

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

A lawsuit never suits both sides. Flattery seldom begins at home. A cooled cellar makes a warm house. A coat of arms doesn't keep a man warm. Glittering generalities are not all golden. This is an old-fashioned winter, sure enough. He is a wise man who knows when he has enough. No man has ever quite succeeded in killing time. Freezing politeness is on a par with cold comfort. Judge Cupid is severe on cases of contempt of court. Blow your own horn, or you are apt to go without music. It's easier to jump a board bill than to jump a bill board. The road shouldered young man is often a padded sell. In the eyes of the politician the greatest crime is ingratitude. It's just as well not to think of trouble until you are up against it. The people who have money to burn never set the world on fire. The man who rests on his laurels finds that they are soon withered. The spiritualist can't complain that he never has a ghost of a show. Strange as it may seem, the way to raze a house is at take it down. The wolf in sheep's clothing seldom has the wool pulled over his eyes. Even the free-born American citizens seems to have a good many bosses. The fellow who starts on the downward path doesn't need much pushing. A loving cup is all right, but some men wouldn't be satisfied with less than a keg. People who have never been unhappy cannot appreciate the value of happiness. The fellow who trips over his own plans is seldom the one who tumbles into luck. When a man is under a cloud he gets little comfort from the silver lining theory. When the struggling poet gets all his verses back, don't wish him many happy returns. The average man suffers more from an overloaded stomach than from the pangs of conscience. Some men take things so easily that it is a wonder they don't get all the contagious diseases. If we had our lives to live over again we probably wouldn't make the same mistakes, but we might make worse ones. There is no better gift for your absent friend than a subscription to THE NEWS. LINCOLN'S BIRTHPLACE. The little log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born says the Woman's Home Companion, is no longer upon the place. During the Nashville expedition it was carried down there, and since that time it has been a regular feature at all the affairs of this kind. The place where it originally stood is a high, barren hilltop, and the exact spot is now marked by a rude flagpole. Thomas Lincoln was undoubtedly determined in building his cabin there by the spring of delicious cold water that pours through a cavern at the foot of the hill. The spring is at the bottom of a sinkhole, where the underlying limestone rock has given way and left a rocky chasm about a dozen feet deep. The break exposes an outjutting ledge on one side, while on the other is a steep slope of earth and shattered stone, and close around grow numerous bushes and trailing vines and a few fine trees that cast a pleasant shadow on the hollow. How many times Lincoln's mother must have toiled up the hill from this spring with her water bucket, and how often the little boy must have toddled down to this cool retreat and dabbled in the flowing water. The spot is a favorite resort for pleasure parties for miles around. Indeed, these parties constitute the bulk of visitors to the shrine; yet in spite of its comparative inaccessibility, an occasional stranger from a distant State makes a pilgrimage to this lonely Kentucky pasture.

When You Come to Chambersburg. Just go up Main street till you come to Queen street. Right at Bloom Bros. corner turn to the west half a block and you will come to a modern 3-story cream-colored brick building. Step inside and you will find the nicest rooms, and the largest stock of good furniture and its belongings, to be seen in the Cumberland Valley.

You will find many articles here that you do not see in other stores. There has been a furniture store on this spot for 75 years and yet there are many of the younger people and some others who don't know it. That is the reason we are telling you about it. About a block farther, on the bank of the Conococheague, whose water drives the machinery, you will find our factory; where with skilled mechanics and seasoned lumber we can make almost anything you may require. COME TO OUR STORE and look around—Much to see that is interesting even if you don't want to buy. We want you to know what it is and where it is. Open till 8 o'clock in the evening now—Saturday till nine.
