

"A NOTE OF WARNING"

Sunday Sermon by Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman.

Rejoice that the Bible gives instances of Failure to Serve as an Inspiration—How to Avoid Similar Mistakes

NEW YORK CITY.—The following sermon entitled, "A Note of Warning," was preached by the great evangelist, the Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman.

It is to the praise of God that He has in His word given us repeated instances of men who have fallen, that they might serve as a warning to us to avoid similar mistakes.

One cannot read the story of Adam and Eve without getting a glimpse into the power of temptation.

Afterward, God saved the king of the Gibeath, there gathered around him a band of men whose hearts God had touched.

One cannot read such a story as this without trembling and awe, for it is of us to-day that the Bible was written, that we might know God, and that we might know ourselves.

I believe many a father and mother will stand before the Judge on the great day of account and tremble.

I remember preaching in one of the cities of Indiana. For four days the church was crowded, but the attendance was not that of a blessing.

One cannot read such a story as this without trembling and awe, for it is of us to-day that the Bible was written, that we might know God, and that we might know ourselves.

International Lesson Comments For January 25.

Subject: Paul's Counsel to the Thessalonians. I Thess. v., 14-28—Golden Text, I Thess. v., 21—Memory Verses, 16-18.

Commentary on the Day's Lesson.

I. Christ's second coming (vs. 1-11). The first part of the chapter stands in close connection with the last six verses of chapter 4.

II. Rules for the sanctified life (vs. 12-22). In verses 12 and 13 he urges them to properly love and esteem their ministers.

III. Sanctification promised (vs. 23-24). "God of peace." "Peace is the fruit of all spiritual blessings that man receives by faith and experience."

IV. Concluding words (vs. 25-28). The apostle concludes his letter with a benediction and a promise.

THE ARABIAN COFFEE. The Arabian coffee-maker, having prepared his fire of charcoal, and placed it near a huge pot containing water, takes a few handfuls of green coffee berries, carefully culls out all imperfect berries and foreign substances, and then places the best of the berries in an iron ladle held over the fire.

SOME STARTLING FACTS ABOUT THE VICE OF INTEMPERANCE.

Lady Henry Somerset Makes Some Striking Observations in Regard to the Growth of Temperance in the United States—Social Drinking on the Decline.

Lady Henry Somerset is reported to have remarked during her month's visit to the United States her chief surprise had been the "general sobriety of the American people," and she attributed to it their "greater alertness and energy," as compared with the obviously more intemperate people of her own country.

Inasmuch as her associations here had been almost wholly with women active in the temperance movement, among whom she herself one of the most conspicuous figures, her opportunities for observation as to popular habits may be said to have been unusually good.

In the iron and steel industry the most significant event of the week was the discussion regarding the profit sharing proposal by the leading producer, inadequate supplies of coke are still restricting operations.
