All manner of extravagant expressions are possible when a woman's nerves are overwrought.

The spasm at the top of the wind pipe or bronchial tubes, "ball rising in the throat," violent beating of the heart, laughing and crying by turns, muscular spasms (throwing the arms about), frightened by the most insignificant occurrences-are all symptoms of a hysterical condition and se-rious derangement of the female organs.

Any female complaint may produce hysterics, which must be regarded as a symptom only. The cause, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-pound, which acts at once upon the organ afflicted and the nerve centers, dispelling effectually all those distressing symptoms symptoms.

Mrs. Haven's First Letter to Mrs. Pinkham. "Dhan Mns. PINEHAM:--I would like your advice in regard to my troubles. I suffer every month at time of menstruation, and flow so much and for so long that I become very weak, also get very dizzy. I am troubled with a discharge before and after menses, have pains in ovaries so bad some-times that I can hardly get around have sore feeling in lower part of bowels, pain in back, bearing-down feeling, a desire to pass urine frequently, with pains in passing it; have leucorrhoea, headache, fainting spells, and some-times have hysteria. My blood is not in good condition. Hoping to hear from you, I am," Mrs. EMMA HAVEN, 2508 South Ave., Council Bluffs, Iowa. (June 3, 1890.) Mrs. Haven's Second Letter seenal Pests. Only the other day an unhappy man in a New Hampshire city shot and killed his wife and then shot himself. When dying he told his friends that the mania to kill had been born in his heart under the influence of the gossip of neighbors. He knew nothing against his wife, but the whispering of persons he beliet 4 I to be friends, and doubtless who thought themselves his friends, made him mad, and he killed the woman he loved.

he loved. Were the persons who, as self-ap-pointed censors of the private affairs of this man and his wife put into his heart the black suspicion that grew until only death could allay it, touched by a twinge of conscience when the man and his wife lay dend? The chances are they were not, for the gossip selform realizes the evil done by gossiping. In many natures proneness to gossip is so mally dominant that an idle tale about this, that or the other once is ever an the that or the other one is ever on the tongue. It may be true, but more olten it is only half true, and sometimes not true at all; and the person of whom it is needlossly told is never beneticed by the telling of it.

Secret of Success.

A poor man in New York, who had wife and children and strength to do, but no employment, hit upon the plan of tying a placard upon his breast with the inscription upon it, "I Want Work." He stood at the crossing of thronged streets until the attention of the passersby was attracted, and as a result got himself a situation. He had been beg-ging for work for months, but until he and this mute appeal to the eyes of the mass he had met with failure. At last he fathomed the secret of success-
