

Brick for sale at Morton's yard.
Captain Skinner spent a few hours in town Monday.

Harry Ott made a "business" trip to Everett last Friday.

Walter Smith, of Emmaville spent a couple of days last week at McConnellsburg.

Attention is called to the advertisement for "Men Wanted" in another column.

D. Scott Denisar of Burnt Cabins, spent Friday night at McConnellsburg.

Mrs. Geo. W. Reischer is visiting her parents and other friends in Philadelphia.

Mr. John Knauff and wife of Foltz took dinner with Michael Knauff and family on New Years day.

Malachi Litton and Samuel L. Simpson, both of Thompson, spent New Year's day in McConnellsburg.

Miss Lena Snyder of Tod township, spent the holidays in Allentown with Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Kapp.

Rev. Bangher's appointments for Sunday, January 11th, are: Antioch, 10 a. m.; Oakley, 2:30 p. m.; Mays Chapel, 6:45 p. m.

A well attended watch meeting was held at the Methodist church Wednesday night. The services were impressive and appropriate.

Miss Lena Dunlap has returned to her home in Shippensburg after a few days' visit with Miss Edna White of Chambersburg.

Miss Dix Robinson left Monday morning for Baltimore to enter Bryant & Stratton's college for a course in stenography and typewriting.

Col. S. M. Robinson of this place went over to Mercersburg Tuesday morning to take charge of Captain Skinner's paper the Mercersburg Journal, for a month.

Mrs. P. R. McIntyre returned home with Miss Ellie Knauff on New Year's evening where she will spend a week with her brother Dan and sister Ellie.

Miss Margaret Foreman who had been spending the holidays with friends in this place, returned to Pennington, New Jersey, last week.

George W. Immell, the well known Chambersburg egg dealer, says that not for years has there been such a scarcity of eggs in the local market as that prevailing at present.

Word from the physician at Mercersburg who dressed the wounds sustained by Frank McFadden in the cutting affray in front of Leslie Seylar's store at Foltz, was that the victim of Samuel Marshall is out of danger.—Marshall has not been arrested nor any apparent effort made to get him.

The Guilford Springs correspondent of the Chambersburg Public Opinion says: "It is reported that A. A. Kirk will open a saddler shop at Guilford Springs next spring. We think Mr. Kirk is deserving of good patronage in his enterprise."

A Sure Cure for Catarrh.
Use the Formaldehyde Generator, a positive cure for all forms of Catarrh, Colds, and Lung trouble. For sale at Trout's drug store.

The week of prayer services being held this week in the churches in this place are well attended and full of interest. The five pastors and their congregations join in holding union services, and the meetings pass around from one church to another, thus assuring a full church each evening. The harmony that exists among the church people of McConnellsburg is very gratifying.

Local Farmers' Institute.
There will be an afternoon institute held at McNaughtons schoolhouse Saturday, January 10, 1903. It is the desire of the farmers that these meetings should be held regularly in the different schoolhouses through the winter. The programs are interesting, and all that is needed to make the meetings a big success is, that the citizens turn out, show an interest, and take part in the discussions.

In Memoriam.
(Written in memory of Mrs. Amy Hann, late of Salovia, by her son, U. G. Hann.)

Another of Fulton's landmarks has passed away; but to all that knew her, and the writer, will say that another life of toil and usefulness is ended. As to spiritual matters, she never believed in removing the ancient customs, and often spoke of the changes that have been wrought in the last twenty-five or fifty years, and longed for the return of the good old times when christians would join their voices and pray till the fire would fall and saints get blessed and shouts raise that would echo from hill to hill, and go from heart to heart. Two of her favorite ministers still live in Fulton, namely, Rev. Chambers and Rev. Wolf.

As a neighbor she was true and faithful, rendering assistance wherever within her power, and living the teachings of the golden rule. Her sympathy and help were never withheld from those in affliction or bereavement. As a wife she was true, as a mother devoted, always endeavoring to encourage her children to choose the paths of right. Nothing was too hard for her to do for her children—no night hour too late for her to arise and minister to their wants. She chastened us, but always for our own good (See Hebrews 12). To me she has often said, "Days, months and years have an end, but eternity has no end." May God grant that every reader of these lines will let these words of her sink deep into their hearts. Many a heart ache she bore for me, and many a sigh I would save her if the past could be lived over again. But, alas! past opportunities are gone—gone forever.

November 16, 1902 there flashed over the wires, "Mother is very sick. Has pneumonia. Come home." With tearful eyes and a heart almost choked with grief, I lost no time in hastening to the side of that best of all earthly friends. When I reached her, life was still there, but the hearty handshake and greeting were gone. Tenderly we watched day and night, anxious to anticipate and cater to every wish; but on the morning of November 23, 1902 her spirit-winged its flight to that heavenly land about which she had so often talked.

Only those who have stood by the bedside of a mother when her eyelids closed for the last time, and realized that it was all over, can know the utter loneliness, and desolation of heart that follows.

But this article, which is growing too lengthy, must be abbreviated. The day for the funeral comes, and tenderly her remains are borne to their last resting place at Asbury by her sons, William H., Ross R., Miles L., Grant H., and her son-in-law James Horton.

May the influence of that life be so perfectly instilled into the lives of her children that mother and children may without the loss of one, be reunited again in that better land where partings shall be no more.

Burnt Cabins.
Christmas and New Year passed off very quietly here; but the turkeys had to suffer.

Frank Oliver who had been working at Rockhill, came home Friday.

Mrs. J. E. Kling spent Sunday with Henry McGowan's.

Mrs. Hannah Catharine Hicks, who died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Wilson McGee at Chambersburg on the 1st, instant, was buried here on Sabbath afternoon at 4 p. m. She was aged 87 years 11 months and 9 days.

R. C. McGowan and Dora Johnson spent last Tuesday at McConnellsburg.

Charles Mathias, of Plaines, Cambria county, was home to see his parents last Tuesday.

Rev. Gottschall is holding a revival in the M. E. church at this place.

Carrie Welch is visiting friends at Fannettsburg.

Anna Doran has gone back to her school at Munson, Clearfield county.

There was a "social" held at Mrs. Geo. Comer's last Monday night. There were 75 in attendance. Everybody had an enjoyable time.

Never endures this trouble.—
Use at once the remedy that stopped it for Mrs. N. A. Webster, of Winnie, Va. She writes, "Dr. King's New Life Pills wholly cured me of sick headaches I had suffered from for two years."—Cure Headache, Constipation, Biliousness. 25c at W. S. Dickson's drug store.

Robert N. Fryman while out feeding the pigs one day last week tramped on a nail protruding from a board, the nail running through the sole of his gum boot and into his foot. He has been suffering very severe pain much of the time since.

Sale Register.
Wednesday, March 4,—Tobie Glazier will sell valuable personal property at his residence near Webster Mills.

Friday, January 9, S. W. Kirk, administrator of the estate of Zephatha Moates will sell at the residence of William Weaver in Thompson township 2 1/2 miles north of Hancock, all the personal property of the deceased. Sale begin at 11 o'clock A. M., sharp.

Saluvia.
As your able and faithful scribe at this place has moved away to a more congenial climate—on whom will his mantle fall?

Frederick Wible, aged almost 80 years, is critically ill.

G. Washington Mellott is being afflicted with some malady of the eyes.

David Stevens and Abraham King, both aged veterans, are seriously ill.

Samuel S. Newman was visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hann at Saltillo the latter part of last week.

Elmer and David Trogler of Mercersburg spent a few days in this vicinity last week renewing acquaintances, and made a very favorable impression on the fair young ladies of this neck o' woods.

One of the slickest articles of humanity, in the role of a female sport, driving a spanking fine team of bays in a buggy passed through here Wednesday last, en route to Harrisburg.

H. S. Daniels, administrator of the estate of John Daniels, deceased, with W. H. Nesbit's hay baler, baled about 35 tons of hay at the old homestead, John F. Johnston furnishing the motive power.

Eli Hann, Sr., an aged veteran of the Civil War, having his home with R. R. Hann, had a paralytic stroke on the 29th ult., since which time he has not been able to speak or use his limbs.

Miss Lydia Mann and Mrs. W. E. Bair attended on Friday last the funeral at Ickesburg, Perry county, of J. Foster Patterson, a Western Union lineman aged 19, who was almost instantly killed on the 29th ult., at Mt. Joy, Pa., by a pike-pole being driven into his abdomen while assisting in erecting a heavy telegraph pole.

Rev. Dr. West on last Sabbath morning at Green Hill highly complimented the Sabbath school on being open on the first Sabbath of the New Year, and expressed his great pleasure in the fact of the school being kept open through the winter months, when so many schools in the country have been closed. No one knows and appreciates more thoroughly the blessed work of the Sabbath school in winning souls to Christ than does a faithful, effective pastor.
