

THE DEADLY CRASH

OF FERRYBOATS

A Number of Lives Are Lost in San Francisco Bay.

PASSENGERS RESCUED BY ROPES.

A Terrible Crash Followed by a Scene of Wild Confusion—Two Hundred Passengers on the Steamboat That Went Down, But It Is Believed That the Loss of Life Will Not Exceed Twenty.

San Francisco, Cal., (Special).—The ferryboats Sausalito and San Rafael collided in a dense fog, and the San Rafael sank in between 10 and 15 minutes. It is thought that not more than 20 persons were drowned, although the San Rafael carried between 150 and 200 passengers. The Sausalito was not seriously injured, and after rescuing all the passengers on the San Rafael that she could she proceeded to San Francisco under her own steam. The boats belonged to the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway. They plied between Sausalito and Sausalito, a suburb across the bay in Marin county. At Sausalito a train connects for Ross Valley and San Rafael, where many San Francisco business men make their summer and winter homes.

The San Rafael left San Francisco at 6:15, with 150 passengers. There had been a dense fog on the bay all day, and towards evening it seemed to thicken. Captain McKenzie, of the San Rafael, sent his boat under a slow bell. He was somewhat near Alcatraz Island when the Sausalito, coming from Sausalito, struck the San Rafael. There were but few passengers on the Sausalito, but they were badly frightened, and for a few moments it looked as if both boats were going down.

When it was seen that the Sausalito was not badly injured, she stood by the San Rafael and officers and crew and passengers engaged in the rescue of the unfortunate passengers of the sinking vessel. Both boats are side-wheelers and ordinarily carry many hundred passengers. Fortunately, this was the winter season and the last trip, so there were not so many passengers as usual.

CROWDS AT IVORY CITY.

A Grand Religious Prelude to the Opening Ceremony.

Charleston, S. C., (Special).—The religious services attendant upon the opening of the South Carolina Interstate and West Indian Exposition were held in the Auditorium at the grounds Sunday afternoon, and were attended by 10,000 people. The exercises were imposing, a leading feature being the dedication ode, written by George Herbert Saxe, and sung by a chorus 200 strong, accompanied by the First United States Artillery Band. Addresses were delivered by bishops and eminent divines of every religious denomination in the State. The weather was ideal, the sunshine and the air having the temperature of spring rather than winter. The services began at 3 P. M., and it was long after midnight before they were finally concluded.

The main buildings of the exposition are all completed and the work of placing exhibits goes forward night and day. Two thousand men were at work in the buildings and about the grounds, despite the fact that it was Sunday. People are pouring into the city by every train. The hotels that are open are already crowded almost to their capacity.

Fell 700 Feet to the Bottom.

Masonovon, Pa., (Special).—At the Lambert mines, near here, eight men, after dropping a distance of 700 feet down a mine shaft, were all brought up to the surface living, but with three dying and the others probably fatally hurt. Just as they got aboard the cage the cable parted and the cage dropped. The cage on the opposite side was immediately loaded with a rescue party, who on arriving at the bottom found the men lying unconscious on the floor of the cage with crushed chests, broken arms and legs and in some cases the bones protruding through the flesh. One man's skull was fractured.

Special Crashes Into a Freight.

Syracuse, N. Y., (Special).—Twelve persons were injured in a rear-end collision between a special and a freight on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, near Tully Station. The special was bringing home from Cortland a large party of Syracuse Knights of Columbus, who had been attending lodge festivities there. The engineer thought that the freight had taken the siding at Tully, when he suddenly saw the caboose directly ahead of him. The engineer and fireman jumped, escaping injury.

Poisoned at Football.

Ithaca, Mich., (Special).—Mrs. Elmer Quimby was found guilty of murdering her two children by administering poison and sentenced to life imprisonment. The woman and her husband planned to find their means of living by poisoning their children, and the husband was last week convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Paralyzed at Football.

Hot Springs, Ark., (Special).—As a result of injuries received in a football game here between the Peabody, of Little Rock, and the Shamrocks, of Hot Springs, C. O. Steele, of the latter place, had both arms and both legs paralyzed.

Killed His Wife on Street.

Camden, N. J., (Special).—Samuel Vanstavern, aged 42 years, shot and instantly killed his wife. The shooting took place on the sidewalk near Fourth and Chestnut streets and was witnessed by a large number of persons. Vanstavern fired four shots, each of which took effect. The couple had been married 18 years, but had frequently separated, and had not been living together recently. They have one son. Vanstavern surrendered to the police immediately after the shooting.

Million for a Painting.

Rome, (By Cable).—The Chamber of Deputies passed a bill appropriating 2,500,000 lire (about $700,000) for the purchase of the Burgheze collection of pictures, the estimated value of which is 10,000,000 lire (about $2,000,000). Prince Borghese has offered to give the entire collection of paintings to the nation if he would be permitted to sell Raphael's "Sacred and Profane Love" abroad. He had been offered 5,000,000 lire (about $1,000,000) for this picture. The Government refused permission to do so.

GREAT STRATEGY

Won the Town of Colon by an Attack on Liberal Rear.

HEAVY CROSS-FIRE DID THE WORK.

Victorious General Hailed as Hero, and Spoken of for the Highest Honors in Colombia.

There is No Doubt That Guerrilla Warfare Will Be Resumed in the Mountains—Trains on the Railroad Are Running on Time.

Colon, Colombia, (By Cable).—This town is full of Government troops. Over 700 soldiers landed from the gunboat General Pinzon, and the Government forces are in complete possession.

Details of the rebel defeat are coming to light. By cutting a passage through the woods unknown to Colonel Barrera, who occupied a small hill at Buena Vista, a detachment of the Government forces attacked Barrera's troops in the rear. A volley from the front and rear resulted in disaster to the attacked, and the ultimate surrender of the town.

From Panama comes the news that the surrender of Colon to the Government struck the Liberals like a thunderbolt. General Albin's Colon triumph without the aid of the troops from the Pinzon is regarded here as an achievement that may lead him to the highest honors in the service of the republic.

He was welcomed at the railway station by a large crowd. The general went from the station to the barracks under escort of a torchlight procession, headed by a band. Along the line of march many "vivas" were heard, and there was much firing of squibs. The restaurants were open until 10 o'clock in the evening for the first time in many months.

There is no doubt that guerrilla warfare will be resumed in the mountains, but stronger and better organizations are considered essential requisites for the Liberals if they intend to resume the struggle seriously.

Trains on the railroad still carry armed American guards and are running on time.

A German man-of-war Stein has arrived at Colon. The line of march to the United States Fruit Company, was wrecked at Bocas del Toro.

The Government censorship of cablegrams has been resumed.

PRESIDENT SEES SOLDIERS WIN.

But the Navy Team Played the Better Football.

Philadelphia, Pa., (Special).—Probably the most distinguished gathering that ever witnessed a football contest in this country, and admittedly the greatest crowd that ever entered the gates of Franklin Field, saw West Point defeat Annapolis Saturday afternoon by the score of 11 to 5.

From the moment that President Taft and his party entered the great amphitheater until half an hour after the time-keeper had blown his whistle, announcing the cessation of hostilities, there was an almost continuous uproar, such as has probably never taken place on any football field in the country.

Even the President and several members of his Cabinet, worked up to a nervous pitch by the excitement, left their seats in the private box which had been set apart for their occupation and took positions on the side line benches, which are usually used for substitute players and coaches. There was not a seat unoccupied, and hundreds stood around the field through the entire game.

DECIDED NOT TO KILL THEM.

The Latest Reports Concerning Miss Stone and Her Companion.

Sofia, (By Cable).—According to a letter dated Dubnitz, November 28, Miss Stone and Mme. Tsilka are still alive. The letter in question further says that at a recent meeting of the committee here in Dubnitz it was definitely decided not to kill the prisoners upon any pretext whatever. Nevertheless, the committee insisted upon the payment of the full amount of the ransom.

A naive suggestion is current in political circles here to the effect that the United States should force Turkey to pay the balance of the ransom, and as soon as the prisoners are in safety force Bulgaria to punish those persons guilty of their abduction.

Borrowed Book Leads to Murder.

Chicago, Ill., (Special).—A quarrel over a borrowed book was followed by a murder here, when George Johnson shot and killed Robert Newitt, a life-long friend. Mrs. Johnson is authority for the statement that the shooting came on the heels of the quarrel over the book which was owned by Johnson. When Newitt fell to the floor Johnson, wearing neither coat nor hat, rushed from the house. After running two blocks he was seen by a policeman, who gave chase and arrested him.

Put Her Baby in an Oven.

Sioux City, Ia., (Special).—Mrs. J. Fred Meyers, living five miles from Correctionville, wrapped her five-month-old babe in a blanket, put her in the oven of the kitchen stove to keep warm, and went out in the yard to gather fuel. When, half an hour later, she came back, the fire in the stove had blazed up and the room was filled with smoke. Rushing to the oven she found the blanket and clothing in flames. The infant was dead; its arms and legs burned to a crisp.

COST OF A BLUNDER.

Eighty Lives Sacrificed to Engineer's Error—Details of Wreck.

Detroit, Mich., (Special).—When night fell over the scene of the awful calamity on the Wabash Railroad, near Seneca, Mich., the Detroit newspaper men who had been investigating the disaster, had found nothing to alter the estimate of about eighty lives lost as a result of the collision.

Superintendent George M. Burns, of the division on which the wreck occurred, insists that the estimates are too high. "I do not consider," said he, "that the total death list will exceed twenty." However, in support of the larger estimate, it is pointed out that there are now 7000 passengers known to be dead. The bodies of eight of these have been recovered, and it is considered that the fragments of other bodies now in the morgue at Adrian, will account for many more than the twelve dead necessary to make up Superintendent Burns' estimate of twenty.

In addition to the comparatively few fragments recovered and sent to the morgue, those who were early on the scene, say that many more pieces were discovered which crumbled to powder while they were being removed. The list of injured will probably reach 125.

Superintendent Burns states that he is unable to tell the exact number of Italian immigrants aboard Train No. 13, but thought there were not more than fifty. Passengers on the train and a number of those who were early on the scene dispute this, and say the number was nearer eighty.

Superintendent Burns has received no report as yet from Ticket Collector Eames, of Train No. 13, who probably knows nearer than any one else the number of Italians in the cars.

No steps have been taken as yet toward the arrest of Engineer Strong, who Superintendent Burns says is responsible for the collision and holocaust.

26 KILLED, 24 INJURED.

Awful Disaster Caused by the Explosion of a Boiler.

Detroit, Mich., (Special).—Twenty-six men are dead, five of them unidentified and 30 terribly burned and blackened that identification is almost impossible, and 24 other men are lying in the various hospitals of the city suffering from terrible cuts and burns and other injuries, all the result of an explosion of a boiler in the Penberthy Injector Company's large plant at the corner of Abbott street and Brooklyn avenue.

Twenty others who are less seriously injured are in the hospitals.

In addition to these a dozen or more of the employees who suffered comparatively slight injuries were taken directly to their homes. Eighteen men and boys have not as yet been located either at their homes or at the hospitals.

The five unidentified bodies account for five of these, and the officers of the company say they feel positive that the others are at their homes.

The Penberthy Injector Company's plant occupied half a square at the corner of Abbott street and Brooklyn avenue. It was composed of two brick buildings, separated by a 16-foot alley. The rear building, in which the boiler was located, and which was completely destroyed, was three stories in height, 54 feet in depth and 100 feet wide.

The boiler room was located at the north-west corner of the building, on the first floor. It was in this building that most of the manufacturing was done. The first floor was utilized as the engine and boiler room and a room for testing the output of the plant; the finishing and brass manufacturing department was located on the second floor and the third floor was devoted to the foundry.

It is impossible to tell exactly how many men were at work in the various departments of the building when the explosion occurred, but the officers insist that the number was not over 85. There were four boilers in the plant, two horizontal ones, which furnished steam for the engines, and two vertical boilers, which were used solely to test injectors. It was the horizontal boiler that was in use which exploded and caused the great loss of life.

The crash came without the slightest warning. Those in the front building said it seemed like the concussion of an immense cannon. The floors and roof of the rear building bulged upward and then crashed down with their heavy loads of machinery and foundry apparatus. Walls, roof and all dropped into a shapeless mass of debris. Windows in houses, a block or more away, were broken by the concussion and flying bricks filled the neighboring yards.

TRANSPORT WRIGHT LOST.

United States Vessel Goes Down in Philippine Waters.

Manila, (By Cable).—The United States transport Wright has been wrecked in the Straits of Darman. She will probably turn out to be a total loss.

The Wright struck on an uncharted rock at the entrance of San Jacinto and sank in fifteen feet of water. To raise her will require wrecking machinery, which is not available here.

The United States transport Wright, formerly the Ait, was originally a fruit-carrying steamer, and was captured by some patriotic women of Boston, when the Spanish war broke out, to be used as a hospital ship. Later she was fitted out as a dispatch-boat, and was sent to Cuba to be used by Gen. Wood.

More recently she was sent to the Philippines as a dispatch-boat, and was fitted out with a refrigerating plant and a refrigerator store room, which made her of great value in the service.

The Wright was first called the Bay State. That was before she was transferred into a hospital ship.

Big Blaze Near Raleigh.

Raleigh, N. C., (Special).—The Watauga Hall, one of the buildings of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, which is outside of the city limits, was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $10,000; insurance $6,000. The hall was used as a dining-room, kitchen and dormitory, and 50 students occupying the building lost all their effects. As the college has no vacant rooms in the main dormitory they will have to return to their homes.

SEVEN DEAD AND ## SEVENTY INJURED

Casualties on the Gridiron for the Season of 1901.

HARD-FOUGHT BATTLES FOR PIGSKIN

Long List of Victims Is Ascribed by College Physicians and Trainers to Lack of Preparation for Contests Which Demand the Utmost Human Frame Can Endure—Unusual Accident in Philadelphia.

Chicago, Ill., (Special).—Seven dead and 75 injured is the total casualties reported for the football season of 1901, as compiled from all dispatches. Fathers and mothers may be appalled by a long list of victims, but coaches and university physicians view it with equanimity, although with regret, and say that in most cases the sufferers themselves were to blame.

In one way this argument is born out. A large percentage of the list comes from the rear part of the season. It is contended from this that the victims were untrained. It is pointed out that it takes weeks of hard and persistent training to prepare any player for a bruising scrimmage, and broken bones and strained joints, if not worse, are more likely than otherwise to result from disregard of this precaution.

Following is the list of the dead for the season:

Charles Beckman, 19 years old, 887 Kedzie avenue, Chicago, paralyzed by being trampled on in scrimmage between Northwestern and the Advanced Socials, September 17, died September 18.

Edwin Longnecker, 21 years old, quarter-back of the Brown Preparatory School football eleven, spine fractured in practice game at Philadelphia; died October 13.

John Buckner, colored, aged 11 years, died at Kirksville, Mo., November 9, as a result of injuries received during football game November 4.

Leon Ayers, aged 19 years, committed suicide at Jamesville Wis., October 7. It was thought that he was mentally unbalanced, partly as a result of injuries received in a football game a week before his death.

Robert McKee died at Alma, Mich., October 8, as the result of injuries received October 5 in Detroit in a game between the Detroit Athletic Club football team and the Alma College team.

John L. Segrist died at Columbus, O., October 28 from injuries received October 26 in the football game between Ohio State University and the Western Reserve team.

David Wark, aged 20 years, electrocuted at Philadelphia while playing football. The ball lodged in the globe of an electric light, and Wark caught the full current trying to rescue it.

Panic in a Kansas Church.

Wellington, Kansas, (Special).—A woman threw a lighted match into a can of gasoline in a church where a thousand people were attending a religious revival here. The flames spread and the panic-stricken congregation stampeded for the door. Many persons were injured, but no one was seriously hurt. The pastor helped fight the fire, which was extinguished with small loss.

Two Women Found Dead.

Harrisburg, Pa., (Special).—Mrs. Annie Baer, aged 52 years, and Mrs. Kate Solfeld, aged 59 years, were found dead at their home in this city. The women lived together, and physicians say they were dead 48 hours when found. Mrs. Solfeld died of an overdose of morphia and her companion from heart disease.

Denver City Hall Burned.

Denver, Col., (Special).—A fire which started on the fourth floor of the Denver City Hall practically ruined the building, destroying much property and probably a large amount of valuable records. Three firemen are said to be missing, and it is feared they have perished in the flames.

Manchuria Deal Broken Off.

London, (By Cable).—The Foreign Office here confirms the report that the Russo-Chinese negotiations about Manchuria are broken off. The officials attribute this more to the opposition of the Chinese vice-roy and the death of Li Hung Chang than to the objections of Japan.
