

TALES OF THE INSURANCE MEN.

"Shop talk," which it is the fashion to deprecate, is responsible for some of the best anecdotes which get into print. Here are two which were interchanged by a brace of insurance men not above swapping stories of their calling:

Into the office of a fire insurance agent came an ancient spinster who owned a little house just on the outskirts of the town.

"I want to insure my house," said she.

"Where is the house, madam, and how large a policy do you want to take out?"

"Well, now, I want to know some things first. If I insure it for $800, and pay my premium, and it burns down, do you pay me $800?"

"Why, most assuredly."

"Well, do you make a lot of trouble trying to find out if it was set afire?"

Naturally the agent admitted that if it looked like a case of arson the company would investigate.

"There!" said the property owner, indignantly, "I told John there was some sort of catch about this insurance business!" and therewith departed uninsured.

It was in New York city that the heroine of the other story found that fire insurance was not all she hoped for. The policy on her house—a big one, for it was a fine edifice in the best part of the city—was brought to her by her agent.

"You had better give me a check for the premium now," said he.

"Why how much is it?"

"A little over $100. Wait a moment, I will get the exact amount."

"Oh, how tiresome," cried the property owner. "I'm in such a hurry, and besides my bank account is a little low. Tell the company to let it stand, and deduct it from what they owe me when the house burns down." The Pilgrim for September.

TAKE CARE OF THE STOMACH.

The man or woman whose digestion is perfect and whose stomach performs its every function is never sick. Kodol cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach and cures positively and permanently all stomach troubles, indigestion and dyspepsia. It is the wonderful reconstructive tonic that is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by conveying to their bodies all of the nourishment in the food they eat. Rev. J. H. Holladay, of Holaday, Miss., writes: "Kodol has cured me. I consider it the best remedy I ever used for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. I was given up by my physicians. Kodol saved my life. Take it after meals."

ECONOMIC IMPORTANCE OF NITROGEN.

It is hardly to be wondered at that Lord Kelvin, when in this country last April, should say, after witnessing the operation of this initial plant at Niagara Falls: "I saw something there that I have never seen before; in fact, I regard it as the most interesting sight I have witnessed in America on my present trip." It was Emerson's advice to hitch our farm wagons to a star, but here are men who use the atmosphere as their milch cow. The tremendous effects possible in agriculture have been suggested above. By way of confirmation, let it be noted that on their experimental field at Rothamstead, in England, Sir John Lawes and Sir Henry Gilbert, with the aid of nitrate of soda, raised the yield of wheat from less than twelve bushels per acre to over thirty-six. On the experimental Briarcliff Farm in New York State last year similar experiments, conducted under Professor George T. Powell, showed that with an investment of $2.02 in nitrate of soda the hay crop per acre, worth $15.30, was raised to $28.80. As an offset to lean pasturage and slovenly tillage, nitrate of soda has obvious merits.

Not is this all. While in agriculture salt peter deserves all hail as blessed, in warfare it is known as "villainous," and without a plentiful supply of it modern warfare would certainly soon come to an end. The bow and spear would again reign supreme, as in the ancient world. Your modern battleship and your siege artillery, wasting the fee simple of a fine farm at every murderous whiff, would lie inert, like obsolete mastodons, without the nitric food that electro, chemical art must now furnish to them. Nitro-glycerine, gun cotton, dynamite, a whole vocabulary of smokeless powders and direful explosives, depend on the same raw material for their ability to convert granite into a fourth dimension. But nitric acid is equally important to the celluloid industry, and photography owes much to nitrate of silver.—From "Fixing Nitrogen from the Atmosphere," by Thomas C. Martin, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews.

BEWARE OF THE KNIFE.

No profession has advanced more rapidly of late than surgery but it should not be used except where necessary. In cases of piles for examples, it is seldom needed. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures quickly and permanently. Unequaled for cuts, burns, bruises, wounds and skin diseases. Accept no counterfeits. "I was so troubled with bleeding piles that I lost much blood and strength," says J. C. Phillips, Paris, Ill. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me in a short time." Soothers and heals.

The Medical Society of Paris has expressed the opinion that it is necessary to adopt some measures against the alarming spread of petroleum drinking. At first it was thought that this habit had sprung up from the increased taxation on alcohol imposed by the French government, but an investigation showed that this was not the case; the habit had been prevalent some time previously in certain districts and had spread with great rapidity. The victim of the petroleum habit does not become brutal, only morose. Opinions differ among physicians as regards the effects of petroleum drinking on the human system, but all agree on the harmfulness of this new vice.
