WKINLEY'S VAULT GUARD ATTACKED.

The Sentry on Top of the Tomb Fires at a Man.

SOLDIER'S CHALLENGE UNHEEDED.

tto Had Been Watching a Lurking Figure in the Bushes-The Vandals, One of Whom Was Masked, Make Their Escape-Believed That an Attempt Was to Be Made to Blow Up the Tomb.

Canton, O. (Special).—A strange story comes from West Lawn Cemetery, where a company of regulars from Fort Wayne, Mich., are guarding the vault in which the body of the late President Mc-Kinley lies. It is to the effect that the guard on duty on top of the vault fired a shot at one man who refused to heed his challenge, that the shot was diverted by another man who appeared from another direction and that an effort was made to stab the guard. Military regulations prevent either the officers or the men of the post from being quoted on any matters connected with their service, and for this reason Captain Biddle who is in command, was chligat to dealing to be opposed at the obliged to decline to be quoted at the camp. He will make a full report to his superiors at once. Reliable authorities made the following statement: Private De Prend was on guard duty on top of the vault at a point command-ing the entrance below and the approach

from the rear

Shortly before 7.30 he saw what he took to be the face of a man peering from behind a tree about 40 feet from his He watched it for 20 minutes, he says and at 7.45 saw the man hurry to a tree to feet nearer. He challenged the man to halt, but this was not heeded, and the fellow approached nearer. De Prend leveled his gun and aimed to shoot for effect, but just at that in-stant another man who came toward him from the opposite side caught the gun, threw it up and the bullet was spent in the air. This same man struck De Prend on the right side of the abdomen with a knife or other sharp weapon, cutting an "L" gash in his overcoat an inch and a half long each way and a smaller one in his blouse. The flesh was not broken, but bruised under the cuts in the clothig. De Prend in the struggle fell and filed down the side of the vault.

Lieutenant Ashbridge, officer of the day, was in front of the vault and rushto the top on hearing the shot, but the men made good their escape. All members of the company on hearing the shot hurried to the vault, and besides searching the cemetery the guard was increased

NATIONAL CAPITAL AFFAIRS. Brevets for Roosevelt

Adjutant General Corbin says that the Adjutant General Corbin says that the Board of Brevets, recently appointed to meet at the War Department, would de-vote its attention solely to the cases of officers and enlisted men who especially distinguished themselves in the cam-paigns in China and the Philippines. It will have nothing to do with respect to the case of officers who rendered special cervice in the West Indian community service in the West Indian campaign. The latter class of cases was disposed of by a similar board, which concluded its sessions over a year ago. While the fact that a brevet had been recommended to Congress for Colonel Roosevelt was published at the time the nominations were sent to Senate, it appears that the facts that there were two separate recommendations, and the exact basis for the board action were not made public. Therefore the Adjutant General furnished these transcripts from the proceedings of the board
