A FREIGHT TRAIN SLAUGHTERS 36.

Shocking Collision on the Great Northern at Nyack, Mont.

NONE OF THE PASSENGERS INJURED.

A Freight Train Broke In Two on a Steep Grade of a Rocky Mountain Foothill-The Rear End of the Freight Tore Loose From the Hend End, Dashed Down and Struck a Passenger Train.

Kalispell, Mont. (Special) .- Thirtysix lives were lost and 13 persons were injured in the wreck on the Great Northern Railway passenger train No. 3. at Nyack, 30 miles west of Kalispell. None of the passengers were injured, the fa-talities having been confined to employes of the railroad company. The wreck was caused by the breaking in two of a freight train on the steep grade of a Rocky Mountain foothill. The rear end of the freight tore loose from the head end, dashed backward down the mountain and crashed into the rear end of the passenger train which was just pulling out of the station at Nyack. The car attached to the rear end of the passenger was the private coach of Super-intendent Downs. He and his son Kirk and their cook. Henry Blair, were in-stantly killed. The car just ahead contained 46 Scandinavian laborers en route from Duluth. Minn., to Jennings. They were killed wholesale. Only 13 were taken from the debris alive. Fire, immediately following the colli-sion, quickly destroyed the private car, cremating the bodies of those within

The flames were quickly communicated to the car ahead, or rather to what re-mained of it, and the bodies of 28 of the laborers also were cremated. The third car from the rear also was burned, but those within managed to escape when the collision first occurred. The fire the collision first occurred. continued to spread through the mass of debris caused by the destruction of the dozen or more freight cars and their consignments of valuable freight.

illy, the passenger train was cut in two between the third and fourth cars ed from the rear, and the balance was for drawn to a safe distance from the fire. All telegraph wires on the poles alongside of the track were soon melted, and communication was cut off soon after the collision

Mile and a Half Wide-The Streets Turned Into Rivers.

Cleveland (Special) .- With the break ing of dawn Sunday morning the resi-dents of Cleveland looked upon a scene of devastation caused by a raging flood. While the entire city was more or less affected, the great volume of water vent-ed its anger over miles of the eastern portion of the city and caused an amount of damage approximating $1,000,000.

From about 5 o'clock in the morning til 7 in the evening there was a precipitation of 4.28 inches. This exceeds all previous records, the nearest ap-This exceeds each being in 1879, when from a. m. on July to to 6.15 p. m. on July 11 it rained 3.86 inches.

The overflow was caused by a ter-fic rain that commenced to fall shortly after 2 o'clock, turned into a cloudburst between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock and then continued with great force until nearly 10 o'clock. The storm, according to the weather officials, was the heav iest that has visited Cleveland since the establishment of the Government bureau in this city, over 40 years ago. That no lives were lost is little short of a miracle, as the stories of thrilling es-capes from the water in several of the incipal residence streets of the city are

The surging waters spread over an area in the East End nearly eight miles long and a mile and a half wide.

This extended from Woodland Hills avenue to East Cleveland and back to ist Madison avenue. Great volumes water poured over from Doan and Giddings brooks down Quincy street swamped Vienna street, rushed over Cedar avenue back over on East Pros-pect street, rushed like a mill race down Lincoln avenue to Euclid avenue and then on the Glen Park Place, where uses were undermined as though built of straw and almost incredible damage
