The Christian Church.

laughed at and ridiculed, but today it commands the admiration of the religious world and to it as the great universal religious platform the sons of God are hastening with commendable speed. These grand old heroes did not live to see what we see but their reward will be glorious! The principles that O'Kelly and Jones and Stone, held in 1794 are still held by the Christian Church to-day. They are as follows: CARDINAL PRINCIPLES. 1. The Lord Jesus Christ is the only head of the Church. 2. The name Christians to the exclusion of all sectarian names. 3. The Bible, our only creed and a sufficient rule of faith and practice. 4. Christian character the only test of church membership and fellowship. 5. The right of private judgment and the liberty of conscience (under the illumination of the Holy spirit) the privilege and duty of all.

Out of these cardinal principles grow their CARDINAL PURPOSES: 1. The spread of the gospel to the ends of the earth.—Matt. 28: 18—20. Mark 16: 15—16.

2. The reformation of man and the salvation of his soul.—Psa. 2: 8; Col. 3: 11; Matt. 1: 21.

3. The union of all the followers of Jesus Christ, the world over.—St. John 17: 21; Eph. 3: 13.

The Christian denomination published the first religious newspaper in the world—"The Herald of Gospel Liberty" at Dayton, Ohio. Rev. J. J. Summerbell, D. D., is editor now. The first copy was published Thursday morning September 1, 1808. Rev. Elias Smith was the first editor. (The writer of this article has among his papers a copy dated September 1, 1808.)

The Christians have in the United States, ten colleges to educate men and women for the great work before them. The Christian church ordained the first woman preacher. And to-day the Christian church has 140,000 in her fold. Besides a grand work in the Sunday school. So the Christian church moves on with no leader but Christ, no creed but the Bible.

Let the reader bear in mind that he is not reading a history of the Christian church. But only a synopsis of its origin. It would take a small volume to write its origin in full; but the writer gives this synopsis to satisfy those who have been inquiring about its origin.

The next session of the American Christian Convention, will meet in Norfolk, Va., Oct. 7th to the 15th 1902. About six hundred preachers and delegates will be in attendance. This convention meets every four years and is the highest body of the Christian church. Rev. J. P. Barrett, D. D., is pastor of the Norfolk church.

Thoughts of Others to Make You Think.

Selected by G. S. HILTON.
"You can never build up a church by talking it down."

THINK.
"Finding fault with your neighbor is a wretched salve for a sore conscience."

THINK.
"At all times we should distinguish between man's thoughts of God, and God's thoughts of himself."

THINK.
"There is nothing more majestic and solemn than the eternity of law. Human enactments are for a term of four years, but the obligations of the laws of God will last while he is on the throne of the universe. Pardon does not repeal law nor suspend it nor negative it. There is no such thing as pardon in his government; when his law is violated, suffering must be endured, either by the original offender or by an adequate substitute."

THINK.
"Men and women are willing to die for the Lord, but somehow they're not ready to live for Him. You can get folks enough to risk everything for the Lord under extraordinary circumstances who can't make up their minds to live for Him under circumstances that is only ordinary."

THINK.
"No religion is worth having unless a man sticks to it in a horse trade, or when he's painting a barn; and if a professor sands his sugar and waters his milk, he's going to have a tough time when certain unfortunate questions are asked by the Lord."

THINK.
"Opinions are not worth much unless they kindle opposition, and men who see things from circumference to center, and tell their thoughts with perfect frankness are likely to be misunderstood."

THINK.
"Nobody knows or can know how much a word of good cheer is worth to the man who occupies the pulpit. He is always distrustful of himself, and seldom sees whether the Gospel shots he is firing hit the mark or not."

THINK.
"Nothing so wrenches a minister's emotions as to see the congregation, which has perhaps listened respectfully to his words, file out of church with the apparent intention of avoiding the preacher because they don't want to hurt his feelings by expressing their real opinions. Its effect on the clerical mind is like that of an extinguisher on a candle."

THINK.
"If the people would take some pains to recognize the work of their pastor, would linger long enough to take him by the hand in friendly greeting, they would thereby insure more effective sermons; for, after all, the preacher must not only minister to his congregation, but be ministered to by them."

THINK.
"One's overcome with astonishment at the presumption of this creature—man—here to-day, and gone to-morrow, who has not had time for a proper examination of the earth he lives on, nor the beings around him; who knows next to nothing of the myriads of other worlds and the universe in general, to say nothing of heaven and hell; yet boldly, and in the name of Science, makes such statements as: Matter is eternal; The forces of nature are eternal; Observation teaches from all time; Such a thing as a miracle has never taken place; It is an utter impossibility that the laws of nature should ever vary; Never has there been a revelation of the Supreme Being."

THINK.
"It is as if ephemera, many kinds of which live only an hour or two, were to assemble on the broad leaf of a water-lily to listen with attention and admiration to an orator who proves to their satisfaction that there never was a time when this immense expanse of water—their pond—was dry; nor when the vegetation surrounding them was lifeless and withered. Still less had this present dwelling-place of theirs ever been covered by a hard, transparent mass, as a superstition declared, explaining the fact by calling it solid water."

A Doctor's Bad Plight.

"Two years ago, as a result of a severe cold, I lost my voice," writes Dr. M. L. Scarbrough, of Hebron, Ohio, "then began an obstinate cough. Every remedy known to me as a practicing physician for 35 years, failed, and I daily grew worse. Being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, I found quick relief, and for the last ten days have felt better than for two years." Positively guaranteed for Throat and Lung troubles by W. S. Dickson. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Do Not Tempt.

A young man, of no ordinary promise, unhappily contracted habits of intemperance. His excesses spread anguish and shame through a large and most respectable circle. The earnest and kind remonstrances of friends, however, at length led him to desist; and, feeling that for him to drink was to die, he came to a solemn resolution that he would abstain entirely for the rest of his days. Not long after he was invited to dine, with other young persons, at the house of a friend. Friend, did I say? pardon me; he could hardly be a friend who would deliberately place on the table before one lately so lost, but now so marvelously redeemed, the treacherous instrument of his downfall. But so it was. The wine was in their feast. He withstood the fascination, however, until a young lady, whom he desired to please, challenged him to drink. He refused. With banter and ridicule she soon cheated him out of all his noble purposes, and her challenge was accepted. He no sooner drank than he felt that the demon was still alive, and that from temporary sleep he was now awaking with tenfold strength.

"Now," said he to a friend who sat next to him, "now I have tasted again, and I drink till I die." The awful pledge was kept. Not ten days had passed before that ill-fated youth fell under the horrors of delirium tremens, and was borne to a grave of shame and dark despair. Who would envy the emotion with which that young lady, if not wholly dead to duty and to piety, retracted her part in a scene of gayety which smiled only to betray?

The Great Dismal Swamp.

Of Virginia is a breeding ground of Malaria germs. So is low, wet or marshy ground everywhere. These germs cause weakness, chills and fever, aches in the bones and muscles, and may induce dangerous maladies. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. They will surely prevent typhoid. "We tried many remedies for Malaria and Stomach and Liver troubles," writes John Charleston, of Byesville, O., "but never found anything as good as Electric Bitters." Try them. Only 50c. W. S. Dickson guarantees satisfaction.

The uniform of the postman of Norway is dark green in color, though it is said many of the men want it changed to blue. The facings of the coat are of silver braid, and there is a small cockade of the Norwegian colors on the band round the cap.

Wants To Help Others.

"I had stomach trouble all my life," says Edw. Melder, proprietor of the Union Bottling Works, Erie, Pa., "and tried all kinds of remedies, went to several doctors and spent considerable money trying to get a moment's peace. Finally I read of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have been taking it to my great satisfaction. I never found its equal for stomach trouble and gladly recommend it in hope that I may help other sufferers." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures all stomach troubles. You don't have to diet. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat.

Man's Body in a Shark.

The other day a Carnarvon man, who is engaged on the Liverpool steamship Canada, writing home to his relatives, referred to the capture of a big shark at East London, South Africa. When ripped open, the monster, which measured eighteen feet long, was found to have quite recently swallowed a soldier bodily. The man's body and uniform were intact save for a small portion of one shoulder, which had been cut off.—London Globe.

Mexico's Navy.

Mexico has the smallest navy in the world in proportion to her population. Twelve million people are protected by a fleet of two dispatch vessels, two unarmored gunboats, each carrying one four ton muzzle loading gun and four small breech-loaders, and five second class torpedo boats. This fleet is manned by ninety officers and 500 men.

Chronic Bronchitis Cured.

"For ten years I had chronic bronchitis so bad that at times I could not speak above a whisper," writes Mr. Joseph Coffman, of Montmorenci, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. Its effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction." All dealers.
