WHY MRS. PINKHAM Is Able to Help Sick Women When Doctors Fail.

How gladly would men fly to woman's aid did they but understand a woman's feelings, trials, sensibilities, and peculiar organic disturbances.

These things are known only to women, and the aid a man would give is not at his command.

To treat a case properly it is necessary to know all about it, and full information, many times, cannot be given by a woman to her family physician.

She cannot bring herself to tell everything, and the physician is at a constant disadvantage. This is why, for the past twenty-five years, thousands of women have been confiding their troubles to Mrs. Pinkham, and whose advice has brought happiness and health to countless women in the United States.

Mrs. Chappell, of Grant Park, Ill., whose portrait we publish, advises all suffering women to seek Mrs. Pinkham's advice and use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as they cured her of inflammation of the ovaries and womb; she, therefore, speaks from knowledge, and her experience ought to give others confidence. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is absolutely free.

ESTIMATING CHARACTER.

Rev. Dr. Talmage Says the Divine Way Differs From the Human Way.

The American Nation Put into the Royal Balance—The Lord Weigheth the Spirits.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In this discourse from a symbol of the Bible Dr. Talmage urges the adoption of an unusual mode of estimating character and shows how different is the divine way from the human way; text, Proverbs xvi, 2, "The Lord weigheth the spirits."

The subject of weights and measures is discussed among all nations, is the subject of legislation, and has much to do with the world's prosperity. A system of weights and measures was invented by Phidon, ruler of Argos, about 800 years before Christ. An ounce, a pound, a ton, were different in different lands. Henry VIII. decreed that the weight of wheat should be 640 dried grains of wheat from the middle of the ear. From the reign of William the Conqueror to Henry VIII. the English bushel was the weight of 7880 grains of wheat. Queen Elizabeth decreed that a pound should be 7000 grains of wheat taken from the middle of the ear. The piece of platinum kept at the office of the exchequer in England is now a sphere of sixty-two degrees F. decides for all Great Britain what a pound must be. In 1889 in Paris and from all lands national standards of weights and measures.

You all know something of avoidance of weight of apparatus, weight of iron weight. You are familiar with the different kinds of weighing machines, whether a Roman balance, or an old steelyard, or a beam supported in the middle, having two basins of equal weight suspended to the extremities. Scales have been invented to weigh substances huge, like mountains, and others delicate enough to weigh infinitesimals. But in all the universe there has only been one balance that could weigh thoughts, emotions, affections, habits, ambitions. That balance was fashioned by an Almighty God, and is hung up for perpetual service. "The Lord weigheth the spirits."

The divine weigher puts into the balance the spirit of charity and decides how much of it really exists. It may go for nothing at all, or it may be that it says to the unfortunate, "Take this and do not bother me any more." It may be an occasional impulse. It may depend upon the condition of the liver or the style of breakfast partaken of a little while before. It may be called forth by the loveliness of the solicitor. It may be exercised in spirit of rivalry, which practically says, "My neighbor has given so much; therefore I must give as much." It is accidental or occasional or spasmodic. When such a spirit of charity is put into the balance and weighed, God and men and angels look on and say there is nothing of it.

It does not weigh so much as a dram, which is only the one-eighth part of an ounce, or an ounce, which is the twenty-fourth part of an ounce. A man may give his hundreds and thousands of dollars with such things and amid such circumstances, and he will get no heavenly recognition.

But into the divine scales another man's charity is placed. It starts from his heart. It is born in heaven. It is a lifelong characteristic. It may have a million dollars or a penny to bestow, but the manner in which that gift is given shows that it is a divinely implanted principle.

The one penny given may, considering the limited circumstances, attract as much angelic attention as though the check given in charity was so large it staggered the cashier of the bank to cash it. It is not the amount given, but the spirit with which it is given. "The Lord weigheth the spirits."

Perhaps no one but God heard that good man's resolutions, but it amounted about the same. From that moment on he was a new man on earth, God helping me, I will do all I can to make the world a purer world, a better world, a happier world. He writes his determination on his face, sweetens his conversation, enlarges his nature, controls his life and shows itself as plainly in the contribution of $1 as though he had the means to contribute $500,000.

When that charity is put into the royal balance, the heavens watch the weighing and invisible choirs chant from the clouds, and I catch one bar of the music—"Now abideth faith, hope, charity—these three; but the greatest of these is charity."

So also in the celestial scales is placed the spirit of faith. In most cases faith depends on whether or not the sun shines and the man had sound sleep last night, and whether the first person he meets in the morning tells him something agreeable or disagreeable. Some day the sales in his store do not amount to so much as he expected, and he goes home with enough complaints to fill the house as soon as he enters it. Another day the sales are twenty or forty per cent. larger than usual, and as he is putting the key into the door he hears his family hear him whistling a tune most jubilant. He has faith that everything in his own affairs and in the affairs of church and state are tending toward better conditions until something dreadful happens in his own personal experiences or under his own observation.

But there is another man who by repentance and prayer has put himself into alliance with the Almighty God. Made all right by the Savior's grace, this man goes to work to make the world straight. He says to himself, "God lauched this world, and He never lauched a failure. The garden of Eden was a useless morass compared with what the whole world will be when the lion and the lamb shall lie down together and the leopard shall lie with the gazelle, and the wolf shall lie with the lamb, and the lion shall produce universal harvest and fruitage, and the last cavalry horse shall go unshod, and the last fortress turned into a museum to show nations in peace what a horrid thing war once was, then the world will be weighed in the opposite side of the scales lifts as though it was light as a feather the right side of the scales will come down, weighing all more than all else, those tremendous values that St. Peter enumerated—faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, godliness, brotherly kindness, charity."

God forbid that it should ever be written concerning us, that any of our communities or nations, as it was written on the wall of Belshazzar's banqueting hall the hour when Daniel impeached the monarch and translated the very words which blanch the cheeks of the revelers and made them drop their chalices brimming with wine, "Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting."

COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

General Trade Conditions.

New York (Special).—R. G. Dun's "Weekly Review of Trade" says: "Crops continue in the main favorable, and ease in the money market returned to encourage business enterprises, which looked aghast at the collapse of stock speculation. The calmer tone in securities is welcomed in all directions. As against the favorable developments referred to there is but one adverse factor, and the labor disturbances in several quarters are not considered likely to be a long-continued drawback and promise not to very generally affect the trades involved."

"Less urgency for early delivery of iron and steel products was reported at manufacturing centers. With mills assured of activity beyond the middle of the year and some uncertainty regarding the labor organizations' attitude on the wage schedule, there is a disposition to let new engagements wait as long as possible."

Both wheat and corn continue to sell at more than 100 cents above the price of the date last year, and the fluctuations in speculative options are much wider. Contracts in May corn have been closed at phenomenal prices, owing to clever manipulation at Chicago, and next crop options are no longer in demand. The price war waged by encouraging crop reports, "Failures for the week numbered 177 in the United States against 177 last year and 19 in Canada against 30 last year."

Bradstreet's financial review says: "All through the year the stock market has been experiencing various stages which usually follow a condition of panic like that which existed ten days ago. The volume of transactions has fallen off sharply and only became comparatively active when heavy liquidation was in progress, as was the case on Tuesday. The public has become sold out and has little appetite for speculation, and Wall street has been adjusting losses and the other complications which resulted from the severe and swift decline. There is buying of good stocks by investors, but these are not so numerous, and even the news which met the street on Wednesday—that a substantial settlement of differences had been made between the parties to the Northern Pacific contest—failed to stimulate speculation. The street is again bullish in sentiment."
