Table scene br. Takinge in this discourse makes some strilling suggestions as to the best styles of Christian work and points out the reason of so many plous fultures; text, Joshua vill., "Then shally or rises up from the ambush and selze upon the city." One Sabbath evoning, with my family pround me, we were talking over the scene of the text. In the wide opon weres and the quick interrogations and the blanched cheeks I realized what a thriling drama it was. There is the old city, shorter by name than any other city in the ages, spelled with two latters, A, f, Al. Joshua and his men want to take it. How to do it is men want to take it. How to do it is men want to take it. How to do it is the question. On a former occasion, it a strightforward, face to face fight, they had been defeated, but now they are going to take it by ambustado. General Joshua has two divisions in his army. The our division the battle worn commander will lead himself. It is other division he want is done with the state of the string of the sends off to encamp in an ambush on the west side of the sity of Ai. No torches, an interns, no sound of heavy battaltons, but 30,000 swarthy warriors moving in allone, spealing only in a while per no clicking of awords against shields, lest the watchmen of Ai discover it, and the strate devision the is the match all has one with which he is to march, and pats it on the varies. The role of the city of Ai and then rought side of the city of Ai and then rought side of the city of Ai and then rought side of the city of Ai and then rought side of the city of Ai and then rought side of the side of the role of the fact. How the fact, the watch and the strate division the should be any battalt on the worth side of the city of Ai and then rought side of the city of Ai and then rought side of the city of Ai and then rought side of the city of Ai and then rought side of the the way will something of the text of when the stoe mark and has the division the any the something of the text of when side its it. How th

from a Christian ambuscade. There has been many a man up to his chin in scientific portfolios which proved there was no Christ and no divino revela-tion, his pea a scimeter flung into the heart of theological opponents, who never-theless has been discomfitted and captured for God by some little three-year-old child who has got up and put her snowy arms around his sinewy neek and asked some simple question about God. Oh, make a flank movement' Steal a march on the devil! Cheat that man fore heaven! A #5 treatise that will stand all the laws of homiletics may fail to do that which a penny tract of Christian entreaty which a penny tract of Christian entreaty may accomplish. Ob, for more Christians in ambuscade At upon the men of Joshua. Your only safety is to get away from them. Your dissipating companions will come around you for your overthrow. Bun for your life! Fall back! Fall back from the win-party! Your flight is your advance; your retreat is your victory. There is a saloon down on the next street that has almost beef the ruln of your soul. Then wby do you go along that street? Why do you not pass through some other atreet rather than by the place of your calamity? A spoon-fal of brandy taken for medicinal pur-poses by a min who twenty yours before poses by a min who twenty years before had been reformed from drunkenness hurled into insbriety and the grave one of the best friends I ever had. Getreat is interest. had been reformed from drunkenness burled into inebriety and the grave one of the best friends I ever had. Betreat is victory! Here is a converted infide! He is so strong new in his tailin in the Gespei he says he can read anything. What are you reading? Bolingbroke? Andrew Jackson Davies' tracts? Tyniali's Giasgow Uni-verity address? Drop them and run. You will be an infided before you die unless you quit that. These men of Ai will be too much for you. Turn your back on the rank and file of unbeller. Fly before they eut you with their swords and transfix you will be an off-the second to rank and file of unbeller. Fly before they eut you with their swords and transfix you with their javelins. So, also, there withor ious retreat in the fungtions world. Thousands of times the kingdom of Christ has seemed to fail back. When the blood of the Scotch Covenanters gave a deeper dys to the heather of the highlands, when the Vaudois of France chose extermination rather than make an unchristian surrender, when on St. Barth-lomew's dry mounted assassins rode through the streets of Paris, crying "Kill Bloodisting is good in Aigust! PECULIARTIES OF GENIUS. Stories of Mme. Sembrich, Sig. Tamagao and Sig. Foll.

One prima donna at least has been known to take her own coolt to prepare dinner for her when she was invited out to dine. Mme, Semarich is not so exacting in her requirements. In one respect she is unyielding-everything she drinks must be warm, even champagne. The other uight at a large dinner party she surprised her hortess by asking for a pitcher of hot water. When it was brought to her she procoeded to dilute the champagne in her glass, "to keep," as she expressed it, "from taking cold." - Her husbani, possibly fearing that with such a sensitive organization Mme, Sembrich might take cold if he failed to pour hot water in his champagne, followed the same hygienic course. But Tamagno was the trying one, when it came to dinner parties. Upon one occasion, the last, indeed, of the kind, he was invited to dine in the sacred and innermost circles. Some of his fellow singers, including the De Reszkes and Mme. Melba, were also invited. The first thing he did was to open his opera hat and put it on the floor healde his chair. The soup, fish and the earlier courses passed without surprise. But after awhile hothouse grapes, bonbons and other edibles found their way into his hat. With each relay he would say briefly, "For my daughter." Finally, when the company arose from the table, his colleagues completely overcome with chagrin, he look the houquet of the lady who sat next to him, calmly saying. "For my daughter," and placed that on top of the collection, put his hat under his arm and marched out. Signor Foli some years since took part in a concert at St. Helen's, where he sung "The Raft." He had just finished his first varse when an infant in arms made the hall resound with its cries. Foll commenced the second verse, the first line which runs "Hark What is that which greets the mother's car?" He could get no farther than the end of the line by reason of a fit of uncontrollable laughter. He left the stage, but soon returned, smilling, and sung in his inimitable style. Spread of the English Language.

Writing on the decline of the French language, M. Jean Finot points out that at the end of the last century French was the language spoken by the greatest number of civilized people, whereas now it stands fourth.

If there is one thing on which the house. with prides herself, it is that of having her laundering done alcely, so that the wearing apparel may be the admiration of all. The washing is a small matter, anyone almost can do that, but to have the linens present that flaxible and glossy appearance after being froned requires a fine quality of starety.

KEEP IT CLEAN.

Nothing is more difficult to keep clean and sweet than a nursing bottle. Yet if it is not thoroughly cleaned, the particles of milk adhering to it become rancid and affect the health of the infant. No trouble will arise from this cause, if, after using the bottle, it is first rinsed in cold water, then filled with warm Ivory Soap suds and let stand for half an hour, and then well rinsed.

The vegetable oils of which Ivory Soap'is made fit it for many special uses for which other soaps are unsafe or unsatisfactory. COPYRIGHT 1899 BY THE MODETER & GAMMAN CO. CONCINNATIO

It was an elaborate spread, and one of the chief ftems was some twenty-year-old brandy that cost Mr. Broadwater a fabulous price and regarding which he spoke with much enthusiasm. At the wind-up of the feast coffee and Roquefort cheese were brought in, though the latter was not commonly down on Montana menus at that period. Sitting near the host was one of his special friends, who, after eyeing the Roquefort a trifle suspiciously, tasted it, made a wry face and showed his plate to one side. 'You don't seem to like that,' remarked Mr. Broadwater. 'Indeed, I do not, Charlle. Lamartine's Barber Still Allyr.

Lamartine's barber, a certain M Isopy, is (says a Paris correspondent) still alive. He is just ninety-two, and his greatest delight is to talk of his hero. He treasurers up a faded daguerreotype of the sentimental politician, who, having been the dominant figure in France, died in obscurity, M. Ispoy's show was the favorite gathering place of the celebrities of '48. It is probable that M. de Lamartine, who used to summon his hairdresser to Macon. employed him as an emissary in those turbulent days. It was pleasing to know from such an authority that Lamartine was the inventor of "gennine bear's grease from Russia," and that this unguent was the cause of the poet's silky locks.
