ARM

Young Lock Haven Boy Victim of Serious Accident

Lock Haven, Nov. 3.—Dan Probst, the 13-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Probst, will likely lose his right arm, as a result of an accident which befell him yesterday near the R. K. tower in the P. & E. railroad yards, east of this place.

The boy had a loaded shot gun in his possession, and with a number of companions, some of whom also carried guns, was on his way to the woods after small game. In stopping for a few moments he placed the stock of the gun on the ground, and rested his right arm on the barrel. In moving the weapon the trigger caught on some object and the gun was discharged, the load shattering the arm above and below the elbow and tearing away the muscles. He was brought to the P. & E. station on a switching engine, and from there he was hurried to the hospital in the ambulance.

The surgeons after examining the terrible wounds expressed the opinion that amputation of the arm will be necessary.

Miss Daisy Esenwine of Lock Haven Undergoes Operation

Lock Haven, Nov. 3.—A few months ago Miss Daisy Esenwine, daughter of John Esenwine, of East Church street, while washing lace curtains at her home ran a needle into the palm of her hand. She has suffered much pain since that time and several attempts to dislodge the steel proved fruitless.

The operation required a deep incision in the hand but the young lady is getting along nicely.

BIGGEST BEAR OF SEASON SO FAR

Killed on North Mountain by Emmon Mausteller of Grassmere

Bloomsburg, Nov. 5.—One of the biggest bears killed this season was killed yesterday on North Mountain by Emmon Mausteller, of Grassmere Park. In company with Charles Mausteller and Clarence Stout, Mausteller had been hunting all morning in the vicinity of the Chimney Stack. Although no bears had been seen, signs of their presence were all about and the hunters were positive that bear were in the neighborhood. Short-after 11 o'clock, Charles Mausteller, and Stout, who were beating, saw a family of four, two large bears and two cubs. The bears rushed into the brush, with the hunters in hot pursuit. Stout standing at a distance, saw the male coming through the brush, about three hundred yards away from him.

The bear came on through the brush, without seeing the hunter. Waiting until the bear was within fifteen paces of him, Mausteller raised his gun and fired. The bullet went through the heart, but the bear kept his feet and lunged on past the hunter for fifty yards before he went down.

The weight is estimated at three hundred pounds. The other three made good their escape and nothing further was seen the them.
