Woman's Realm

THEY ARE TIP-TOP DRESSERS.

The Milliners Seem to Have the Palm Among Their Sex.

"Have you ever noticed," said a clever woman, "that very salient differences in dress and general appearance you may observe in the women in different lines of business?"

"What has your eagle eye fallen on now?" said her auditor.

"Well, the actresses, of course, are a class by themselves. It is a part of their business to present a stunning appearance, and they set the pace.

"What about the dressmakers?" "Oh, the very same remarks apply largely to her, of course, for milliners and dressmakers hunt in couples.

"Then there are the women doctors and lawyers, continued this solo, meditatively. "I believe they're worse than the teachers, as a whole.

"Women artists ought to be the most artistically clad of their sex," remarked the listener.

"Well, that depends. When they apply their genius to their own dress, artists, designers, illustrators, all that sort, are the most delightfully gowned women in the world.

"Can be pulled through a wedding ring?" is the legend attached to a box of cobweb-fine stockings displayed in a Fifth avenue shop window.

Ever since low shoes came to be the regulation footwear for all-year-round, stockings have been growing more and more frivolous every season, until now we can buy, provided we have the means to do so...

THE NEWEST FASHIONS. A novelty in dress trimming is undulated black velvet ribbon.

Irish lace boleros lend a touch of elegance to simply made blouses of lousine or peau de cygne.

Heavy white Madras with a narrow Persian stripe is smart among the season's shirt waist materials.

Silk waists in the light shades are also variously trimmed with stripes black and white and gray and white silk.

Lace made of washable white braid appears in most attractive patterns. This will be most worn on linen, duck and cheviot suits.

Silk poplin is recommended for the long cloak. It will wear much better than silk and has the same lustre.

Erru Valenciennes lace is used again this year on gowns of white or gaudie, though preference is given to the pure white laces as a trimming for the new gowns of this dainty material.

Linings of bright silk, most effective among them an uncompromising scarlet, are used to give color contrast to many of the new parasols of linen batiste. Tucked edges are pretty when employed in the sheers of these materials.

Pretty sets of wide turn-over collars and cuffs are of white bands of flowered lawn, or something of that nature, set in just inside the hem.

There is only one thing which has a tendency toward following, and that is the corset. Women are still elongating their waists in front and shortening their backs out of all proportion.

To go to extremes of this sort is very foolish, but out of evil comes this much good--never wear corsets more hygienic; they somewhat resemble a very wide belt with enormous gores on the hips.

But despite this there are many ultra fashionable women who strive to make themselves look ridiculous in a straight fronted corset when their figures are entirely unsuited to it.

Life in colleges, in the full modern days of the clubs and societies, necessitates choice. A student cannot do everything, and it is an unhappy girl who finds her corset that she has not chosen wisely.

College life is an ideal life in many respects; the singleness of purpose gives it a unity which few other conditions of life offer.

But most have no such settled purpose. The courses of study are only part of college life to these girls, and it seems to me, quite legitimately only a part of it.

A friend who was troubled with a wrench in the tendons of her foot, so that she could hardly walk, tried one physician after another.

Sweet Potatoes, Southern Style. Into a large, flat-bottomed saucepan put one-fourth a cup of butter and two tablespoonfuls of sugar.

When putting garments away for the summer newspapers are more valuable than camphor, moth marbles or insect powder.

When we get a new matting instead of putting it down in strips with tacks or staples, we sew it and lay it like a carpet.

HOUSEHOLD MATTERS

THE DINING TABLE.

How to Make the Household Board Look Its Best. Try to have ready at all times a flower or a small growing plant for the table.

See that the glasses and silver are always bright and sparkling, and that the napkins are fresh and well ironed.

Silver knives can be replated when they are worn, and kept in good condition for a long time, especially if they are old, as the earlier knives were plated on white metal of much better quality than those which have been made during the past few years.

There is a very good mixture that can be made at home with but little trouble for cleaning the silver. Take one pound of whiting and pour over it one quart of boiling water.

For the small pieces that are in everyday use, such as the knives and forks, plenty of good hot suds and a vigorous rubbing after they are washed will keep them in good condition with very little cleaning.

A good supply of dories and carvers will protect the tablecloth and will make it possible to avoid spots. The carvers may be easily made at home, and if the linen is bought by the yard and the cloth hemstitched, and a little embroidery put on them, they will add greatly to the appearance of the table.
