CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Feb. 24-Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Toric.-Trust: "Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength."-Phil. Iv. 4-13.

The Christian Endeavor topics last year included in them a study of the parables of Christ. This year they cover the Christian Endeavor pledge, beginning with this topic on the first clause, "Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength." The idea of studying the pleage by clauses is a good one and should culist the carnest thought and interest of every Endeav-The Scriptural basis of every clause in the pledge should be noted and a practical application made of every clause to our lives as Christians and as Endeavorers. The pledge is Scriptural. It is practical. It is not impossible of fulfillment. Every duty included in it may be performed. It is not antiquated. It is as fresh and attractive and helpful today as it was at its birth 20 years ago. It should not be shelved nor forgotten. Christian Endeavor without the pledge is Hamlet without Hamlet; It is the shell without the kernel, the bark without the tree. Take it, and it will take you to Christ. Keep it and it will keep you in faithfulness and fidelity to

"TRUSTING,"

Trust is heart confidence. It is not mere intellectual belief in Christ, but a trust of the heart in Christ. The child trusts its parent. It leans upon him. It has confidence in him. It does not always understand him. It does not come scientifically to this position. It knows him, and therefore it trusts him with the heart rather than with the head. This is the character of Christian trust. The Christian Endeavor pledge does well to begin with "Trust-All Christian life and zeal begin there. Trust is Scriptural. It is enjoined and emphasized throughout the Scriptures. Trust is practical. We can trust. We cannot always under-Inspires endeavor. The man who trusts God delights to serve God.

"IN THE LORD JESUS CHRIST." The trust of Christian Endenvor is not trust in self, in the Christian Endeavor society or in the millions of Endeavorers. It is trust in Jesus Christ. Trust in Christ is both Scriptural and practical. "Trust in the Lord" is the keynote of the Scriptures. Paul declares that he can do all things, not by his own power, but "through Christ." The Endenvorer's trust is to be put in Christ. Such trust alone will produce the desired results. The Endeavorer who trusts in himself, in the society or in great Christian Endeaver conventions will find his trust misplaced. Christ is worthy of our trust. trusted Him - trusted Him with the greatest work of the universe-and He failed Him not. Neither will He fail us. "So I am with ye alway, even unto the end of the world." "FOR STRENGTH.

"Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength." The Endeavorer trusts. He trusts Christ. He trusts Christ for strength-strength to keep the Christian Endeavor pledge, strength to live Christlan life, strength to endure hardness, to meet adversity. This is also Scriptural: "I can do all things through Christ, who strengtheneth me;' "Thy grace is sufficient for thee." The reason so many fall in keeping the pledge in living the Christian life, in doing God's work in the world, is be enuse they do not trust Christ for strength. They try to keep the pledge, to live a Christian life in their own strength. This is impossible. We need Thrist to strengthen us. Through His strength alone can we do all things. But how does Christ help us? Not by doing for us. Christ helps us by helping us to help ourselves. He strength ens us "with might by His Spirit in the inner man." By trust in Christ we re ceive His strength. He dwells in our heart by faith, and then we can do all things through Him.

THE PRAYER MEETING. Have a special programme, with a prepared address on the first clause in the pledge.

A Plea For Purity.

A man who has been redeemed by the blood of the Son of God should be pure. He who is an heir of life should be holy. He who is attended by celestial beings and who is soonknows not how soon-to be translated into heaven should be hely

Are angels by attendants? Then I should walk worthy of my companionship. Am I so soon to go and dwell with angels? Then I should be pure. Are these feet so soon to tread the courts of heaven? Is this tongue soon to unite with heavenly beings in praising God? Are these eyes of mine so soon to look on the throne of eternal glory and on the seconded Redeemer? Then these feet and eyes and lips should be dead to the world and live for heaven.-A. Barnes.

Showing Our Appreciation. It is wonderful how much the genu manifestations of our appreciation of others do to brighten and sweeten our relations with them. In the home especially we are wont to take too much for granted. We reason that the members of our families know how much we think of them and there is no need of our telling them about it. That is true, but there are other ways. of showing our kindliness than that of talking about it. Tones may be quite as significant as words, and manner always carries with it a muftiplicity of shadings. But then there are times when words are a blessing that is not forgotten. Sometimes the most precious thing in the world is a a few words.-Church Record.

A STRANGE PENSION STORY. Widow of a Trooper Made Beneficlary of Her Own Act, A pension has been allowed recently to the widow of a soldier of the Sixth United States cavalry for whose death this startling fact would seem to debar circumstances of the soldler's demise rendered it proper for the pension officials to pass favorably upon her applitecting her life. The widow's statement before the jury disclosed a remarkable series of incidents and was by other witnesses. She testified that her husband had been drinking heavily for a week. She had gone to him at 12 o'clock and told him that dinner was ready. He made no response, and after the meal was finished and the diners had gone he came and told her to prepare dinner at once. She at first remonstrated; but, observing a strange look upon his face, became frightened and began to do as he commanded. The busband then said, with an_oath, that he was going to kill her and struck her, knocking her against the The wife then fled from the house, thinking to find some of the men about the place, who would quiet or restrain her husband. She ran to a field where men were plowing and besought their interference or protection. They refused, saying they could do nothing with the man.

Meantime he had gathered up the baby, mounted a horse and followed in pursuit of her. The husband rode up to his wife, who begged him not to hurt her. He replied, with an oath, that he would break her bones and would kill her-that she must die. He then threw the baby to the ground, pulled his six shooter from his belt, tried to make his horse run over her and reached out. trying to strike her with his revolver. As he lenned over he fell from his horse to the ground on his side and back. In falling he fell against his wife, knocking her down. A Rotary Hand Fan.

An odd sort of contrivance and one peculiarly modern is a rotary hand fan that is run by pressure upon the handles somewhat like those of a glove stretcher or a curling tongs and held in one hand in the same manner. The fan is three bladed and about six inches in diameter and in appearance like an electric fan. It is protected by a guard in the same way, and the guard and the fan Itself are collapsible, so that when not in use the contrivance can be folded into a comparatively small compass. In use the fan turns pressure upon the two handles. the handles have been pressed together, a spring attached opens them out again ready for another pressure. The rotation of the fan is continuously in the same direction, like that of any rotary fan, and it turns at a high speed.

This fan is used for the ordinary purposes of a fan, and various special uses are suggested for it, such as dusting bric-a-brac, drying bair, and so on .-New York Sun.

How England Will Perish. The British empire will not perish from even the most effective blow at its beart nor will England's fall be sudden. Like the Roman, the British empire will die by the graduat lopping off of its extremities. First its organism will be weakened by competition cutting off its trade. It will lose, if it has not already lost, its industrial and financial supremacy. The British empire is now in something of the condition of the Roman republic. It is fall ing in energy at the center, but the idea of imperial federation may cause Its energetic colonies to reorganize it as Julius Cresar did the Roman empire. A New Distilling Process.

There is a new distilling process which was shown recently at the Paris exhibition. This process depends upon the employment of a microbe which will convert starch first into sugar and next into nicohol. The whole operation is carried on in close vats, every ma terial being sterilized, so that there can be no microbes present except those specially bred in the laboratory for the purpose. These microbes were first found in Chinese yeast and have been taken to Europe.

It is the eastern point of the domain, and the great natural seat in Blanch six heads of endive and then the widow, the peculiar and interesting the rock facing down the harbor is said to have been a favorite resting place of the wife of Governor Macquarle, who represented the British government-also as governor general of Australiain Sydney in the early days of the nine It appears that the soldier, according teenth century. "Mrs. Macquarle's to the coroner's verdict, came to his chair" has long been the favorite resort death May 7, 1888, through choking of suicides and sweethearts, and many with a leather watch chain in the murders have been committed near the hands of his wife while she was pro- spot. It was also the main resort of shark fishers in the days when a reward was given for each shark fin delivered at the water police station, the object, of course, being to thin out the corroborated in all essential respects dread man eaters from the harbor, where they became plentiful and dangerous as the city of Sydney grew in

It was there one night that a broken down immigrant came to a strange turn in his fortunes. Not able to obtain employment, he spent his last shilling in a fishing line and shark book and east off from "Mrs. Macquarie's chair." After patiently waiting for some time, another tramp joined him. and this changed the luck, for he im-mediately got a fine "bite." It took the two all their time to haul the shark ashore, but when they got him in he proved a beauty-25 feet 10 inches long. They cut off his fin-15 shillings' worth in the morning-and, being anxious to make all they could out of the haul, proceeded to "rob" the monster. They had often read of diamond rings, gold watches and pocketfuls of sovereigns being found inside sharks, for, while these fish can digest a man, they are not able to negotiate metal.

Inside, among other things, they found the body of a German, and from the papers in his pocketbook it was apparent that he must have been in London about three weeks before. Indeed, in his overcoat pocket there was a copy of a London newspaper dated 20 days previously. It was in 1870, before the cable was laid between Europe and Australia, and the steamships took over six weeks on the voyage between London and Sydney. The paper contained news of the outbreak of the war between France and Germany, and It was apparent that the German, living in London, had been recalled home to serve in the army of the fatherland, had either jumped or fallen overboard in the channel and had been picked up by this great shark, which belonged to the fastest of his species.

In the morning the immigrant had a good wash and brush up and a full feed on his 10 shillings, having given 5 to his companion and sent him about his business. He had conceived a policeman who was the greatest wool broker in Sydney and getting the address, he went straight down to the office, where his peculiar earnestness soon got him an audience with the busy broker. No one in Sydney at that moment dreamed of war between France and Germany, and wool was being sold merrily at ninepence a pound.

you?" asked the broker.

"I want you to tell me." said the poor immigrant, "what the price of wool is ninepence now."

"Very well," replied the visitor. "Now, the French troops are marching on Berlin, and what promises to be a "and their fathers will never long and bloody war has actually be-

"Nonsense," said the broker. "The mail from London came in yesterday, bringing news up to six weeks ago, and there is no news of that wild sort."

The immigrant thereupon unfolded the London paper, dated three weeks previously. There was no humbug over that. There could be no humbug about it, for such a paper could not be produced in Sydney, and besides its matter gave abundant proof of its genulneness. Wool was already 4 shillings a pound on the London market.

On the Wool Exchange people thought that broker mad when they saw him buying up all the wool on the market and wiring offers all over the colonies. He made a "corner," at any rate, purlooked happy. Sure enough, in a few weeks' time out came the news by the mail steamer, and up went prices. The broker sold out for 3 shillings and more a pound and realized some £4,000,000 on the deal.

He gave the intelligent immigrant his "tip," and this set the poor chap up in the world. He has got along so well through the lucky stroke that he is now keeping a public house in Woolpmooloo.-London Free Lance.
