TONOLOWAY ORCHARD CO.

The Tonoloway Orchard Co. of Hancock has been incorporated for the purpose of planting and raising fruits. Officers of the company are: Prof. H. E. VanDeman, of Washington, D. C., president; Prof. E. P. Sandsten, of the Maryland Agricultural College, vice-president; T. C. Magoffin, of Washington, D. C., secretary; E. P. Cohill, of Hancock, treasurer. Other directors are F. C. Warman, a civil engineer of the War Department; D. P. Wolhaupter, an attorney; and Scott Nesbit, disbursing officer of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, all of Washington, D. C.

Among the farms purchased by the company are: Henry Stine's, Watson Barton's and Harvey Taylor's. Mr. E. P. Cohill has large tracts of land there that will also be planted. Mr. Cohill already has 3000 apple trees growing and will plant more this fall and next spring. The company will put out about 20,000 apple trees before May 15, 1903, and the entire orchard set as soon as possible.

For several years past the farmers in that section have been selling fine apples to Mr. Cohill for shipment. He called the attention of Prof. VanDeman to the fine fruit and after examining the land the Professor pronounced the territory one of the best apple belts in America. The 800 acres secured by the company is ample for their orchard and it is hoped that others will set apple orchards in the same section. Mr. R. S. Dillon has a fine orchard growing and purchased the William Shives farm which he will also set in apple trees in the spring.

Prof. Van Deman was born in Ohio and began life in 1845 among the orchards planted by his father and grand-father in Ross county. He served in the war from 1863 to 1865 when he took up practical horticulture as his life's work. He was formerly professor of botany and horticulture in the Kansas State Agricultural College and was called to Washington by Secretary Colman to organize and take charge of the Division of Pomology in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. He was special representative at the Pan-American Exposition 1901 in the department of horticulture. He is the pomological editor of the Rural New Yorker, associate editor of Green's Fruit Grower and Vick's Family Magazine.

Edmund P. Cohill, treasurer of the company, and our fellow townsman, began his business career at the age of 13 years as messenger boy in the Pennsylvania Railroad offices at Harrisburg. At the age of 17 he became private secretary and stenographer to George M. Ball, Esq., general manager of the Empire Transportation Company, Philadelphia, and two years later became cashier of the same company. In 1876 he purchased a half interest in the prosperous general merchandising, suzac, and bark business of the late Samuel Rhinehart.

In 1881 he purchased Mr. Rhinehart's interest and has continued the business to this date. He is secretary and treasurer of the Hancock Bridge Company, president of the Hancock Bank, president of the Cobhill Angola Goat Company, director of the Russell Creek Coal Company, director of the Dawson Oil and Gas Company a town councilman and one of the school commissioners of Washington county. He is a public spirited citizen and Hancock's leading merchant.—Hancock Star.

CONSUMPTION THREATENED.

"I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption," says C. Unger 211 Maple St., Champaign, Ill. "I tried a great many remedies and I was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me, and I have not been troubled since."

HOW WE SEE.

If one takes pains to watch the eyes of a person reading, it will be noticed that each sweep of the eyes across the page to the right is broken by a number of pauses, which may be counted with a little practice. The frequency of these pauses is a fairly good measure of the difficulty of the reading. They are fewer if the subject matter is read easy, and the type is large and clear. They are more numerous when one reads a foreign language or a difficult scientific essay. They are much less numerous for rapid readers, but they are never entirely absent.

The general law that we are practically blind during a fraction of a second at each eye movement has a number of unsuspected consequences. Many a sleight of hand trick, apparently depending only on rapidity of movement really depends for its success on these moments of blindness, when the spectator's eyes attempt to follow a rapid movement of the operator's hand, or unconsciously move in obedience to some other suggestion. More serious are such moments of blindness to the boxer or fencer. Empirical expediency long ago developed the maxim that both should fixate the eyes of the opponent. This is not merely to avoid giving cues of intended movements, but also to avoid the disastrously numerous moments of blindness which would result if one attempted to follow the motions of the opponent's hands.—Harper's.

A PHYSICIAN HEALED.

Dr. Geo. Ewing, a practicing physician of Smith's Grove, Ky., for over thirty years, writes his personal experience with Foley's Kidney Cure: "For years I had been greatly bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and enlarged prostate gland. I used everything known to the profession without relief, until I commenced to use Foley's Kidney Cure. After taking three bottles I was entirely relieved and cured. I prescribe it now daily in my practice and heartily recommend its use to all physicians for such troubles. I have prescribed it in hundreds of cases with perfect success."

The action of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in ordering two electric motors capable of hauling the heaviest freight trains through its Baltimore tunnel, seems to settle the question of electric traction for tunnel service. Several years ago electric motors were procured for the purpose of hauling passenger trains through the tunnel, and they have been regularly employed ever since. They were too light for the work of hauling freight trains, but they must have given satisfaction, or the company would scarcely have extended the principle to freight trains also. Undoubtedly, electricity is to be the tunnel motor of the future. Even the New York Central road has recently discovered that it can be used in the notorious Harlem tunnel.

Foley's Kidney Cure is a medicine free from poisons and will cure any case of Kidney disease that is not beyond the reach of medicine.

Your Column.

To show our appreciation of the way in which the Fulton County News is being adopted into the homes of the people of this county, we have set apart this column for the FREE use of our subscribers for advertising purposes, subject to the following conditions: 1. It is free only to those who are paid-up subscribers. 2. Only personal property can be advertised. 3. Notices must not exceed 30 words. 4. All "legal" notices excluded. 5. Not free to merchants, or any one to advertise goods sold under a mercantile license. The primary object of this column is to afford farmers, and folks who are not in public business, an opportunity to bring to public attention products or stocks they may have to sell, or may want to buy. Now, this space is yours: if you want to buy a horse, if you want hired help, if you want to borrow money, if you want to sell a pig, a buggy, some hay, a goose, or if you want to advertise for a wife—this column is yours. The News is read weekly by eight thousand people, and is the best advertising medium in the county.

HIS SIGHT THREATENED

"While picnicking last month my 11-year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for a while we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits.

CHILDREN'S EYESIGHT.

Civilization has its drawbacks. An expert oculist connected with a London hospital was asked the other day what was the cause and cure for the large amount of defective eyesight among young people. His answer is: "The cause, in my humble opinion, is the present condition of the education laws. No sooner are the children of the lower classes pushed away from their mothers' breasts than the School Board officer sweeps down upon them and carries them off to the badly lighted and worse ventilated school room, where for about five hours per diem they strain their eyes in the endeavor to read small print and learn a smattering of French, painting and the 'ologies, embroidery and the grammar of music. Even the kindergarten has been so prostituted that the children are sweated to turn out artistic mats of intricate design to the ruin of their eyes and the delight of their teachers. In early life the tunics of the eye are to a certain extent yielding, while the muscular movements associated in the act of accommodating for near vision have not yet become purely automatic. Hence unnecessary strain often takes place, and the shape of the eye becomes gradually altered, accompanied, of course, by defective vision. Teach children their letters, if necessary, while they are young by means of large capitals, placed at some distance from the eye, not nearer than four or five feet; teach them what you like by means of conversation, pictures, and natural objects; but I would not allow a child in whom I was interested to undergo regular schooling until at least 7 or 8 years of age. Under this plan, it is true, we should lose our infant prodigies, but then they never would be missed." In our days of overpressure these be words of wisdom.—London Telegraph.

LOOK PLEASANT, PLEASE.

Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't, because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him till he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivaled for diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by W. S. Dickson, druggist.
