

A LITTLE SENSE.

A Stout Man Concentrates the Harm Done by Bad Diet.

"Are you aware, sir, what you are doing?" The stout, florid faced man in the restaurant, who was about to help himself to a generous portion of mince pie, looked up in astonishment at the nervous, thin, little individual opposite.

"What do you mean?" he asked. "I have been watching you," said the nervous man, "eating your dinner, and impelled as I am by love of humanity I cannot see you leave this table without a protest at the diet which you are killing yourself with. First, you had fish chowder; no protein, but slight hydrocarbonates. Then you had corned beef and cabbage, containing full 80 per cent of deleterious matter. Then you had pie, with a mountain of sugar. Are you aware, sir, that this can only be digested by the duodenum? Think of it! You'll be a wreck in a few years."

The stout man he addressed gazed at him compassionately for a moment.

"You don't look as if your diet was doing you much good," he said quietly.

"That, sir," replied the thin man, "is no argument at all. You were healthy to start with, and I wasn't. You'll go to pieces in a short time, and I'll live to be an old man, because I know the percentage of fruit salts the human system can stand."

"You'll live for years beyond your allotted time, will you?" said the stout man.

"Yes, sir; I will." "Then," said the stout man as he rose and paid his check, "that only bears me out. It only shows what harm can be done to humanity by a fool diet."—Life.

The Real and the Unreal.

"Do you expect to realize a fortune from your latest invention?" asked the capitalist.

"No," said the inventor. "I don't really expect to. I had some hopes, but I suppose it will be the usual programme. I'll imagine the fortune and some one else will realize it."—Washington Star.

No Legal Redress.

"More than half the pickpockets are women."

"Oh, come, now; that's pretty severe."

"But it's true. The only reason they escape arrest is because they don't pick anybody's pockets but their husbands'."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The Boston Baby.

Stranger—I think, madam, that your child must have a pin discommoding it somewhere.

Boston Mother (severely)—My baby, sir, does not cry over such trivial things as that. He has just heard how ill Henrik Ibsen is.—Somerville Journal.

Good Boy!

"Willie, I am glad to hear you say you would like to be an angel. What would you do if you were one?"

"I'd fly up to the top of that big cottonwood tree in our yard and take my kite out of it."—Chicago Tribune.

Stringent Measures.

"I'm the piano tuner, miss."

"But we didn't send for any piano tuner, and, besides, I'm not prepared to pay."

"You needn't worry about that, miss. The neighbors, who sent me, paid me in advance."—Philadelphia Press.

What Did She Mean?

"It's raining so hard, Mrs. Brakers, hadn't you better stay and take dinner with us?"

"Oh, no, Mrs. Stinging; the weather surely can't be as bad as all that."—Philadelphia Record.

Misapprehension Corrected.

Hoax—Has Nerdwell gone west to settle?

Joax—No; he's gone west to avoid settling.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Comic Definition.

Never send out sections of which wood or gumb is not perfectly clean and neat looking, or if such must be sold do not put name or address on it, but let it sell on its merits, says American Cultivator. The honey may be as good as some that looks better, but it will not sell as readily or attract customers as quickly. The same is true of imperfectly filled sections, which are usually worth more to use for bees' food in winter or spring than they will sell for. Having neat and clean looking sections of comb honey, they will deserve clean crates for shipment. Use no soap boxes, saleratus boxes or the like, but get well made crates to hold 12, 18 or 24 sections in a crate, and better if the crate is glass upon one side.

Hamshire Sheep. The Hamshire sheep is said to have been created or developed to what it now is by crossing the Southdown upon the old Hamshire, with a possible infusion of the Cotswold. They have the blackest face and legs of any of the Down sheep. When well grown, under good care the rams are liable to weigh 800 pounds and the ewes 200 pounds. They are among the most hardy sheep, at least of the large breeds, and appear to enjoy facing a wind or storm on the top of some hill rather than to seek shelter. They mature early and fatten readily, while the flesh as lamb or mutton is not in any way inferior to the Southdowns.

Couldn't Talk. "How does it come that new barber does such a rushing business?" "Deaf and dumb."—Ohio State Journal.

CONN BROTHERS

Big Underselling Department Store.

The Heaviest Fall and Winter Stock Ever Handled by one Place of Business.

Owing to the misfortune that befell us at Dry Run, and having bought the entire Fall and Winter line for the Dry Run Store, which we were compelled to take from the Manufacturers, on which they allowed us a big discount, and having no way to dispose of them, we were obliged to bring the entire stock to our Mercersburg store, which has so over-crowded our counters and shelves that we were forced to offer them at sacrifice prices to make goods move quicker than lightning. Our styles the latest, our fits the best, our selections the most tasteful; to please you is our aim.

Should you favor us with a visit we will surprise you and be glad to give you the benefit of the large quantities we purchased at the reduced prices. To appreciate our offers you must inspect our goods first and for your own good we ask you to give us a trial.

Children's Suits. We feel proud when we look at our new lot of Children's suits. Each garment has been prepared with the same amount of care for thought and consideration, that we bestow upon our men's suits. No parent can afford to over look our vest suits this season, embodying as they do all the newest styles among high price novelties. Fine worsted man's coat shaped collar, double breasted vest with shield to match the King Pin of our children's department running in price from $1.25 to $5. All wool cassimere light and dark ground or solid colors. Men's coat shape collar and piped single breasted vest button to the neck, from 90c to $3.50.

Youth's and Boy's Suits.—Yes, our Fall and Winter line of youth's and boys' clothing is better, finer, cheaper and lower in price than ever. Fine melton suit, same design as the men's, at $1.75, an all wool cassimere same, as the men's $2.50, fine all wool worsted, dark ground, with

OVERCOATS

We know it is easy to assert that we sell cheaper than any other clothier, but it's doing, not the saying, that counts in buying. Some time we may seem a trifle boastful, but what says extra values? Such values as we indeed offer this fall in overcoats, look behind our prices on the overcoats and you'll see quality and style in overwhelming proportion. Men's fine wool cassimere, dark ground with oxford mixture velvet collars, cut extra long with a full back made with cuffs on sleeves, made and trimmed in the best manner, have you examined any of them yet? We hope you
