

THE WISE CHAPLAIN.

When Representative Frank Booth of Michigan was a student at Andover college, one of his most diligent friends was a young man who after several seasons' study, had become a native Irish youth, but his Irish features were fully as good as the face of a native.

"You are a very good fellow," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church. You are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"No, sir," said the boy, "my father is a Catholic, and I am a Catholic. I am a very good fellow, and I am a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

CONDENSED STORIES.

When Representative Frank Booth of Michigan was a student at Andover college, one of his most diligent friends was a young man who after several seasons' study, had become a native Irish youth, but his Irish features were fully as good as the face of a native.

"You are a very good fellow," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church. You are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

"But you are a man to do that, my son," said the chaplain, "and you are a very good fellow, and you are a very good student. It is a pity that you are not a member of the college church."

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

You had finished your breakfast and were sitting at the table, looking at the clock, when the door opened and a young man entered.

"What is it, John?" said the father, looking at the young man. "The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open. The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open."

"The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open. The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open. The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open."

"The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open. The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open. The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open."

"The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open. The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open. The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open."

"The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open. The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open. The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open."

"The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open. The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open. The door is open, and the door is open, and the door is open."

Seasonable Goods and Prices. AT THE ROUSS RACKETSTORE

Just received from New York the best line of winter wear for men and babies that we ever had. Now for prices: Ladies' Fine Coat (Sized) 1 to 10; Ladies' Long Trimmed 5 to 10; Ladies' Velvet 5 to 10; Men's (Cassimere) Suits and Overcoats 10 to 15; Ladies' Heavy, plain and open 10; Ladies' Coats, per pr. 10 to 15; Coats and Suits 10 to 15; Window Shades 1 to 2; Men's Hats 1 to 2; Table Oil Cloth, per sq. 1 to 2; Ladies' Corsets 1 to 2; Men's Dress Shirts 1 to 2; Men's Work Shirts 1 to 2; Men's Ties, per doz. 1 to 2; Ladies' Patterns, 10 yds. 1 to 2; Yards Denims 1 to 2; Unbleached Muslins 1 to 2.

PHILIP F. BLACK, Manufacturer of Sash, Doors, Newel Posts, Hand Rails, Stairs, Banisters, Turned Porch Columns, Posts, &c. McConnellsburg, Pa. Doors 2 : 3 x 6 : 3 : 2 : 4 x 6 : 6 : 1 in three-eighth inches in thickness. Sash 11 x 20; 12 x 24; 12 x 26; 12 x 30; 12 x 32; 12 x 34; 12 x 36—inch and a quarter thick—always on hand.

The Washing Problem SOLVED BY THE Novelty Upright Double Reflex Washer and Horseshoe Brand Wringers. These goods stand before the world unequalled. Sold under a positive guarantee to give entire satisfaction. A. J. BETHENGE, Buck Valley, Pa. General Distributing Agent.

The World Moves and in doing the machinery to the Willow Grove Woolen Mills at Buck Valley, Pa. The proprietor has taken over the business and is prepared to do the best work at the lowest prices.

G. W. Reisner & Co. BACK FROM New York and Philadelphia. With a splendid assortment of summer Dress Goods in silks, woollens and all the nice things in cotton and linen summer stuffs with trimming to suit all. Our Notion Stock. Carpets, mattings, wall papers, blinds, etc. Matings from 24c up. Carpets 20c up. Wall papers, all prices; a large stock for immediate delivery; will sell you a fair paper for what you will pay in express charges.

The Judge's Job.

A German summoned for jury duty before Justice Blanchard in the afternoon.

"I should know how English you are," said the judge, looking at the man. "Why do you wish to be excused?" asked the man.

"What would early say?" asked the judge, looking at the man. "General Fitz-Hugh Lee, who distinguished himself in the Confederate service and is now on the regular army retired list as a brigadier general, recently went on a visit to West Virginia. While there he met an old comrade in arms whose reputation was somewhat faded."

"Well, what's the matter?" asked the judge. "Oh, nothing much," was the uncommittal reply.

General Fitz-Hugh Lee, who distinguished himself in the Confederate service and is now on the regular army retired list as a brigadier general, recently went on a visit to West Virginia. While there he met an old comrade in arms whose reputation was somewhat faded.

"Well, what's the matter?" asked the judge. "Oh, nothing much," was the uncommittal reply.

"Well, what's the matter?" asked the judge. "Oh, nothing much," was the uncommittal reply.

CUMBERLAND VALLEY TIME TABLE - May 31, 1895. THE FULTON COUNTY NEWS Covers the Field. In every part of the County faithful reporters are located that gather the daily happenings. Then there is the State and National News, War News, a Department for the Farmer and Mechanic, Latest Fashions for the Ladies, The latest New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia Markets, The Sunday School Lesson, Helps for Christian Endeavorers, and a Good Section for everybody.

THE JOB DEPARTMENT IS COMPLETE. KIDNEY DISEASES are the most fatal of all the evils. FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS are every where. DR. KING'S VERY NEW DISCOVERY FOR THAT GOLD-TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE.