The largest manufactured product of timber in this country at the present time is wood pulp, and to meet this increasing demand a plantation of Carolina poplar is now in process of development in Pike county. From its fast-growing tendency this particular wood pulp is best adapted for purposes of experiment. It grows quickly in poor soils, and is fitted for making various grades of pulp paper. It is conducive to popular cultivation, like the willow, and it is designed by Commissioner Rothrock, after the trees have had a few years' growth of the party exclaimed: to distribute bundles of sprouts in all parts of the State. To-day the National Government is interested in it, and almost every State north old men, yet we pine again of the Mason and Dixon line has to a greater or less extent become interested in the movement. New York has spent nearly $2,000,000 in forest reservations, and Michigan, Minnesota, Massachusetts and many other States are actively engaged in the work, and Pennsylvania has thus far spent less than $10,000, and has secured but 55,000 acres of arid land-a mere fraction of what New York has under its care. These State reservations, now contemplated, are not to be in any sense mere private premises, as this notice now posted on the tracts will show:

The national debt of France, which has constantly grown larger since the war with Germany, has forced the French government into some odd methods of raising money. Its latest is the selling of advertising space. As yet, the sale of advertising by the government is confirmed to a portion of a post-paid letter sheet, but there is talk of extending it in various ways. Mr. Albion W. Tourgee, U. S. Counsul, at Bordeaux, France, says, in a report to the department of State, of this incursion into the advertising field of the French Government: "One half the sheet, of ordinary letter size paper, and rather poor quality is devoted to advertisements, except a space reserved for the address, on which is printed a postage stamp. The letter is written on the other half of the sheet which is then ingeniously folded and held by a gummed flap. The price is the same as a postal card. By this means, the purchaser saves one-third of and envelope for nothing. Nomstantial profit out of the project."
