SPENT BY CONGRESS.

Figures as Shown by a Statement Prepared by Mr. Allison, of Senate Com-mittee, and by Mr. Cannon, of House Committee.

Washington, (Special.)-A carefully pro-pared statement on the appropriations of the was made by Senator Allison, chairman of the Senate Committee on Approprialions, and Chairman Cannon, of the House Committee on Appropriations, in accordance with custom. The statement says:

"The appropriations made by the first ses-sion of the Fifty-sixth Congress amount to $709,729,476. This sum includes $181,247,-155 estimated to be on account of or incident to the late war with Spain, and deducting it the remaining amount-$578,482,321---reprets the ordinary appropriations made for the support of the government during this

"It will be observed that, after deducting the amounts estimated to have been approprinted on account of or incident to the war with Spain, for the ensuing, the current and the last fiscal years (which cover the period since the beginning of the Spanish war), the appropriations for the five fiscal years, including the two immediately preceding the war, are as follows: 1897, $515,845,194; 1898, $528,735,079,1899, $532,871,688; 1900, $554,-278,866; 1901, $578,482,321,

"This shows an apparent excess in the ordinary appropriations at this session for the fiscal year 1901 of $49,747,242 over the appropriations for the fiscal year 1898, which distery preceded the Spanish war. The chief increases in ordinary expenses for 1901 over those for 1898 are: Increase of the navy. $7,081,916; pensions, $3,981,350; postal ser-vice, exclusive of newly acquired territory, $17,782,900; twelfth census, $9,000,000; permanent appropriations (including $2,000,000 for requirements of sinking fund and $4,000,-000 for redemption of national banknotes), $6,684,000. The total of there increases is $50,202,826.

"These increases in federal appropriations need no defense, and but a word of explana-

"The amount for the Department of Agriculture is only a proper compliance with the natural demands of the agricultural interests of the country. "For pensions the amount simply represents the natural increase of the pension roll.

"For the increase of the navy the excess over the appropriations of 1898 is necessary for the construction, armor, armament and equipment of battleships, eruisers, gunboats torpedo boats heretofore authorized, and is no more than is absolutely necessary toward placing the navy expeditiously in the proper condition universally demanded by the people for the national defense.

'Much of the actual increase is attributable to the increased volume of business in the Treasury, War and Navy Departments. incident to the war with Spain, although no part of it is included in the table which is submitted of increased appropriations on account of the war.

"Under permanent appropriations, aside from $6,000,000 for interest on the war loan, two considerable increases appear; one for $4,000,000 for the redemption of circulating notes of national banks out of funds deposited with the Treasury for that purposethe transaction being purely one of bookkeeping and in no way affecting the public Then for nearly an hour the House of Rep-funds. The amount of estimated redemptions out of bank funds is simply $4,000,000 greater than in 1898, and by process of book-keeping that amount is added to the appropriations for 1901.

"An increase of $2,000,000 is made in the amount estimated to meet the requirements of the sinking fund for 1901 over the sum estimated and included in the appropria tions for 1898. This increase is on account of the Spanish war loan of $200,000,000.

"The approximate amounts, as nearly as they can be arrived at, appropriated on account of or incident to the war with Spain during each of the three sessions of Congress ce the beginning of that war, are set forth in detail. The amounts thus appropriated during the two sessions of the last Congress, covering the period to the close of the fiscal year 19.0, aggregate $482,562,083. Of this whole sum it is estimated by the Treasury Department that to June 35 instant, the total expenditures will not exceed $392,000.00, leaving a surplus of $90,000,000. after meeting outstanding obligations, to be covered into the Treasury. Thus, for the conduct of that momentous war and its resuitant effects Congress amply made appro-priations, and the administration has wisely and prudently made expenditures to the Senate, baving waited on the Destant liberal sums thus placed at its disposal."

END OF CONGRESS.

INTERESTING CLOSING SCENES IN BOTH HOUSES.

THE NAVAL BILL IS PASSED

Closing Scenes in Both Chambers-Senators Were Grave and Dignified, Much More So Than Usual, But Congressmen deined in a Revel of Song and Merry-making.

Washington, (Special.) - Congress adjourned at five o'clock Thursday, a little more than a day behind schedule time. The fault of the delay rested with Mr. Cannon, the chairman of the Appropriations Committee. In his stern determination that the Navy Department should not supersede the Const and Geodetic Survey in the work fixed by law for that bureau, Mr. Cannon fought the Naval Affairs Committee and the Naval Supply bill so vigorously that its representatives were removed in disgrace from all further conference with the Senate Naval Committee, and Mr. Cannon and two assoclates from the Appropriations Committee substituted.

The House by a vote of 118 to 96 refused to uphoid Mr. Cannon, who then turned the bill back to the Naval Committee, from whose hands it had been taken.

Mr. Foss laughed like a happy child at the turn of events. Under his direction the House then hastened to surrender on every point of contention between the two bodies. and at three o'clock the Speaker announced that every appropriation bill had now

The resolution for final adjournment called forth a division, Mr. Sulzer attempting to put the Republicans on record by making them vote down his pro-position, that final adjournment be postponed until the Senate had acted on the Anti-Trust bill recently passed by the House. But the members were too eager to go home, and the adjournment resolutions were adopted by 115 to 73. As the roll proceeded some anxiety seized the leaders, for it seemed unlikely that a quorum would vote. The resolution for final adjournment must be adopted by a quorum, unlike all other motions for temporary adjournment. It was certain that Mr. Suizer would avail himself of this paritamentary advantage, and mes-sengers went skurrying all over the huge Capitol bringing in absentees from the cafes oth ends of the building and breaking up little parties in committee rooms. Asit was, the resolution was adopted by a safe majority.

With final adjournment only a matter of less than an hour, the House lapsed into and fell backward over the side of the boylsh pranks. Mr. Henderson, seeing the boat. mind of the members, suggested the propriety of a recess until ten minutes before

The galleries were crowded, but as the first strains of the nation's hymn were heard every man, woman and child arose and joined in the chorus, until the mighty sounds | balcony, rolled through the building to the Senate and.

But the enthusiasm evoked was not to be compared with the remarkable demonstration which followed when, in a clear, ringing tenor Mr. Fitzgerald, of Massachusetts started the national anthem with the inspiring words, "Through the dawn's early light In an instant all the men, women and children in the gallery were on their feet joining in the singing.

The House spent the last ten minutes of the session listening to a long list of pension bills to which Mr. McKinley had applied his signature just in time to save the beneficlarles.

WAR CONSIDERED AS OVER.

Again Wildly Enthustastic London Scenes Anent the Relief of Maleking Re-Enacted Upon the Streets of the World's Metropolis-Sad News From Lindley a slight Offset to Recent Successes.

London, Eng., (By Cable.)-A leading stage in the South African war was brought to a close when Lord Roberts' British troops occupied Pretoria.

Lord Roberts sent a series of dispatches to the London War Office describing the oc supation of Pretoria and the events that preeeded it. No defense was made of the itself or the forts around it, though the Boers made a hard fight at Six-Mile Sprult or creek, about 10 miles south of the capital. battle began about noon on Monday. The Boers were on both banks of the sprail and the B itish attacked. After some fighting the burghers retreated and the British followed until they found themselves under a heavy fire from con-cealed cannon. It was another "trap," but on account of Lord Roberts' vastly superior numbers it did not succeed. After an artillery conflict the Boers retired, taking their connon safely away. They next tried to turn the British left, and made some progress, but General Hamilton arrived with reinforcements and the Boers finally retreated. The fight had continued until dark and the invaders encamped on the battle-

Generals French and Hutton were sent north of Pretoria and Lord Roberts prepared to advance with his main army at daybreak. An officer with a flag of truce was sent to demand the surrender of Pretoria. Just be fore midnight messengers from Gen. Louis Botha, the Boer commander-in-chief, visited Lord Roberts and proposed an armistice for the purpose of settling terms of surrender. Lord Roberts replied that he was not pre pared to discuss terms, as the surrender must be unconditional. Later General Botha sent word that he had decided not to defend the city. It was arranged by local officials that the surrender should occur at 2 P. M., at which time the British troops entered. Mrs. Kruger, wife of the Boer president remains in Pretoria. Lord Roberts cables that a few of the 4,500 British prisoners have been taken away, but most of them are still at Waterval, in the northern suburbs of like capital, and will probably be released.

London madly celebrated the occupation of Pretoria. The rougher element took posession of many of the streets, throwing dirt, insulting women and committing other acts of rowdyism.

Carmer Cut Off His Finger, but Got the stuff in His Face.

Bridgeville, Del., (Special.)---Two weeks ago Farmer Joseph Meekins, of Sandy Hill, was stung on the finger by a spotted adder while at work in his woods. Meekins, knowing the nature of their deadly sting, took his pocket-knife and cut off the finger. He then secured the services of a physician, and in a few days was out of danger. Meekins visited the spot where he was stung by the adder, and found the finger. It was swollen to an enormous size and was nearly transparent. Meekins pressed the luger with a stick, when it burst, the matter filling his eyes and nearly blinding him. His eyes began to swell to such an alarming extent that it was feared that they would burst from their sockets. His head is twice its normal size, and but scant hopes are enter work done by them in the session about to close, and thanked them for their thoughtfulness and their courtesy. In the heat of debate, in their earnestness as legislators, in their zeal as partisans, none had ever fallen below the dignity of true men, a sentiment which won the heartiest applause. Then as he brought down the gavel and declared the House adjourned sine die, the House again cheered him to the echo.

The Senate spent the whole day awaiting the surrender of the House on the contested points in the Naval bill. It met from time to time to take a fresh recess. At odd intervals there was an executive session, lasting only one or two minutes, just long enough confirm some late appointment. Most of the time the senators spent visiting each other in little groups, exchanging hospitable welcomes and discussing plans for the summer. On every hand senators who had fought each other with every bitterness of political rivalry now communed in sweetest harmony. Shortly before five there was a first executive session to confirm a constituent of Senator Cullom's as surveyor general of Alaska, Then, at five o, clock, the Senate listened to a few polite phrases from Senator Frye, and then, with great diguity and solemn silence, adjourned.
