COVALT.

The first local institute in Thompson township was held at Independence school on Friday, September 28, 1900. The questions were: 1. Primary arithmetic from time pupils enter school until able to use a book. 2. Reproduction work; its value; how conducted. 3. How close do you keep to the text books? and what general information do you give? 4. Does it require much effort on your part as teacher to keep good order in school room. The institute was one of the most practical that has been held in the township for a long time. Every teacher present seemed to do his very best to give all of the best methods possible. I believe every teacher present will be more enthusiastic, and will be more earnest in the work in the future. The teachers present were Mrs. C. A. Litt, Miss L. M. Fisher, Mr. H. S. Sharpe, J. D.
