Preaching services in the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning and evening.
Peerless Horse and Cattle Powder at Robinson's. 10 cts per lb. See ad.
The Easter entertainment at the Lutheran church last Sunday evening was fine. The church was crowded to overflowing.

Fourteen persons were admitted to membership in the Lutheran church at this place last Sunday morning and eleven at the Reformed church.

Sammy Martin, has completed his school at Maple Grove, and is home for a few days vacation, preparatory to entering Prof. B. N. Palmer's Summer Normal at Needmore.

It looks now as though the Democratic national Convention at Kansas City, July 4th, would place in nomination Bryan for president and Dewey for vice president.

Messrs. John Linn and son are making important improvements to the W. S. Dickson property at the corner of Water and Second. The windows are being cut down, and new sash, glass, and shutters put in.

The announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Priscilla Williams Bridges to Mr. John Carmichael, of Lexington, Va. Miss Bridges is the third daughter of Mr. Robert Bridges, of Hancock. Mr. Carmichael is a civil engineer in the service of the B. & O. R. R.

The Hancock Star celebrated its twelfth anniversary last week by treating its subscribers to a 7-column quartet edition, just brimful of interesting local matter. There is nothing wrong with sister Summers' paper, and it is quite deserving of its flattering patronage.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Potter, of Union township, lost their youngest child by death during the past week. It was born on Decoration Day of last year, and had been in poor health for some time. Interment took place at the Lutheran church on Monday.

An enjoyable entertainment will be given at Harrisonville, Thursday evening, April 26, 1900, for the benefit of a public school library by members of the school under the direction of the teacher, Miss Lenore Wishart. The laughable farce "Deestrick Skule" will be rendered.

Hon. Peter Morton broke ground yesterday for his new barn, and the work will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. The Judge will have his hands full this summer; for, in addition to the barn, he expects to burn 100,000 brick and have them cool enough to handle by the middle of July.

Mr. Robert Smith, of this place, received a telegram informing him of the death of his brother William at Washington, Pa., on Tuesday morning. William was the oldest of the John R. Smith children; and, now, Robert is the only one of the boys left, and Mrs. Thomas Hamill and Mrs. Maggie Baxter the only girls.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Valley Spirit, of Chambersburg, came out just before Easter with a bran new dress on, and more news than you could shake a stick at; and it is wearing its new suit every day now. Considering the great advance in the cost of printing material, we can scarcely see how our neighbor can be so reckless.

Reference was made a week or two ago to the fact that a call had been extended Dr. W. A. West to become pastor of the McConnellsburg and Greenhill churches. When Presbytery was reached last week it was found he had a call from a congregation near Carlisle at a much better salary than the Fulton county charge could afford to pay; and, in addition, a nice parsonage. Dr. West felt that duty pointed toward McConnellsburg, and he decided to come here.

On Monday, George, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Kelly of this place, was riding with Mr. Kelso in the latter's creamery wagon, when, in attempting to get out the lad fell to the ground on his face, and the hind wheel of the wagon passed over both the little fellow's legs, bruising them badly, but fortunately breaking no bones. He was carried home and Dr. Dalbey called, under whose care he is getting along nicely.

Last Thursday evening, Robert Cutchall, who lives on the George McQuade farm, was driving a two-horse farm wagon, from his home across to Wm. F. Cutchall's on the James-W. Kendall farm. In the wagon bed was a box in which was a pig, and Robert was sitting on the box driving. Going down the lane by J. C. Brewer's, a front wheel dropped unexpectedly into a chuck, and the momentum threw Robert violently out over the wagon wheel onto a pile of stones at the side of the road. He was pretty badly broken up, and has been suffering great pain since. It is a wonder he wasn't killed.

A Horrible Outbreak.
"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head" writes C. D. Isbill of Morgantown, Tenn., but Bucklen's Arnica Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers and Piles. Only 25c at W. S. Dickson's.

SCHOOL REPORTS.

Needmore—D. C. Hart.
Report of Needmore school, Belfast township, for term commencing September 18, 1899, ending April 6, 1900. Average attendance, 25; per cent. of attendance, 94. Attending every day: Anna Everts, Beatrice Sharp, Esta Hart, Floyd Hart, and Blair Garland; 6 months or more, Blanche Culler, 135 days; Glen Truax, 127 days; Olive Hess, 120 days; Anna Culler, 135 days; Leo Truax, 136 days; Oscar Garland, 129 days; Ira Gordon, 137 days, and Ralph Truax, 122 days.

McNaughton—Miss Nannie Mellott.
Seventh month, ending April 10, 1900. Number enrolled, 35. Percentage of attendance 86; those attending every day during the month: Ella McLucas, Jessie Brewer, Gertrude McLucas, Mary Brewer, Ruth Kendall, Mary Ott, Willie Nelson, Andrew Ott, Willie Stoner, Connie Ott, George Nelson, Howard Hoke, Hollis Mann, Paul Ott, and Johnny McLucas, 18 days; Frank Ott, Helen Kendall, and Clara Martin.

Clear Ridge School.
There were 36 scholars enrolled, and the average attendance was 28. The following is the number of days each attended:

Smith Henry, 140; Lillian Henry, 140; Irene Kerlin, 139; Millie Baker, 139; Sadie Wilson, 137; Dora Baker, 136; Jessie Henry, 135; S. C. Henry, 135; Carry Henry, 133; Elsie Baker, 131; Chas. Henry, 130; Harvey Carmack, 127; Pearl Wilson, 127; Lou Brown, 127; L. H. Grove, 126; Edna Kerlin, 125; David Fleming, 119; Mamie Fields, 118; Lou Kerlin, 117; Lilly Fleming, 107; G. C. Fields, 105; Loyd Fleming, 105; Scott Carmack, 104; Lucy Stinson, 104; Mary Carmack, 99; Chas. Stinson, 98.

Those who were required to attend 70 per cent, and did not, were Roy and Ada Fleming, John Carmack, and Lizkie Ferrenburg.
This day, April 9, 1900, ends 13 months of school which I have tried to teach at this place. I have only had the call of three parents during the last term. Now, how do they know in what way their children were taught? I think this is a grand mistake of theirs.

As this closes my school which I did my best, but am sorry that I did not please all.

Hoping you will secure a more worthy teacher for the next term, I remain, no longer a teacher,
HARRY N. HENRY.

PLEASANT RIDGE.

Our hustling merchant and Charley Wink had quite an experience one day last week. It came about thus:—Wink came in possession of a small cow-boy pony. He brought it over to the merchant and swapped it for a large young heifer. When Charley undertook to take his heifer home, the trouble began. They began acting cow-boy, probably, because the pony reminded them of that. Charley threw the lasso and caught the heifer by the head. She plunged and reared but they succeeded in getting some distance when the noose slipped, and the heifer was loose; but our merchant was ready for any emergency. Abandoning the lasso part of the performance, he succeeded in getting hold of her caudal appendage, and by wrapping the brush around his hand, by Herculean strength he held the heifer until Charley adjusted the rope, and they went on their way without any further trouble. Mack says the muscles of his arm have been a little sore since.

Laura Deshong has returned home after teaching a successful term of seven months at Cedar Lane.
Florence Wink is going to spend a few days in the vicinity of Needmore.

Our old friend Reuben Hann is quite ill.
Don, Blanche, and Joanna Morton of near McConnellsburg, spent Easter in this vicinity—the latter two visiting their cousins Lou and Nell Morton, the former assisting Game Warden Milton Mellott to protect the dears.

Isaac Fink is in hard luck. Recently fire got started in some mysterious way, burned over one of his fields, and destroyed a lot of fence. Had it not been for the timely arrival of several neighbors, much damage would, in all probability, have been done. Shortly after this happened, some dogs fell on his sheep one night and killed fourteen nice lambs out of a flock of nineteen.

About twenty-five of our able bodied men are going to Virginia to peel bark.

Judge Morton made a flying trip through this section last Monday buying cows and hogs.

Look out now for good prices for eggs and butter. J. N. Daniels has started a huckster wagon. Nelse, keep out of South Africa fording.

Questions Answered.

TONOLOWAY PARSONAGE.

April 16, 1900.

MR. EDITOR:—In reading over the items in the Fulton County News, we find that some one has misinformed you in the matter of organizing a Sabbath school at West View.

Now, we wish to say that Lake and Chesnut never talked of holding or organizing a Sabbath school at West View; but it is to be at Tonoloway Church, as they think West View would be too small a place for them to entertain their many friends. Not that Lake and Chesnut have any ill feeling toward Mr. Shaffner—not by any means—but if they conclude to organize, Captain Geo. W. Skinner will be their man.

J. W. Craig is trying to make things lovely around the Baptist parsonage occupied by James M. Lake, by the erecting of a new paling fence and other improvements. Mrs. James Lake is seriously ill from lung trouble.
