The members of the Whips Cove church are taking steps to paint the outside of their church this summer. A committee, consisting of John Plessinger, Albert Plessinger, and Amos Wink, have the matter in charge; and Blanche Mellott, Belle Diehl, Ollie Garland, and Emma Winters have been appointed to solicit contributions toward meeting the expense.

The May Meeting at the Tono-loway Baptist Church was, as usual, a great success. The weather was fair and hundreds of people were in attendance. The history of this church dates back more than one hundred years. The original settlers who worshiped there, always stacked their arms at the door and placed sentinels about the grounds to ward off Indian attacks. The May meeting festival is as old as the church.

Eleven persons were received into the Christian church in Buck Valley on the 19th inst by receiving the rite of baptism by immersion administered by Rev. A. H. Garland. The ceremony was observed in the waters, of Bear Branch and the names of the persons, Delilah Ray, Mary Barney, Myrtle Barney, Bertie and Carrie Bottomfield, Renna Hoopengardner, Estella Lashley, Sallie Schetromp, Blanche Boden, Truxa Barney, and Theodore Hender-shot.

The recent hailstorms did much damage to property at Fort Littleton. Last Friday a week several panes of glass were knocked out of the Methodist church, and the one last Friday evening came along and nearly cleaned it up. About thirty two panes were broken. The dwelling of M. S. Wilt near the church, also suffered from a number of broken window panes; and Billy Wild's big hack looked afterward like as if it had received a volley from a regiment of infantry.

Bard Brothers and Spades of this county have taken a contract in Potter county to peel 1500 cords of bark. They have nice timber and nice ground. The Buffalo flies or "Potter County Punkies" is hard on the new Fulton county boys up there. They say the only way to withstand their attack is to smear the hands and face with tar. A member of the Sipes Mill String Band joined the party at Tyrone. The boys say the first tree he cut lodged, and he had it to cut in cordwood before he got all the bark off it.

A correspondent of the (Huntingdon) Semi-Weekly News, writing from Three Springs under date of May 21, says: "Rev. W. J. Sheaffer is in Philadelphia, where he took his little son Harold to have an operation performed on him. Harold had a severe attack of pneumonia, which left a large gathering of pus in his left side, which could not be removed without an operation which was successful and we understand he is getting along as well as could be expected. It was performed in the M. E. hospital."

One of those heavy, wet snow storms this spring damaged the barn on James Henry's farm near Knobsville. Not losing any time whining over his ill luck, he at once put a force of men to work, and in four weeks, the old barn had been removed and, in its stead, a new one was completed 90x51, with wagonshed and corncrib attached. We have in mind some men that would have spent four weeks in deciding whether to patch up the old one or to build a new one; then four weeks more in deciding whether to build this year or next and another four weeks finding somebody to do the work.

Mrs. Little has a new Millinery "ad" in this week.

From Michigan comes the story of a man who stopped at a newspaper office on his way to theatre and placed an advertisement for a boy. Half an hour later one fell from the gallery into his lap and yet some people say advertisements brings no results.

William Ebinger, a young cattle buyer of Philadelphia, in company with a young man named Gordon, attempted to cross a bridge over the Conococheague at Riders Mill, Franklin county, Wednesday afternoon during the high water. They were driving one horse in a stick wagon. Becoming alarmed, young Ebinger crawled from the buggy to the back of the horse, when all were swept into the raging flood. Gordon was rescued alive about two miles below the bridge but Ebinger and the horse were drowned, and Ebinger's body was found Friday morning hanging on a wire fence about a mile below the bridge.

Camp Meeting of the American Salvation Army will be held in Amos Sharp's grove at Antioch, on the road leading from Harrisonville to Hancock, commencing Saturday, June 8, 1901, and continuing over three Sundays. These meetings will be in charge of Gen. John Pedden, of Knobsville, assisted by Capt. A. Dotterman and other christian workers. Meeting every evening at 7.45. Sunday meetings at 10.30 a. m.; gospel praise meeting at 2.30 p. m.; a united Christian praise meeting at 7.30—a grand salvation jubilee meeting. A cordial invitation is extended to ministers and christian workers of all denominations to take part. All are welcome.

Licking Creek.

The high waters of the past week did much damage to crops along the creek, and many bridges were taken away—some that had only been up about two months. Our supervisor is kept busy repairing bridges.

Candidates have been as thick as bees this last week. They are the most friendly and sociable lot that ever came this way. They ought, all to get the nomination. F. R. Shives will commence Geo. W. Decker's new bank barn in a few days.

Reunion of the 158th.

The eleventh annual reunion of the survivors of the 158th Regiment, Pennsylvania Infantry, was held in Carlisle, May 16, 1901. Seventy-seven of the veterans were present—just the same number present at Chambersburg last year. The fine weather, the good work of the committee of arrangements, and the hearty welcome extended by the citizens of Carlisle—all tended to make it a most successful reunion.

The only regimental officer present was Major Hale of Shippensburg. 17 members were present from Co. A; 3, from Co. B; 19, from C; 4, from D; 6, from E; 13 from F; 2, from G; 4, from I, and 8, from K—Company H not being represented.

Ten comrades were reported as having died during the past year.

The officers of the association are the same as last year, with the exception that Lieut. M. D. Miller of Strasburg, was elected to fill the vacancy made by the death of Cyrus Allen of Co. B.

We notice in the list of officers, the name of Daniel P. Deshong of Pleasant Ridge, a member of Co. H—Captain Thomas Sipes's Company. There are quite a number of Fulton county veterans who were members of the 158th.

Old Soldier's Experience.

M. M. Austin, a civil war veteran, of Winchester, Ind., writes: "My wife was sick a long time in spite of good doctor's treatment but was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Life Pills, which worked wonders for her health." They always do. Try them. Only 25c at W. S. Dickson's drug store.

Recommendation.

The following from one of the Directors of the Harrisburg Conservatory of Music is published in the interest of Miss Amy Fleming who is now located at Knobsville, and who offers her services as teacher of music.

"I have known Miss Fleming for several years. She was graduated from this school in 1900 with highest honors. During her four years' course of study, she was most diligent and painstaking—not only in her piano playing, but in her theoretical studies as well. Her reputation as to character and social standing in this city is of the very highest, and I have no hesitancy in recommending her as a young lady who in either piano or harmony teaching will give eminent satisfaction.

E. J. DEVEVEE, Director."
